Our Superintendent

"We are living in a day of doubts and fears and uncertainties. We are looking to Youth with its undimmed vision and potential power to set us right. Our faith in Youth is constant. We shall find the prompt and courageous answer in the heart of Youth—'Here am I, send me'."

—E. C. Fisher.

Our Principal

"Youth, thy days are wonderful days,
When all of life lies before.
Ambitions, dreams, and hopes have ways
Of unlocking Opportunity's door.

Stand not idle on the threshold,
Ever seek to do your best.
In your hearts your mates enfold,
God in His goodness will do the rest."

—J. H. BREWER.

Our Deans

"I am delighted to acknowledge this recognition, and shall endeavor constantly, by thought, word, and deed, to justify this visible expression of your loyalty and confidence."

—L. Ross Johnson, Dean of Boys.

"Youth! How bright you are with all your illusions, aspirations, dreams! Nothing is impossible to you—danger does not daunt you. Here is hoping that you may achieve all those dreams!

—Eleanor B. Watson, Dean of Girls.

Floyd Barloga

Although a collector of Indian relics and fossils, the head of the manual arts department is no fossil himself, being very much alive as sponsor of Home Craft Club, Senior Hi-Y, and Sophomore Class.

M. Helen Belsley

The kindly head of the English department and sponsor of English Club, once told an unprepared class to be ready the next day without fail, as her anger would surely be aroused after 24 hours!!

Anna Bibo

In the home economics department, Miss Bibo teaches senior girls to be handy with the needle. Her chief activities this year are Home Economics Club, and the Social Committee.

Carroll Bockwitz

Mr. Bockwitz, our faculty redhead, teaches mathematics and assists as building representative of the Peoria Teachers' Club. Because of his own interest in sports, he sponsors our intra-mural basketball.

Emma J. Boynton

In her capacities of head of the home economics department, and adviser for Charvice, Miss Boynton influences many with her own taste and charm.

Irving Bradley

To Mr. Bradley we owe the band's support of our athletics. Under his able direction the band has increased notably in numbers and ability, as has the school orchestra.

Edna M. Brown

Miss Brown likes music and poetry, so why not
Work in her classes each day on commercial geography
To the sound of musical words written in poetry?
Like the suggestion?

Nina Brown

Miss Brown is busy, for she helped sponsor the Junior Class this year, and will therefore direct the seniors next. During school hours she teaches typing, business forms, and arithmetic.

Almon R. Buis

Just ask Mr. Buis if he isn't proud of being a Hoosier! He teaches ancient, modern, and U. S. history, and is kept busy with the presidency of the Peoria Teachers' Club.

Norma Bullock

Miss Bullock is small, but her classes are great! They are senior typing and shorthand, and in addition, she acts as a sponsor of Commercial Club.

Irene O. Bunch

Miss Bunch is always the same, always nice. She conducts her classes in French and sponsors French Club. "Green Stockings" was under her capable direction.

George M. Burns

Mr. Burns teaches social science subjects and is chairman of the Social Committee. Have you ever noticed how well his ties match his shirts? Give a look when class gets dull!

Janet E. Buswell

Miss Buswell's originality is evident from her clever Crest and Junior Prom assemblies; her ability as a dramatic coach, from her work in "Sonia". Her subject is French.

Alice Carey

Miss Carey is assistant to our music instructor and is accompanist for our assemblies, musical contestants, and chorus work. Her accompanying lent to the success of the operetta "Sonia".

Clara Clausen

Before her departure for Chicago, Miss Clausen was the well-liked head of the modern language department. She taught German and sponsored German Club, which she had organized.

J. Everett Clifford

In school, Mr. Clifford teaches students not to make errors in algebra and geometry. However, outside of school, he teaches them to make "arrors" go straight in Archery Club.

Lucille Conibear

Miss Conibear teaches algebra and geometry, and shows her interest in dramatics by always being on hand to help make up casts for our plays. "Isn't that true", Miss Conibear?

Georgia Coppock

Miss Coppock, one of our Latin teachers, is liked for her forceful yet sympathetic character. She arranges for the voting in of new Charvice members, and sponsors both the National Honor Societies.

Helen L. Cornelius

One nice feature of Miss Cornelius' speech classes is that she heartily enjoys the jokes our speeches contain. In the spring she is very active coaching our speech contestants.

Dorothy Crowder

Miss Crowder has completed four years' work as literary adviser for the Crest, and has raised our annual to its present high standard. During class hours, she teaches English.

Florence Cutright

A teacher who has a very genuine interest in the progress and activities of her students is Miss Cutright. This is shown both in and out of her Latin classes.

John Deal

Mr. Deal teaches mechanical drawing. As Promerito sponsor, he directs the ushers for all school affairs. Another office he fills in his quiet and efficient way is that of "Official Ticket Seller".

Ellen Drysdale

Freshman clothing is taught by Miss Drysdale. As the sponsor of Dramatic Honor Society, she heads the faculty committee which chooses the club members from the plays presented during the year.

Earl English

That Mr. English is a "big newspaper man" is shown by the following list of his activities: he "runs" the Opinion; advises Quill and Scroll; teaches journalism, printing, and advertising.

Earl English

Arthur L. Epstein

Mr. Epstein, head of the science department, is a true scholar, and he sees that his students are, too. He heads the Science Club and projection crew, and directed the "Haunted House".

Elizabeth R. Fieselman

This is Miss Fieselman's first year at Peoria High. She is in the home economics department teaching cooking, and sponsors Junior Tri-S at the Y.W.C.A.

J. C. Gambach

Mr. Gambach, teacher of mechanical and architectural drawing, is chairman of our State Fair Exhibit. He is the only faculty member possessing a State High School Certificate for life.

Harry C. Gobble

Mr. Gobble (and he's no Turk!) teaches history and civics. Outside his classes, his chief duty this year is assisting Miss Morris with the many and varied activities of the Senior Class.

Bessie D. Hale

The Central Cue Club, dramatic organization for underclassmen, is fortunate to have such a charming sponsor as Mrs. Hale. Her English classes are for juniors and seniors.

Vera J. Hayes

Miss Hayes is an English teacher who sponsors two honor societies of P.H.S.: National Honor and Charvice. As the head sponsor of Charvice, she plans the programs for their meetings.

Y. A. Heghin

Mr. Heghin will long be remembered by all his students. This head of the social science department has been invaluable to our student government by sponsoring Student Council, and we sincerely regret his resignation.

Salen Herke

"Doc" Herke is the center of all our athletic activities, for he coaches our varsity teams, sponsors Archery and Lettermen's Clubs, and is on the Athletic Board of Control.

Genevieve Iler

Miss Iler initiates students into the mysteries of algebra and geometry. After hours she advises Junior Tri-S, and is building representative of the Peoria Teachers' Club. She is a skilled pianist.

Katherine Jackson

Miss Jackson, our harmony teacher, makes a distinguished figure directing the Glee Club and choruses. She sponsors Music Club, and was very successful as musical director of "Sonia", her first operetta at P.H.S.

Susie Jones

It is worthy of note that Miss Jones has placed in archery contests. Do you suppose she practices on disobedient pupils in her typing and shorthand classes?

Thelma Justus

Miss Justus is a new-comer to P.H.S. The first semester she taught part time at Manual, but now we are glad to welcome her as one of our "full fledged" teachers in the commercial department.

Lucia Keevers

This newcomer has done much besides teaching her art classes, for she is assistant literary adviser of the Crest. In dramatics she helped with make-up and coached dancing choruses for "Sonia".

Garma Kinhofer

We know that Miss Kinhofer is a straight shooter in more ways than one, for she displays this in sponsoring the Archery Club as well as in her biology classes.

Margaret Lamberton

Miss Lamberton, sponsor of Senior Tri-S, is a very quiet person, often seen, but seldom heard, who teaches bookkeeping. Outside of school she spends many pleasant hours driving her car.

Corinth E. Lange

Mr. Lange teaches algebra, geometry, and speech. Besides keeping his mathematics classes "alive" with contests, he uses his ingenuity in work for Speech Club.

Genevieve McConnell

An example of our faculty's thirst for education is our English teacher, Miss McConnell, who received her M.A. last summer. She was a capable committee chairman for both the Senior Class and Jusendra plays.

A. H. McConnell

Mr. McConnell's main interest seems to be in social sciences, for he teaches history and civics. Social Science Club could not function without him to carry on the discussion and tell jokes.

James R. McCormick

Mr. McCormick, now possessor of an M.A. degree, teaches modern and United States history. He holds an important postion in the school as head sponsor of the National Honor Society.

Mamie McGrath

Miss McGrath is a jig-saw puzzle fan, but her hardest puzzle is getting her students' English to fit together properly. She sponsors that active dramatic organization—Cue Club.

Bernadette Mahoney

Miss Mahoney, head of the art department, supervised the art work for this yearbook. Like it? She is also co-sponsor of the Sophomore Class and the Art Club.

Cora Maxfield

Miss Maxfield is a fun-loving English teacher who tells sophomores and juniors how to punctuate sentences correctly. As a sponsor of Jusendra, she has advised its afternoon meetings this year.

Carmen Morris

Miss Morris has used her tact and sympathetic understanding in sponsoring our Senior Class, and we appreciate it. The students of her English classes have appreciated her, too.

Sanford Murphy

Mr. Murphy is our well-liked head of the "math" department who is, in himself, the embodiment of youth. He serves the school as its treasurer and as the Crest Business Adviser.

Joseph Myers

Mr. Myer's interest lies in the field of social science, for he teaches both community and advanced civics, as well as occupations and geography. He came to P.H.S. last year.

Alice Ottenheimer

Miss Ottenheimer, as a sponsor of Charvice, is trying to revive it to its former preeminence in school service. In class, she teaches English fundamentals and business English.

David Owen

This obliging teacher has classes in English and sponsors Speech Club. As Freshman Class adviser, he helps the "Freshies" to find their place in the school.

Jennie M. Patton

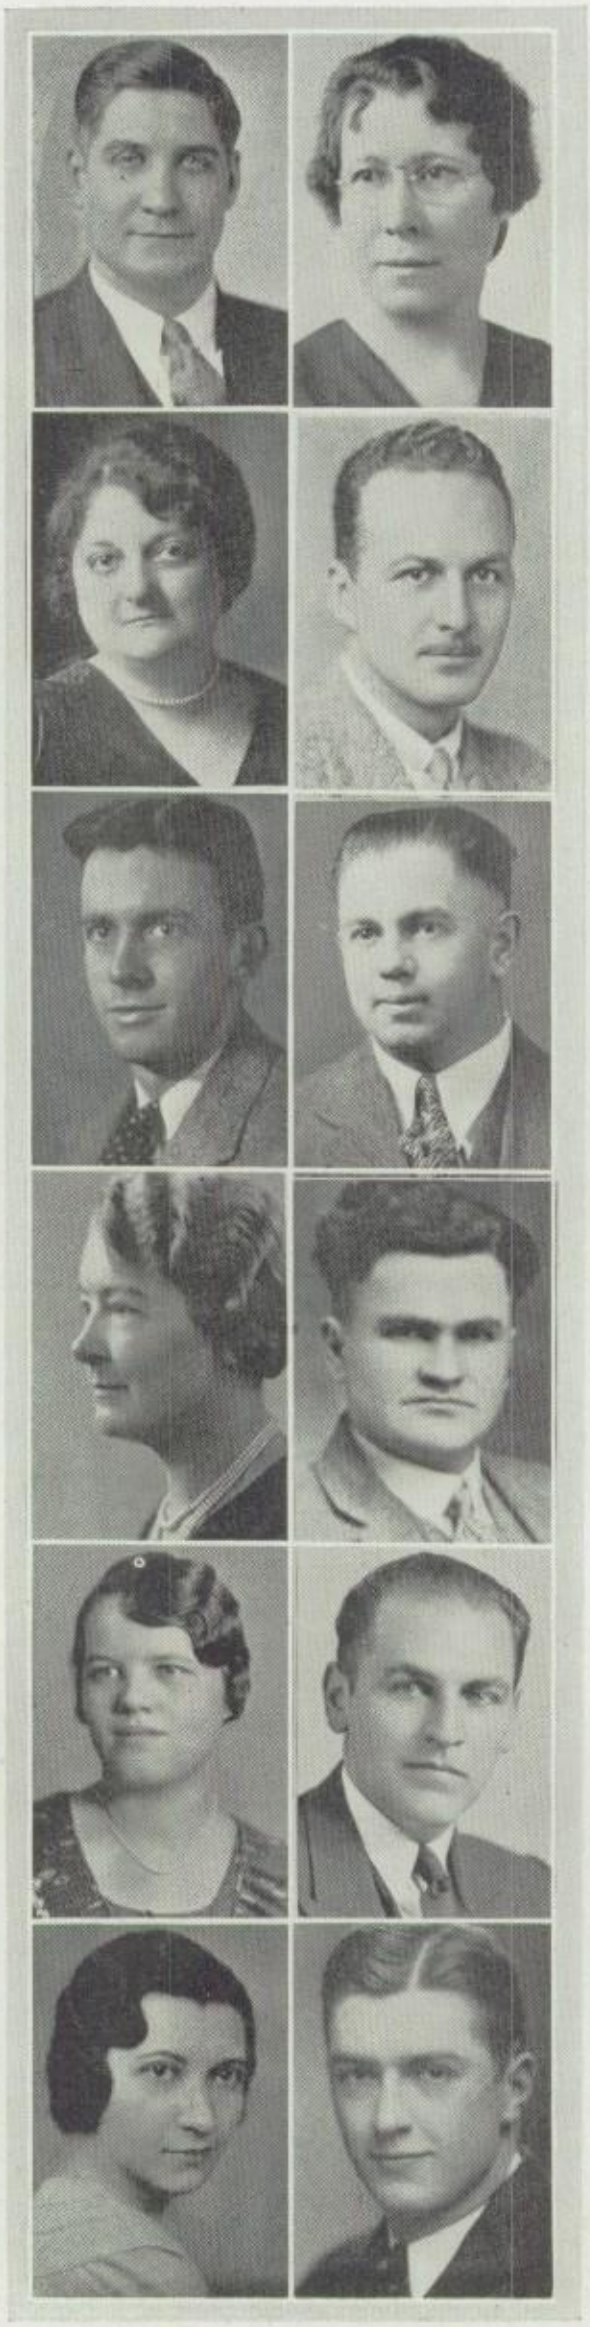
The head of the shorthand department is Miss Patton. We know she is a music-lover as well as a teacher, for we have seen her frequently at musical events.

Avice M. Perdew

Miss Perdew teaches Spanish and a class in speech. In order that students may learn more about Spanish customs and the language, she sponsors the Circulo Espagnol.

Beulah Philpot

Everyone knows Miss Philpot is the girls' gymnasium instructor, but not everyone knows the "sidelines" connected with the position. She sponsors two active athletic clubs: G.A.A. and Archery Club.



Auguste Reinhard

Miss Reinhard teaches freshman and sophomore English. As one of the capable sponsors of Jusendra, she may be depended on to carry out all that she undertakes.

Huber Sammis

Mr. Sammis uses his knowledge of chemistry back stage as well as in his chemistry classes. Remember the burning castle and bomb in "Sonia"? They were Mr. Sammis' ingenious contribution.

V. C. Shepherd

In the science department, Mr. Shepherd teaches physiography and both laboratory and non-laboratory classes in general science. The activity in which he is most interested is Radio Club.

Harold P. Shields

Here is another science teacher, Mr. Shields. He teaches general science and physiology, and is also a sponsor of Science and Math Club. Doesn't his hair remind you of the great musicians?

Joseph Sommer

Mr. Sommer teaches physiology and biology — or perhaps you're a sophomore and call it "bugology". He is a sponsor of Junior Hi-Y, the Y.M.C.A. club for freshman and sophomore boys.

Ralph Sours

Although Mr. Sours has not been with us a full year, he has become quite active in the school. He teaches English and German, and sponsors our German club.

Ada Stewart

Miss Stewart, head of the Latin department, impresses upon all her students the three steps in thinking: observation, comparison, and judgment. Stamps being her hobby, she sponsors Stamp Club.

M. Hugh Stephens

Mr. Stephens teaches physics and chemistry. He believes that teachers never finish their education, for he just received his Master's degree from the University of Iowa.

Arthur Swanson

Did you ever talk to Mr. Swanson without his laughing at you or at what you said? He teaches advanced algebra and geometry, and is kept busy sponsoring the Junior Class.

Claude Trimble

Mr. Trimble is our assistant athletic coach and teaches classes in physiology. What loyal supporter of Peoria High will ever forget his famous pep-meeting speeches?

John Troth

Mr. Troth is one of the teachers in the commercial department, and has classes in shorthand, typing and business forms. Supervising our school banking is his job.

Lucille Waltmire

Miss Waltmire teaches English to juniors and seniors. Besides being a member of the Social Committee, she has given a great deal of time and effort sponsoring Senior Tri-S.

Wilbur Westhoff

Mr. Westhoff teaches in the manual arts department, and he sponsors Promerito and the Home Craft Club. Remember the assembly he gave in the costume of an early craftsman?

Merida Wilde

Miss Wilde teaches Spanish and Latin, and is a sponsor of Charvice. Perhaps you didn't know it was she who wrote so many of the clever articles in the "Charvice Chatter" column.

Sidney A. Williams

Mr. Williams, who teaches commercial subjects, has been chosen the new adviser for Council. His singing is always enjoyed by the students, and he holds the much disputed ping-pong championship.

H. E. Irene Wilson

Miss Wilson's main responsibility in extra-curricular activities is planning the social hours enjoyed by all Charvice members. This year she teaches first year clothing.

Anna B. Wisman

Mrs. Wisman heads the large number of teachers in the commercial department, and teaches bookkeeping. She has done some very good work as sponsor of Commercial Club.

Joseph Yuhause

Mr. Yuhause is one of the faculty members of the manual arts department. He teaches shop and mechanical drawing, and is sponsor of our intra-mural basketball.

J. Yuhause

A soft, soft voice, willingness to oblige every student, constant patience, an ingenious memory for all of our names—this is the guardian angel of our library—Miss Fisher!

Here we see the people "behind the bars." (They aren't criminals, but the office force). Miss Beasley is seen in her familiar act of mimeographing the absence report, while Miss Strehlow, who is the filing clerk and has charge of our locker keys, is busy at her desk. Miss Toberty's special duty is program cards and credit slips. (She would be at the file now if the camera could have included that much of the office). We have an unusual treat in seeing Mr. Brewer's secretary, Miss Rhoades, stopping her work long enough to "look at the birdie." See her at her desk?

The Senior Class

AT THE opening of the fall term of 1929 our class members were spotted as "Freshies". Running hither and thither, trying to find our way about this huge building, we wondered what pleasures high school life had in store for us. Soon we found out; for dramatic, athletic, official, and social activities attracted our attention.

Then, as Sophomores, we organized and had as our advisers, Miss Morris and Mr. Gobble, who have been faithful, helpful, and most interested in our progress. That second year we were proud to give the first all-class assembly. This entertainment, presented by our Sophomore Class, was really our first class activity. It showed a house party where the guests—Mary Crawshaw, William Cutter, Mary Davis, Ned Davis, Margaret Gill, Mary Grigsby, Robert Heiden, Betty Robinson, Helen Truesdale, and Henry Wilson, were being entertained by Bob Luthy's Ensemble, consisting of Arthur Perham, Verne Dorman, Ruth Armstrong, Frances Schafer, Gene Reid, Roderic Bush, Virginia Carroll, Dorothy Hoffman, Violet Hofstetter, Mildred Johns, Helene Knickerbocker, Dolores Menssen, Elizabeth Roper, Alice Schriver, Annabel Wickert, and Allegra Jeck.

When we became Juniors, many of our classmates took active part in dramatic productions, speech and music contests, club activities, and student government. The outstanding class event was our Junior Prom, at the Pere Marquette, led by David Miller and Helen Truesdale.

At last we entered into the dignity of our Senior year. In November we presented our Senior Class play, "The Haunted House", coached by Mr. Epstein. The members of the cast included: Helen Truesdale, Henry Wilson, Charles Vance, Seymour Adelman, Janice Meredith, Kathleen Martin, Catherine Dore, Gene Reid, Richard Wellbrock, Paul Zimmerman, Paul Henniges, James Watkins, Dan Burke, Robert Taylor, and Robert Dunker.

Amid red and silver decorations our class danced away the hours between nine and twelve at the Senior Hop, held in the Gym on February seventeenth. The grand march was led by Shirley Tamplin and Paul Marshall.

The last week of our Senior year we spent in exciting pre-graduation activities. Then, with the commencement exercises, held at the Shrine Temple, our career at P.H.S. was ended; but the memory of these high school days remains with us always.

Seymour Adelman

"He wasn't found until his senior year," as one teacher said. Then his activities were "Haunted House", Dramatic Honor Society, Student Bodyguard, president of German Club, and campaign manager for Tom Flanigon.

Helen Corinne Albrecht

Helen is a cheerful person, and since it is her ambition to become a nurse, she ought to make a good one. Her activities were Archery, Spanish, and Home Economics Clubs.

Angeline M. Allen

Have you ever noticed Angeline's chic and stylish appearance? Her activities were: president, vice-president, and secretary of her advisory groups, secretary of Junior Tri-S, and a member of French Club.

Jane Anderson

Jane is a quiet and reserved girl. Her interests have been centered in Spanish Club, Commercial Club, and Jusendra.

Leslie Anderson

Leslie Anderson

Leslie may be small, but he can stand up for himself in a big way. His activities are as follows: Spanish Club, golf squad, group treasurer, group basket ball, and baseball.

Edward William Andrews

Though "Ed" keeps you laughing at his drollery, he has plenty of sense. He was active in Jusendra, group baseball and basket ball, Junior Hi-Y, and was group secretary.

George Argo

George is one of our quiet boys. He has played on his advisory group basket ball and baseball teams, but has proved his greatest value on the varsity swimming team.

Ruth M. Armstrong

Ruth has both gaily and willingly performed her duties as group president, group banker, and as a member of Jusendra, Speech, English, and Home Economics Clubs.

Elizabeth Ashworth

Elizabeth, who is jolly and carefree, came to us from Bloomington High. There, she was a member of the Girl Reserve Group, the Speech and the Dramatic Clubs.

Lucy Aupperle

Lucy has a cheery, helping manner which she carried with her both in class and outside in Senior Tri-S, English Club, Home Economics Club, Booster Club, and Jusendra.

Richard C. Bachmann

"Dick" is a rather serious person. We find he was a member of Science and Math, German Club, English Club, Manual Arts Club and played in group basket ball and baseball.

Marie Baker

Marie was very much interested in all kinds of school life including athletics, since she belonged to G.A.A. She took Journalism and was a reporter for the "Opinion" in her sophomore year.

Emil Barnes

Emil is another boy here at Peoria High interested in sports. He belonged to the Commercial Club, played group basketball and baseball, and was his group president.

Fletcher Barnes

Fletcher, a charming lad, came here from Macon, Georgia. His chief activity there was four years of military training; here, it is making up the difference in credits.

Wilbur Bear

Wilbur is strong, silent, and good-looking, just the English type of boy. He has played basketball and was the banker in his Freshman advisory group.

Virginia Becker

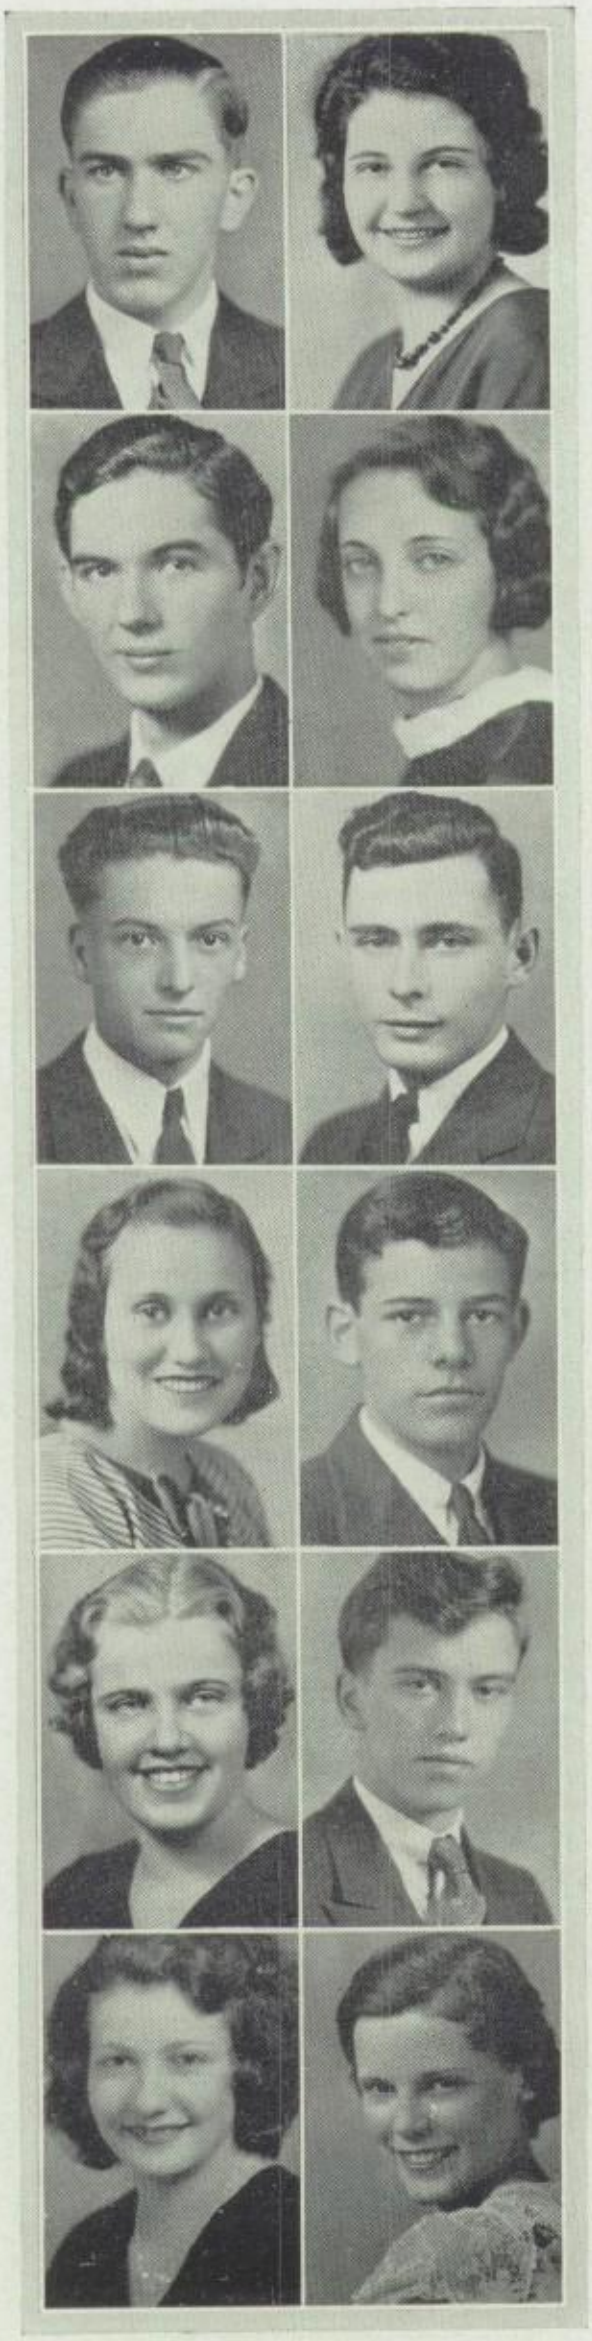
Since Virginia took the Commercial Course, she belonged to Commercial Club and will probably always be interested in affairs of the business world. Her favorite study was typing.

Mary Margo Beitz

Having been in Chicago for two years, Mary returns to us to graduate with the class of '33. She was a member of the G.A.A. and secretary of her English class.

Diletta K. Bellson

"Dilett" is a study in contrasts: now gay, now serious; now quiet and demure, now giggling and talkative. Her activities are Commercial Club and Jusendra.



Edith Bellson

Business is business with Edith. It's her course and she is making the most of it. While in Peoria High she has centered her interest on the Commercial Club.

Ruth Belsterling

"Ruthie" is full of pep. She was in the chorus of "Sonia" and a member of English Club, Jusendra, French Club, Science and Math, and treasurer of Senior Tri-S.

Frank A. Bennett

Although Frank doesn't have much to say, he has proved his interest in the Jusendra and Art Clubs. In his Junior year he served as banker of his advisory group.

Karl G. Bensing

Karl has proved himself of value to P.H.S. He was one of the State Fair Project workers, was a member of the Art Club, and of the Junior Hi-Y Club.

Roland P. Benz

Roland is another of our loyal students. He was one of the first to sign up for the Booster Club; he played group basketball and baseball, and was group banker.

Jane Benzies

Jane has a very friendly nature and has a host of friends. She was president of her Freshman advisory group and belonged to Jusendra, French, Social Science, and Speech Clubs.

Alice H. Berquist

A mighty little girl with a mighty big smile. Our fun-loving Alice will be missed in Commercial Club, where she has always been an active member.

Oliver Bessler

"Bud's" whole life centers around athletics. He played Varsity football, class, intra-mural, and advisory basketball, besides belonging to the Archery Club and serving as vice-president of his advisory group.

Marie L. Betts

Marie has been a member of Jusendra here at high school; she enjoys good music, thrilling mystery novels, football games, and tennis.

Gilbert Blake

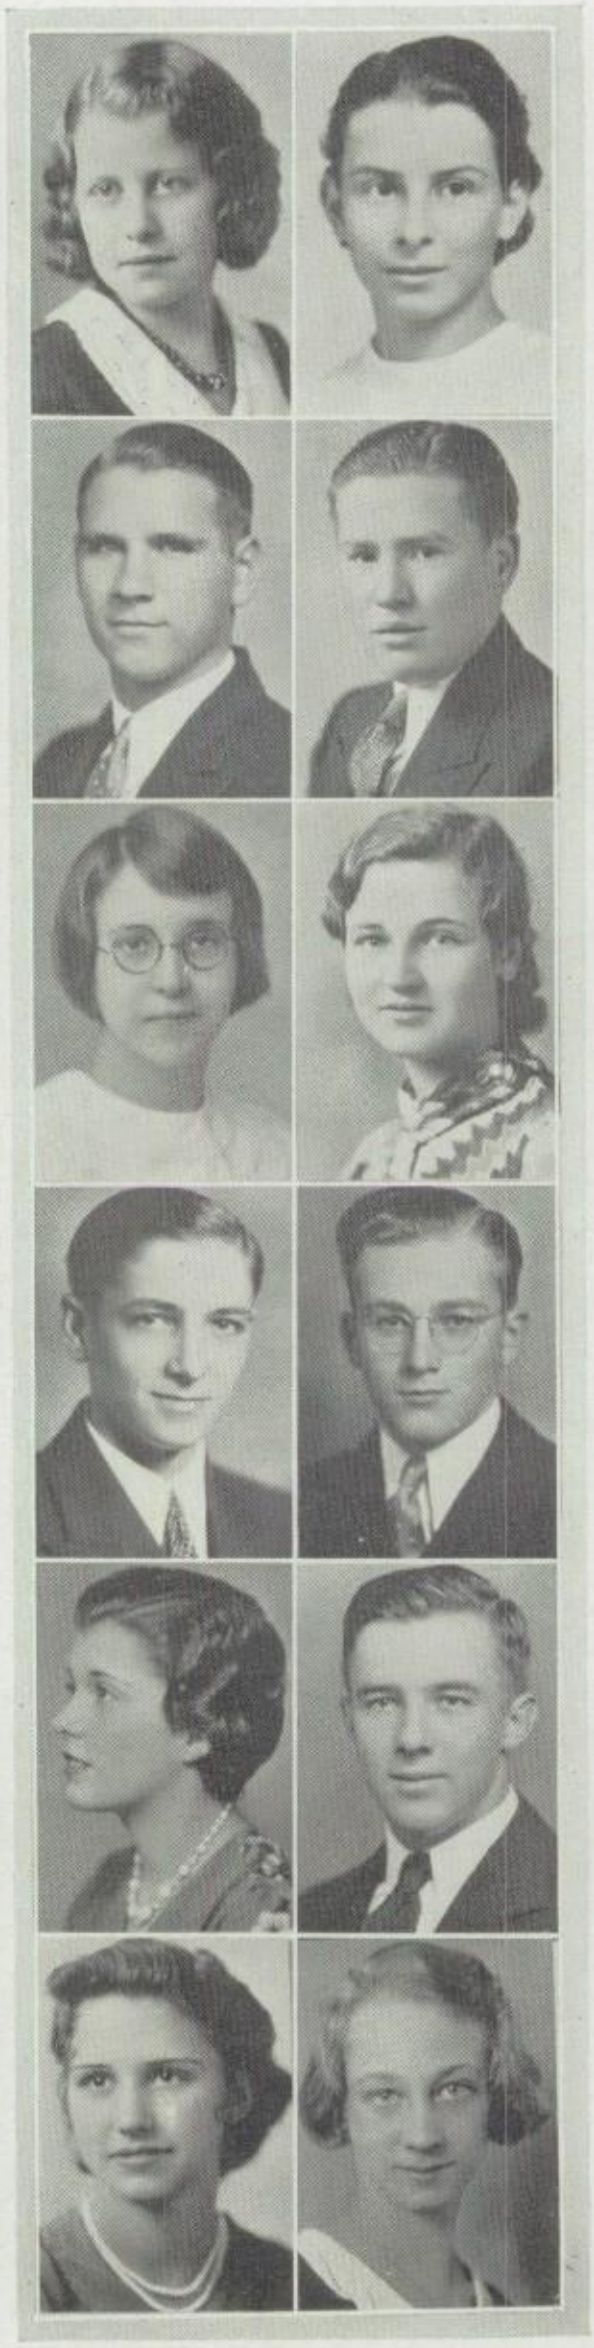
If you know Gilbert, you know he's bashful in class; but that doesn't mean much, for he likes to be with a crowd of boys and take part in group basketball.

Eleanor Blanchard

Loyalty to her school and friends is Eleanor's most lovable trait. She has gorgeous auburn hair, and has as activities Charvice, French Club, Jusendra, Senior Play committee, and group president.

Marie Boettger

Marie has won many friends here with her dark eyes and sparkling smile. Her activities have been the "Fashion Revue", Commercial Club, Jusendra, Home Economics Club, Swimming Club, and G.A.A.



Betty Bourland

Betty may be little in size, but she plays mean basketball and is very popular. She belonged to French Club, and Jusendra; and was elected into Charvice her Senior year.

Clifford B. Bourne

"Red" is our head cheerleader, and he really puts pep into many of our school activities. He also belonged to Hi-Y and Promerito, and was the business manager of "Sonia".

Sue Bramlet

Ambitious, tireless, and merry is Sue. As secretary-treasurer of Band, group secretary, and a member of Charvice, Music and French Clubs, she has done much to make many lasting friends.

Duane H. Brighton

Duane is a jovial, good-natured classmate with a pleasant manner. He was a member of Science and Math Club and Spanish Club.

Dan Brown

Having hailed from sunny California, Dan hasn't become very well acquainted at P.H.S. However, we do know he has played advisory group basketball and baseball and is a good sport.

Myrtle Brown

Myrtle is very studious and receives excellent grades. She was elected into National Honor in 1932, belongs to Charvice, was a Prefect Captain, Junior Tri-S program chairman, and in "Sonia".

Hugh M. Bryan

Hugh is a smiling, charming chap who played in the "Tower Room Mystery", was treasurer of Speech Club, member of Jusendra, and Glee Club.

Frances Buchanan

"Fran" is very droll and always keeps her friends in a jolly mood. She was president of her advisory group and a member of the Social Science Club, Tri-S, and Jusendra.

Edna Mae Buckler

Having taken part in many of our organizations, Edna is considered an active student. Her clubs were Jusendra, Music, and Speech Clubs, and she was a proof-reader for the Opinion.

Frances L. Burgard

"Fran" is a lover of athletics. Because of her active membership in G.A.A., she won her letter. Her other clubs and activities are English, Spanish, Science and Math, "Sonia", and group treasurer.

Robert Burgess

Robert came from Princeton, Illinois, and since he was making up one fourth of a credit, he was in school only two hours. In Princeton he belonged to their Chorus Club.

Robert L. Burhans

"Bob" has a pleasing personality. He was the president and vice-president of his advisory groups. He played group basketball, and was a member of Jusendra, French, and Science Clubs.

Dan Burke

Dan is small and quiet. He had a part in the "Haunted House", and his other activities were: Art Club, Speech Club, Band, and Drum Corps.

Mary Burns

Mary has directed her interests to that kind of activity provided for her in Jusendra, Commercial Club, and Home Economics Club.

Roderic F. Bush

"Rod" is quite the musician. Besides being in the Glee Club and "Sonia", he is a member of the Speech Club and an assistant on the Crest Staff.

Philip Bussman

"Phil" was interested in different sports. He played on the advisory group basketball and baseball teams. He also belonged to the German Club.

Bernice Campbell

Enthusiasm for the P.H.S. clubs drew Bernice into the Commercial, Science, and Home Economics Clubs, Jusendra, and G.A.A.

Louise Campbell

Louise's manner, both sweet and reserved, has made us glad that she is a member of the class of '33. Her activities have been Jusendra and Commercial Club.

Dick Canterbury

As you can see, Dick is interested in many lines. He was a student prefect, played advisory group basketball and baseball, and was a member of Archery and Science Clubs.

Tom Carney

Tom came to Peoria High this year from Green Bay, Wisconsin. He likes to read, is interested in sports and athletics of all kinds, and does mechanical drawing.

Marjorie B. Carpenter

"Marj." is just chucked full of fun, and is always a good sport. Her various activities include: Music, Jusendra, and Spanish Clubs, and a leading role in "Sonia".

Orlie Carter

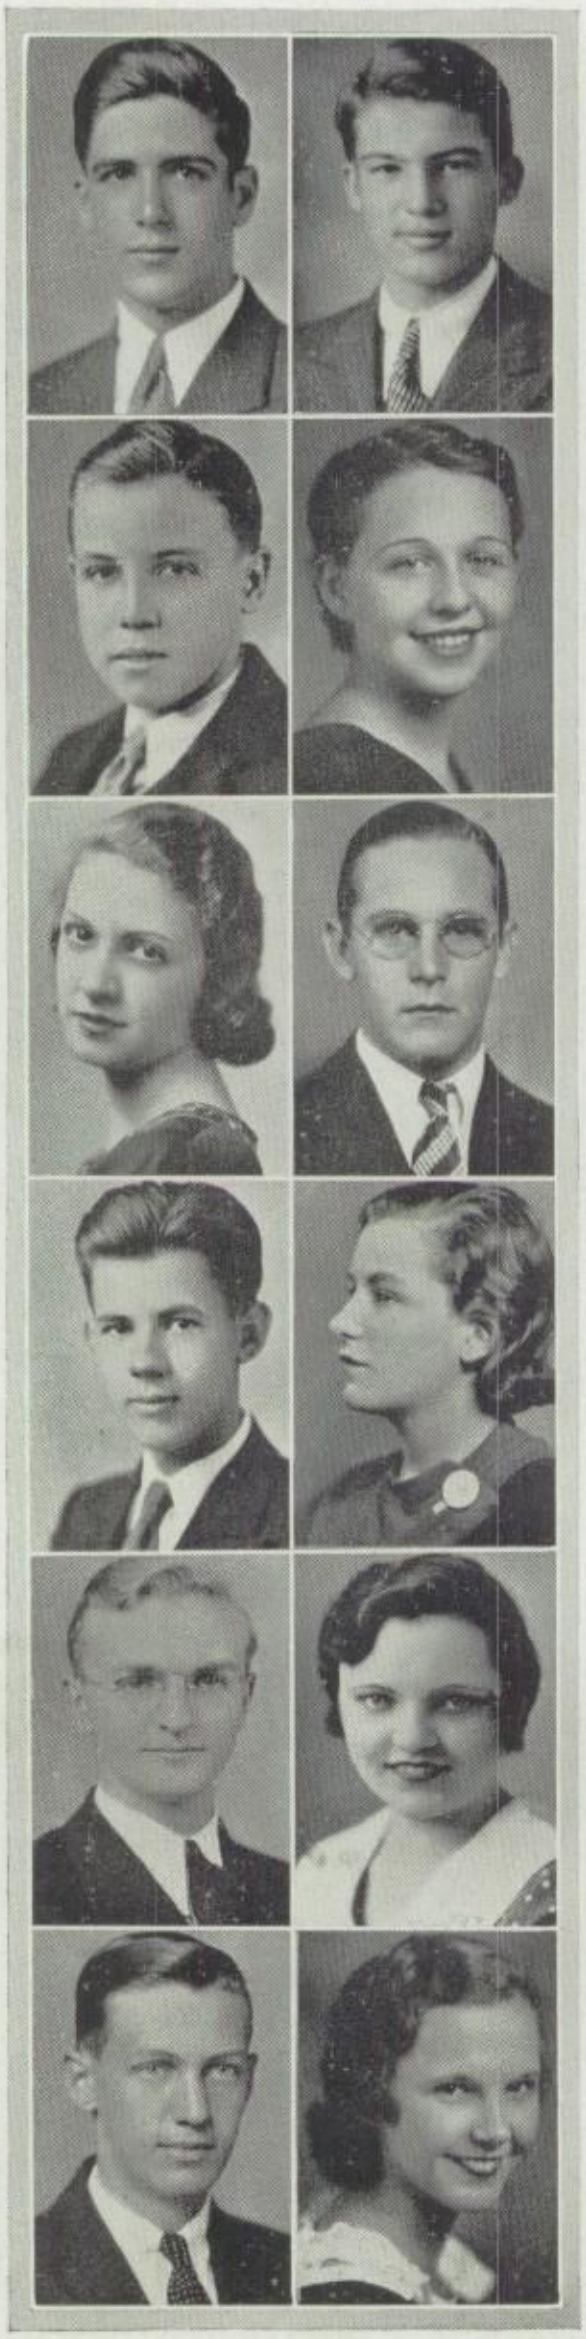
Manual arts and drawing seem to be Orlie's chief interests. His activities have been the Student Bodyguard, Drum and Bugle Corps, and Booster Club.

David M. Casey

"Dave's" dramatic ability manifested itself in a variety of roles, particularly in "Daddies", "Tower Room Mystery", and "Sonia". He was also active in Science and Math Club, serving as president and vice-president.

George N. Casey

"Bits of Gossip" he does write. Basketball and baseball he keeps in sight. And as a business man he is right; group banker, Commercial and Stamp Clubs.



Howard Chave

Howard is one of the carefree, independent boys in our class of '33. He was a member of Speech Club and vice-president of his advisory group.

Billie Zoe Christian

Billie is well known and jolly. For her outstanding work in "Tower Room Mystery" she was elected into Dramatic Honor Society. She also participated in Commercial and Jusendra Clubs.

Edward C. Claes

You should hear "Ed" warble in Glee Club. He's one of these lyric tenors, and also plays advisory group baseball and basketball. So you see he is quite versatile.

Rosamond M. Clark

"Bobby" was elected into three honor societies, the National Honor, Dramatic Honor, and Charvice. She belonged to French Club and Jusendra, and was treasurer of the Junior Class.

Alliemae Coakley

Alliemae is a member of several of the P.H.S. Clubs: Jusendra, Student Bodyguard, and Junior Tri-S. She is very active outside of school, too.

Betty Jane Collins

If you have ever noticed Betty's sparkling brown eyes, you know that she is full of fun. Her activities include Jusendra, Commercial, Tri-S, G.A.A., and Home Economics Clubs.

Rosie Collins

Rosie has a good time at school, and, in fact—everywhere. She took a General Course and was interested in athletics of all kinds, including our football and basketball games.

Dorothy Lee Connett

Dorothy Lee was better known as "Sarj" because she was the Drum Major of the Band. Her other activities have been Opinion Reporter, Prefect, and Senior Class play poster committee.

John Conway

"Jack" is tall and well built and oh, that curly hair! He belonged to Jusendra and Spanish Club, and was a vice-president and a banker of advisory groups.

Georgia Cooper

Georgia's happy smile is welcomed in the organizations of which she is a member; these are Jusendra, Glee Club, Music and Speech Clubs. She was treasurer of her advisory group.

Harold A. Coulson

"Solly" is interested in manual arts. His other activities are: Spanish Club, Speech Club, advisory basketball and baseball, and intra-mural basketball.

Beverly Cramer

"Bev" made Charvice in her Junior year. Besides being president of Spanish Club and secretary of Commercial Club, she was in "Sonia", and belonged to the Bodyguard and Jusendra.

Betty C. Crawford

Betty is genial and pleasure-loving. Her activities have been Jusendra, Commercial Club, English Club, Home Economics Club, and vice-president of her advisory group.

Mary E. Crawshaw

Mary's interests are varied. She is a member of Jusendra, English, Science and Math, and Archery Clubs. She also served as vice-president of her advisory group.

Hulin J. Cross

Someday Hulin will startle the world with an amazing discovery in radio. He still has time, however, to be a member of the Science and Manual Arts Clubs.

Bill Cutter

Although Bill is quiet and serious in the class room, he has two years of tennis to his credit, also group basketball, Jusendra, Social Science, and Science and Math Club.

Jack H. Dace

Jack is good looking and likable. He played some football and group basketball, was a member of the Speech Club and a Crest committee, besides being a group treasurer.

Margaret Dallam

Margaret is quiet and likes athletics. She is a member of the Swimming Club and G. A. A. The Home Economics Club is another of her activities.

Byron Darst

"Jim" has blond, curly hair that makes all of "them" fall. His activities include: cheerleader '31-'32, Band, Orchestra, Drum Corps, intramural basketball and football '30.

Jim B. Daugherty

"Doc" has been active in Student Council, participating also in "Sonia", Senior Class Play committee, Varsity basketball and baseball, and acting as chairman of Booster Club and president of Senior Hi-Y.

Marian L. Davidson

Marian is very jolly, and she adds spirit to the meetings of the Speech Club. She has many friends; you seldom see her alone.

Mary Frances Davis

Mary's position as Senior Editor of the Crest was one which required initiative and dependability. Other responsible positions held were treasurer of Charvice and member of Student Council.

Dorothy Deames

Talk about fun! You can have plenty with "Dot." She was president of French Club, belonged to Jusendra and English Clubs, and was Feature Editor of the Crest.

Louis Dennison

Perhaps some day Louis will be a great financier, because he is certainly proficient as our school banker. He also plays basketball and baseball, and belongs to Speech and German Clubs.

Alice Dewey

In her quiet way Alice was keenly interested in the English and French Clubs. She was also a member of Jusendra, Social Science Club, and Junior and Senior Tri-S.

Margaret M. Dickens

Margaret is very quiet, but likes swimming and archery. Her other activities included Jusendra, Speech Club, treasurer of her advisory group, and prefect on the Bodyguard.

W. Brown Dickison

Brown is another stalwart athlete. Besides being a member of the football squad for three years, he has engaged in group sports and was a member of the Manual Arts Club.

Clara Dierker

Clara is small but lively, very neat and jolly. The English, Commercial, and Home Economics Clubs will certainly miss her. She was also a valuable secretary in her advisory group.

Miles F. Dingeldein

Miles is active in all group sports. Besides trying to get people to stop giving him nicknames, Miles is a member of the Social Science and Manual Arts Clubs.

Robert Dixon

"Bob's" chief interest was athletics. During his four years he took part in Varsity football and group basketball. He was also a member of the Stamp Club, Jusendra, and Science Club.

Elwyn Dobbins

Elwyn, besides being the secretary of the Manual Arts Club, was active in athletics. He played in advisory group basketball and baseball.

Norman G. Deobler

For the past three years Norman has labored amongst the athletic equipment, having been athletic manager. He belonged to Hi-Y, Glee Club, and was treasurer of the Junior class.

Catherine Dore

Catherine is sociable and reliable. She was president and vice-president of advisory groups, member of Speech Club, vice-president of Home Economics, and played in "Daddies" and "Haunted House."

Verne Dorman

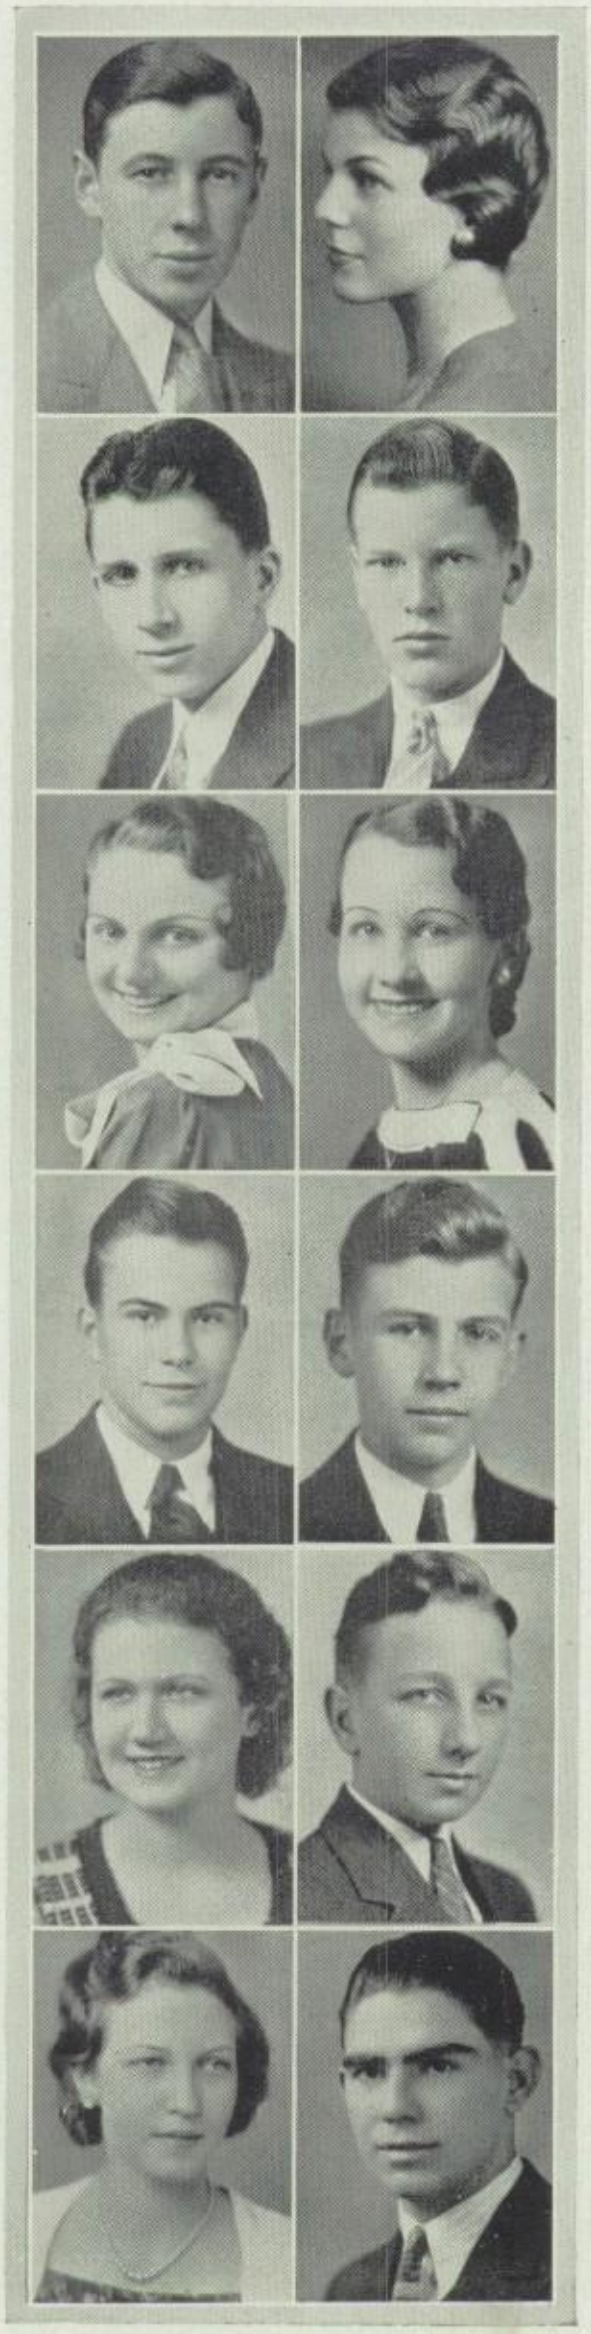
"Bud" may be a villain in operettas, but he certainly isn't in real life. He played in "The Lucky Jade" and "Sonia", and belonged to Glee Club, Music and Speech Clubs.

Coralyne M. Doyle

Coralyne has been interested chiefly in sports; however, she has varied her activities by being a member of Glee Club, Girls' Swimming Club, Booster Club, and Speech Club.

Virginia Drake

"Ginny" is versatile in her selection of clubs. The variety is shown in Junior Tri-S, G. A. A., Music and Home Economics Clubs. Advisory group president and "Sonia" complete her activities.



Josephine Du Chane

You never see "Jo" when she isn't smiling. Her clubs, Jusendra, Commercial, English, Social Science, and Speech, show that she has a wide range in which she may spread cheerfulness.

Robert Maurice Dunker

"Bob" was president of Jusendra and of advisory group, member of Junior Hi-Y., appeared in "The Haunted House", in group basketball and baseball. His clever announcements in assembly will be remembered.

Ruth Dunlap

Ruth's personality, marked by caprice and buoyancy, has caused her to choose activities ranging from Jusendra, Music Club, and Speech Club to Commercial Club and Home Economics Club.

Frederick Dwehus

"Fred" is a very likable fellow who makes friends with everyone he meets. He has been a prefect, and since he started, has been promoted to the position of Captain.

Thomas Rutherford East

Thomas has participated in many boys' activities including advisory group basketball and baseball, advisory group secretary and treasurer, Manual Arts Club, and Science and Math Club.

William Ebling

You always find Bill in a cheerful mood. Besides belonging to the track and cross-country teams, he was a member of the Spanish Club.

Orville Ebling

Did you ever see Orville leave the Peoria Library without all the books he could carry? That means he's anxious to learn. He belonged to the Archery and Manual Arts Clubs.

Joan Eggers

Joan was at P.H.S. during her freshman year but attended Englewood High in her sophomore and junior years. There she belonged to the Art and Dramatic Clubs.

Elizabeth Egolf

"Beth" has won a host of friends in her four years. She belonged to Jusendra, English Club, Bodyguard, and was advisory banker and vice-president, besides being in "Sonia".

Edna Mae Eichenlaub

A jovial, good-natured person is Edna Mae. She was in "Sonia", belonged to Jusendra and Social Science, was a member of Bodyguard, and was vice-president of her Sophomore advisory group.

Kathryn Elliott

G.A.A. will miss her capable aid and all-round athletic ability. "Kate" was an active member of Letter Co-ed, Booster, Swimming, and Commercial Clubs, Junior Tri-S, and was also in "Sonia".

Ralph Ellis

"Bud", the cartoonist, has been a valuable member of the Crest and Opinion staffs. Other things which kept him busy were: group vice-president and treasurer, Glee Club, and Art Club.

Arthur Erickson

Arthur goes about hs business in a quiet way. His activities include: group banker and treasurer, advisory basketball, Manual Arts Club, Prefect, Commercial Club, and intramural basketball.

Zelda June Evans

June has been in many different kinds of clubs including the English, Social Science, Jusendra, Commercial, and Home Economics Clubs, G.A.A., and Senior Tri-S.

Vivian A. J. Fahrman

"Vee" is amply described by the adjectives bright, peppy, jolly, and helpful. Jusendra and the operetta, "Sonia", represent her interests for the two years that she was here.

Leonard Favus

Leonard is popular, as is clearly shown by his activities. He has been advisory president and vice-president; was a member of Manual Arts and Film Clubs; and has played group basketball.

Floyd W. Feldman

Floyd is the life of the party wherever he goes. During his high school career he has participated in group basketball and baseball, Senior Hi-Y, and Speech Club.

Faye Elizabeth Fellows

Here is a girl who is always anxious to be helpful. And have you ever noticed Faye's sweet smile? French, Jusendra, Astronomy, and Science and Math Clubs were in Faye's activities.

Howard Ferdinand

How Howard does play basketball! He has been on the Varsity team, the class team, and has had two years of advisory group playing. Good luck to you in the future, Howard!

Goldie Finkelstein

"Sweet personality, full of rascality". When an underclassman, Goldie attended Junior Tri-S. Then she became active in a variety of clubs: G.A.A., Jusendra, Music, Commercial, and Speech.

Dorothy Flanegin

Dorothy has been willing and dependable in her studies and in French Club, Jusendra, Social Science Club, English Club, Junior Tri-S, and Science and Math Club.

James Fleisher

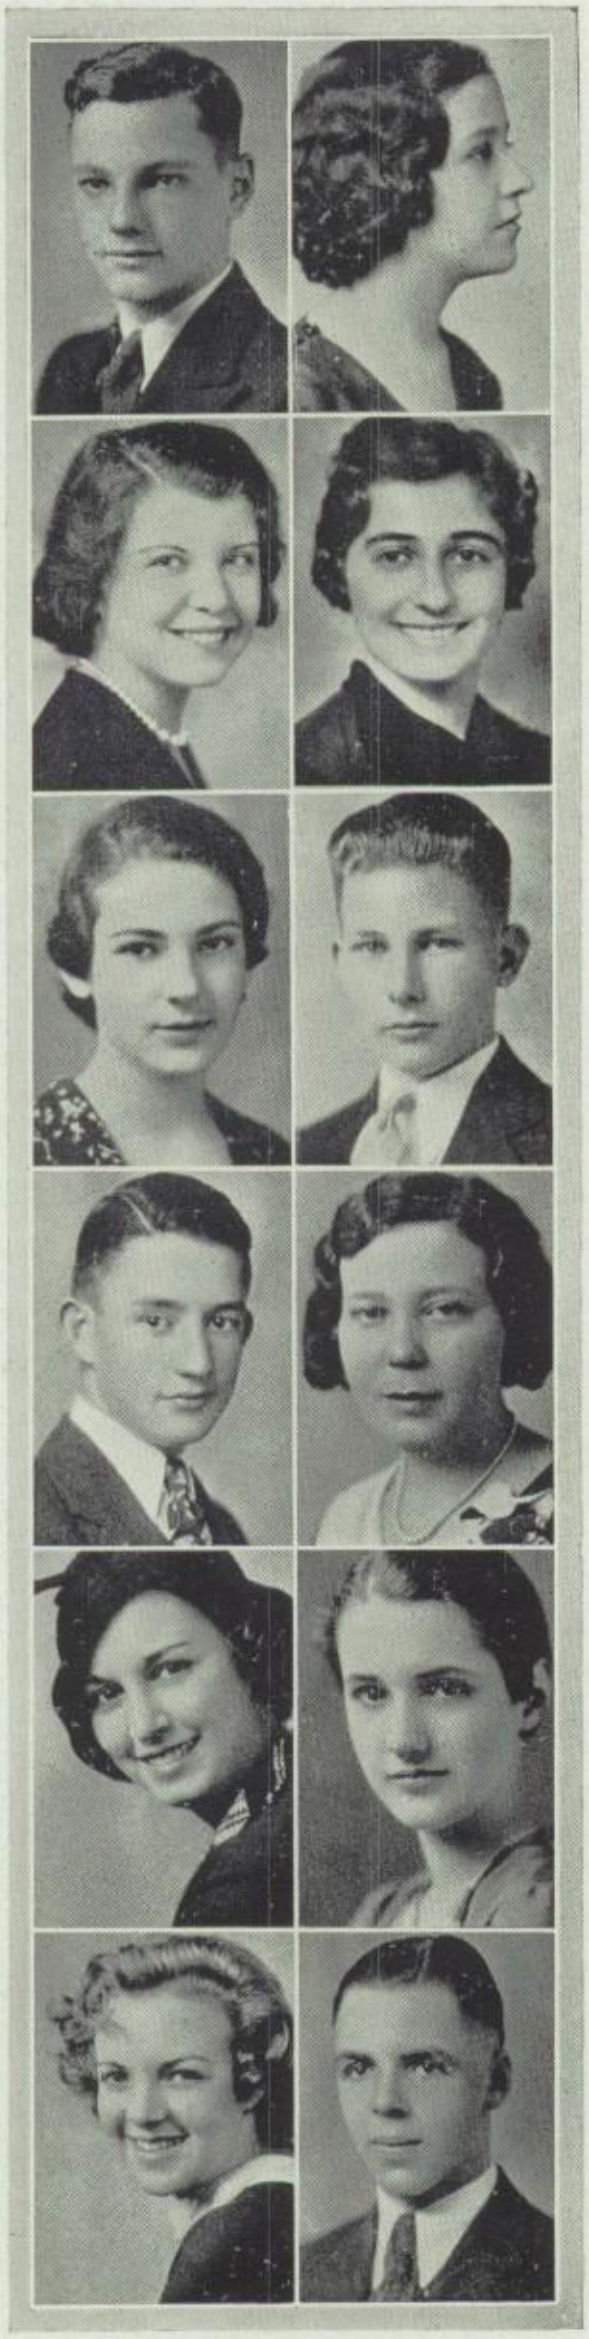
Maybe we have a future Hollywood stage manager in James, for he is a member of our crew. He also belonged to Jusendra and Band, and played intra-mural basketball. He was Kate Ulrich's campaign manager.

Louise Flora

Louise always sees the joke. She belonged to Fleur de Lys, Science and Math, Jusendra, and Junior Tri-S, and she was a prefect and secretary of Senior Tri-S.

Harriett Folliott

It seems that gentlemen prefer blondes! Harriett belonged to Jusendra, Glee Club, Junior Tri-S, Archery and Speech Clubs, and was in a dancing chorus in "Sonia".



Jean Forbes

In her reserved, quiet way, Jean has been a member of English, Spanish, Social Science, and Jusendra Clubs. She took part in the "Fashion Revue" and was a Student Prefect.

Grace Friedman

Grace has a sense of humor that is envied by all. She was a member of Jusendra, French, and Speech Clubs, and was Opinion reporter for her advisory group.

Eugene Friess

"Gene" will be remembered long for his good work on the stage crew. He made Promerito and belonged to Science and Math, Jusendra, and Student Bodyguard. Gene played advisory basketball.

Rhona Fry

We don't hear much from her, but we'll miss her when she goes. We hope that Rhona enjoyed Commercial Club as much as we enjoyed having her in it.

Jean Frye

As Bodyguard Magistrate, Jean has been most efficient in the management of the prefects. Her other activities were: Charvice, Music Club, "Daddies", Jusendra, and secretary of her advisory group.

Warren Frye

The interest that Warren has shown in advisory group baseball, Archery, Social Science and Manual Arts Clubs, has been recognized by his election into Promerito.

John Gale

John was on the business staff of the 1933 Crest. He belonged to Jusendra, played advisory group basketball and baseball, and had a part in "Daddies".

Tom Galvin

Tom has been one of our athletic heroes since he was a freshman. He played on the Varsity football, basketball, and baseball teams, and belonged to the Lettermen's Club.

Betty Jane Gapen

Betty Jane is always willing and ready to help. She was interested in the Jusendra, Archery, and Glee Clubs. Her musical talent was represented in "The Lucky Jade" and "Sonia".

Mildred Garrison

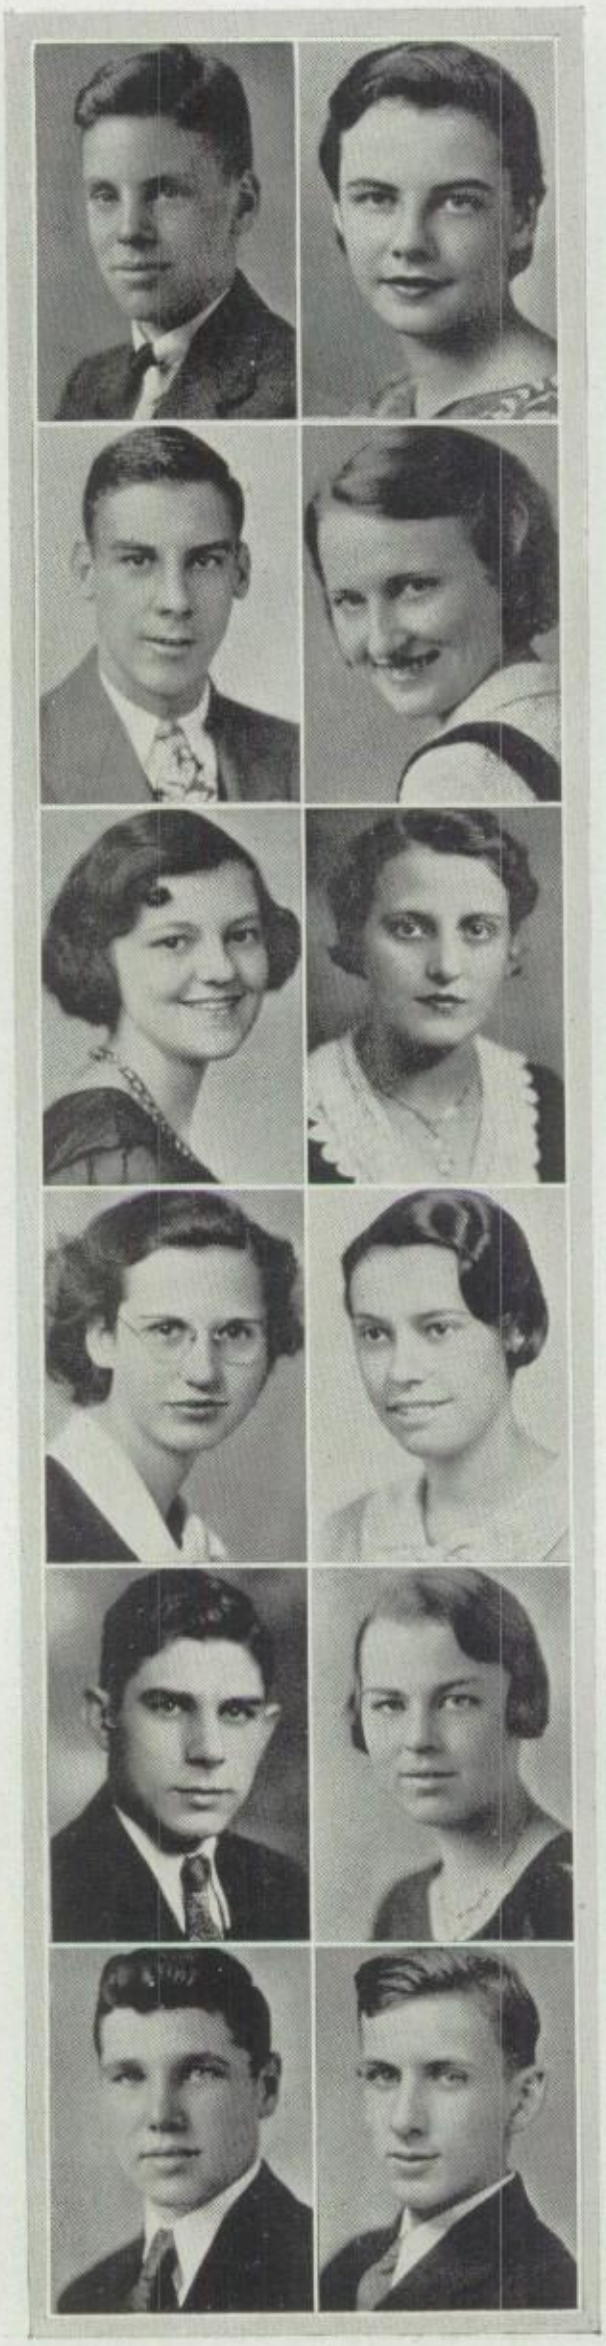
Steady and loyal is "Jo". Her enthusiasm was felt in Junior Tri-S and Glee Club. As president of her Junior advisory group, she proved very efficient.

John H. Gates

John is an ambitious and studious fellow. In his high school career he has belonged to Jusendra, Speech, Art, English, and Science and Math Clubs.

Alvin Gebhardt

Alvin is very athletic, as you can see by his activities, which are as follows: Varsity baseball, group basketball, Lettermen's Club, Senior and Junior class basketball, and group secretary.



Margaret Gill

"Marg" is vivacious and sparkling. Her talent won for her 1st place in Humorous Reading at Big 12, 2nd in National Forensic, lead in "Sonia", membership in Dramatic Honor and Charvice, and on Crest staff.

Margaret Gish

Margaret is interested in Commercial projects, since she is striving to become a model secretary. Therefore, she has chosen for her principal activity, Commercial Club.

Olive Ellen Glenn

"Scotty" is known for her mischievous ways. She was in "Sonia", Jusendra, Speech Club, and acted as vice-president of her Sophomore group, Opinion reporter, and prefect.

Carrie E. Goodman

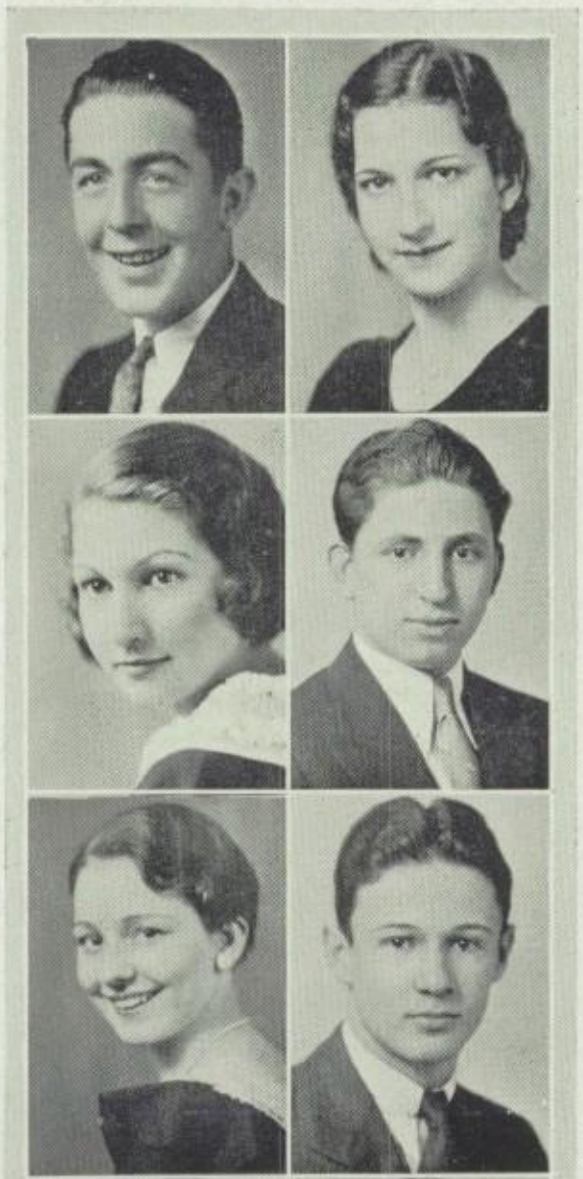
Carrie is quiet but observes everything. She was vice-president of the Commercial Club, treasurer of her advisory group, and was a member of Jusendra.

Helen Gorham

Helen is well liked by all her friends. She belonged to Jusendra, French Club, Senior Tri-S, and Social Science Club. She was Bodyguard Captain and was vice-president of Junior Tri-S.

Jack Gorman

In his quiet way, Jack keeps all to himself. He took part in the Commercial Club, and was on the nominating committee for the Sophomore Class.



Amzi Gossard

Did you ever catch Amzi without a "come-back"? Here at P.H.S. he belonged to the Varsity track team, Jusendra, Science and Math, and Social Science Clubs.

Amorette Graham

Amorette's appearance is striking, and her taste in dress unusual. She was a member of the following clubs: French, Jusendra, Music, Spanish, and Glee Clubs.

Frieda Grant

Frieda is small, dainty, and popular. She belonged to Jusendra, Music Club, and G.A.A.; and was Opinion reporter, and secretary-treasurer of Sophomore and Freshman advisory groups.

Constance Maxine Green

Maxine has the right philosophy: "Never let anything worry you". She was a member of the Home Economics, G.A.A., Tri-S, Spanish, and Science and Math Clubs.

William R. Griffith

"A laugh is worth a hundred groans in any language," says this mischievous boy. Bill was a member of Science and Math Club.

Bernard Grimm

"Bernie" was elected to Promerito here at Peoria High. He was also his group banker, played group basketball, and belonged to the Glee Club.

Eleanor B. Grimm

Eleanor derives pleasure from small incidents. Her activities, Jusendra, Glee Club, G.A.A., secretary of Home Economics Club, advisory group president, and 1931 Fashion Revue, illustrate her ability to mix with all.

Jack Gross

Jack has a business-like manner which he has carried with him in Jusendra, "Tower Room Mystery", Speech Club, advisory group basketball, and National Forensic League.

Robert Ground

"Bob" is a man of business. He was President of the School, head of Student Council, assistant business manager of Crest, member of Promerito, and advisory group president.

Vernon Hagemann

Vernon has a keen mind and is a deep thinker, but can be lots of fun. If you don't believe it, you should have been in a class with him.

Charles E. Hall

As Charles was transferred from Springfield High in January, '32, he has belonged only to Speech Club at Peoria High. He is graduating in three and one half years.

Fanchon E. Hammer

Fanchon is one of our nimble-fingered pianists. Jusendra, Glee Club, and Music Club will miss this big surprise in a small package.

Betty Harbers

Betty is quiet and dreamy, but oh, so likable! She took part in "Sonia" and was a member of Social Science Club, Jusendra, English Club, and Junior Tri-S.

Dan Harms

Dan is graduating in three and one half years, and is interested in electrical engineering. He was president of the Movie Makers' Club and banker of his advisory group.

Dan Harms.

William H. Harrison

Bill is a long way from the ground, but his height doesn't hinder his being a member of many clubs; namely, Jusendra, Manual Arts, Social Science, and Movie.

Elwyn Hasselbacher

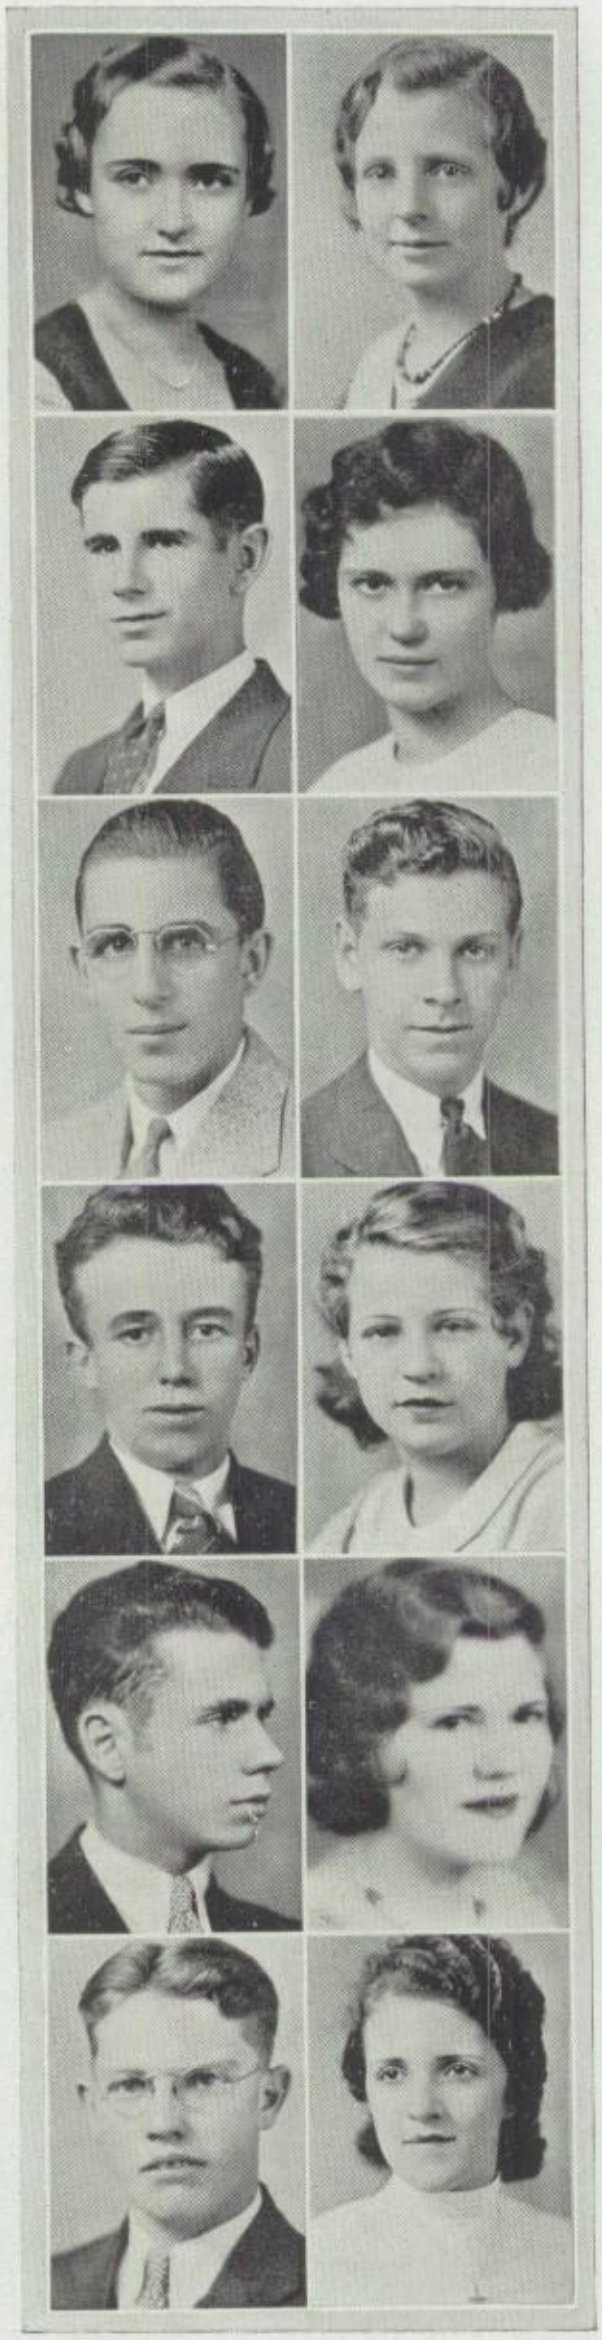
Elwyn is likable and friendly. He played on the intra-mural basketball team, took part in advisory group basketball, and was a member of Manual Arts Club.

Kenneth Hauer

Kenneth likes sports and is a jolly, good fellow. Being interested in military training, he has gone to the Military Training Camp at Fort Sheridan for the past two summers.

Roy E. Hauk

Roy was transferred to Peoria High from Dunlap in his sophomore year. While there he played on their baseball team.



Alma Bernice Haynes

Blonde, sweet, hard to beat! Bernice is a member of Commercial and English Clubs, Jusendra, and was in the Fashion Revue. This retiring, good-natured girl has enjoyed her school days.

Nancy Hebden

Nancy entered our high school in September, 1932, coming from Chicago. Even in this short time, she has become interested in two activities, Archery Club and Senior Tri-S.

Robert Heiden

"Bob" is a rather happy-go-lucky, likable person, who was a member of Jusendra, Science and Math, Speech Club, and vice-president of an advisory group.

Geneva Heintz

If you don't know Geneva, you have missed a lot of fun, for there isn't a jollier person anywhere. She has been a member of the Commercial Club.

Mandella Frances Heinz

Mandella's chief characteristic, which is kind heartedness, will be long remembered by her classmates and members of Music Club, French Club, Jusendra, and Glee Club.

Leona Henniger

You can always find Leona cheerful, congenial, and agreeable in a crowd of young people. Since she took the Commercial Course, she ought to make a "hit" in the business world.

Paul Henniges

Without a doubt, Paul's a leader. He was vice-president of Promerito, president of National Forensic, a member of Dramatic Honor, Debating Team, Speech Club, and a columnist for the Opinion.

Ruth Hepburn

Ruth is always capable and happy. She was president of Social Science and French Clubs, appeared in "Cherchez la Femme", was a member of Jusendra, Tri-S, and in "Sonia".

Vincent H. Herndon

"Vince", as we call him, entered Peoria High three years ago and since then has made many friends. He came from Harrisburg, Illinois.

George Heerman

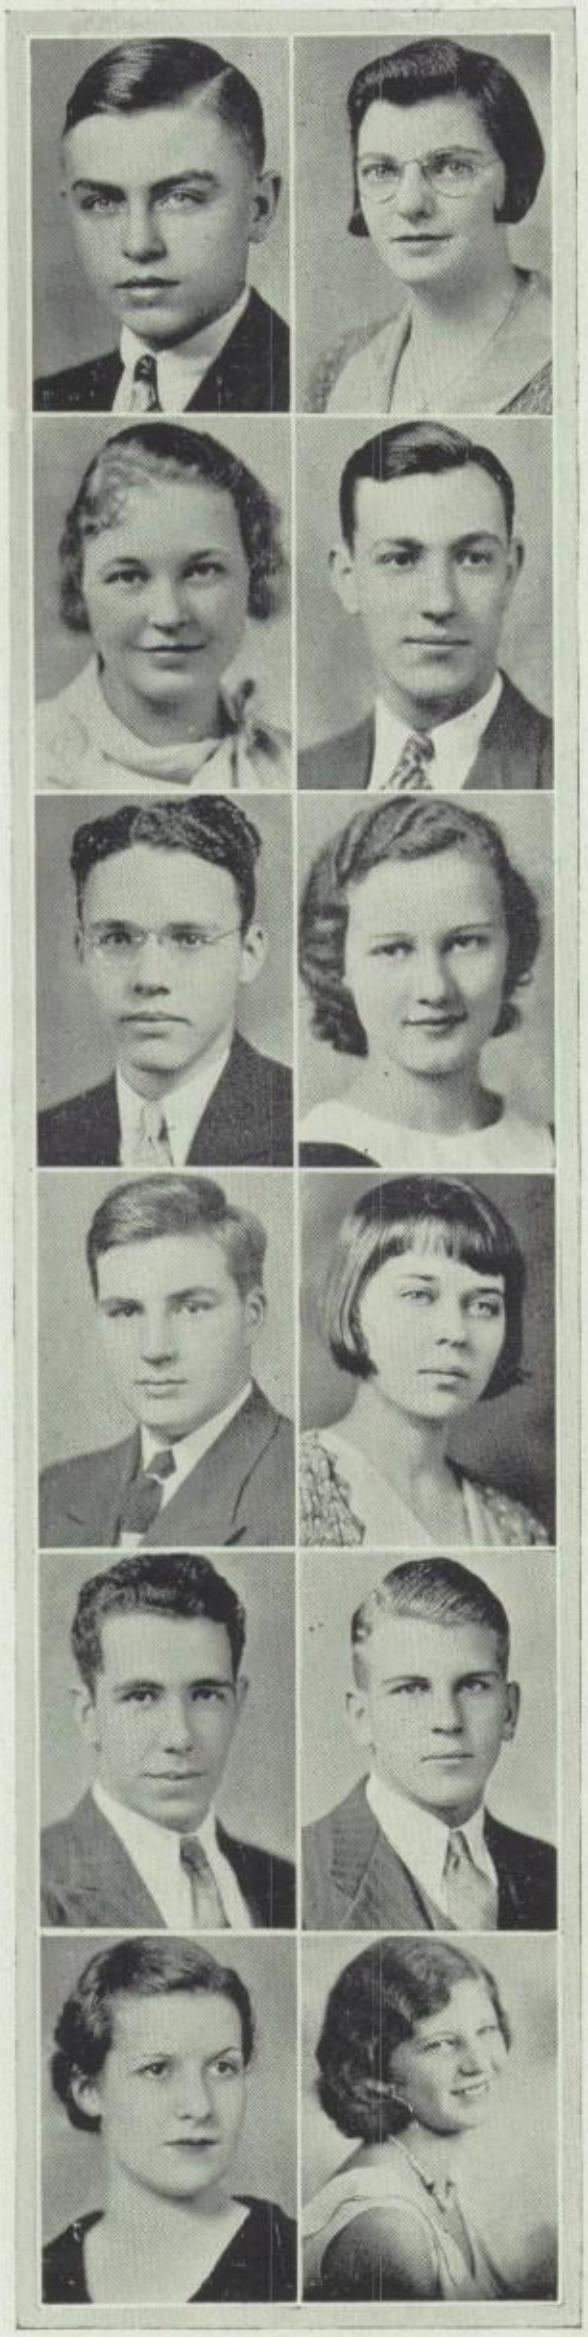
George has a quiet nature, but he has taken part in school activities. He played group basketball and belonged to Stamp Club, Booster Club, and Social Science Club.

George Hickey

George came to Peoria High this year from Spalding. Although he hasn't joined any of our clubs, he has a good time after school and will perhaps travel later on.

Betty Lee Hicks

Among other accomplishments, Betty is an artist. Her membership in the Art Club, English Club, and Jusendra has shown the interest she displayed in high school activities.



Delores Higgs

Good-natured and helpful in every way describes Delores to a "T". Just take a look at these activities: Charvice, G. A. A., Music and English Clubs, secretary of Commercial Club, "Sonia", and Crest assembly.

Herman H. Highfill

Herman is very industrious. As he works outside of school, he has not had time for very many activities here at P.H.S. He has, however, played advisory group basketball.

Dorothy Hoffmann

"Dot" was in "Sonia", and belonged to Jusendra, Music and English Clubs, and was secretary-treasurer of her advisory group. She was one of the singers sent to the Big 12 Conference.

Barbara June Holcombe

Barbara June has taken interest in many different activities, which include Jusendra, Senior Tri-S, G.A.A., Commercial, Speech, and English Clubs.

John Holtzman

John is an athlete in the true sense of the word. During his four years he has been active in football, track, and both group and class basketball. He was made honorary captain of our football team.

Ruth Holzinger

Ruth's quiet appearance belies her playful nature. She seems to find diversion with her friends after school hours, and has been a member of Jusendra and Commercial Club here at P.H.S.

Carl Horst

Carl belonged to Jusendra, Science and Math, and Speech Clubs. He was the secretary of his group, manager of group baseball team, and played group basketball.

Clifton A. Houghton

From Clifton's recitations in English class, we think he lives to discuss Shakespearean plays. But that's not all, for he also "plays" advisory basketball and baseball, and class basketball.

Clarin Howe

Besides being a magician of note, Clarin has devoted much time to group basketball, tennis, golf, and swimming, and occasionally rides "Old Dobbin" for a diversion of sport.

Warren Howeler

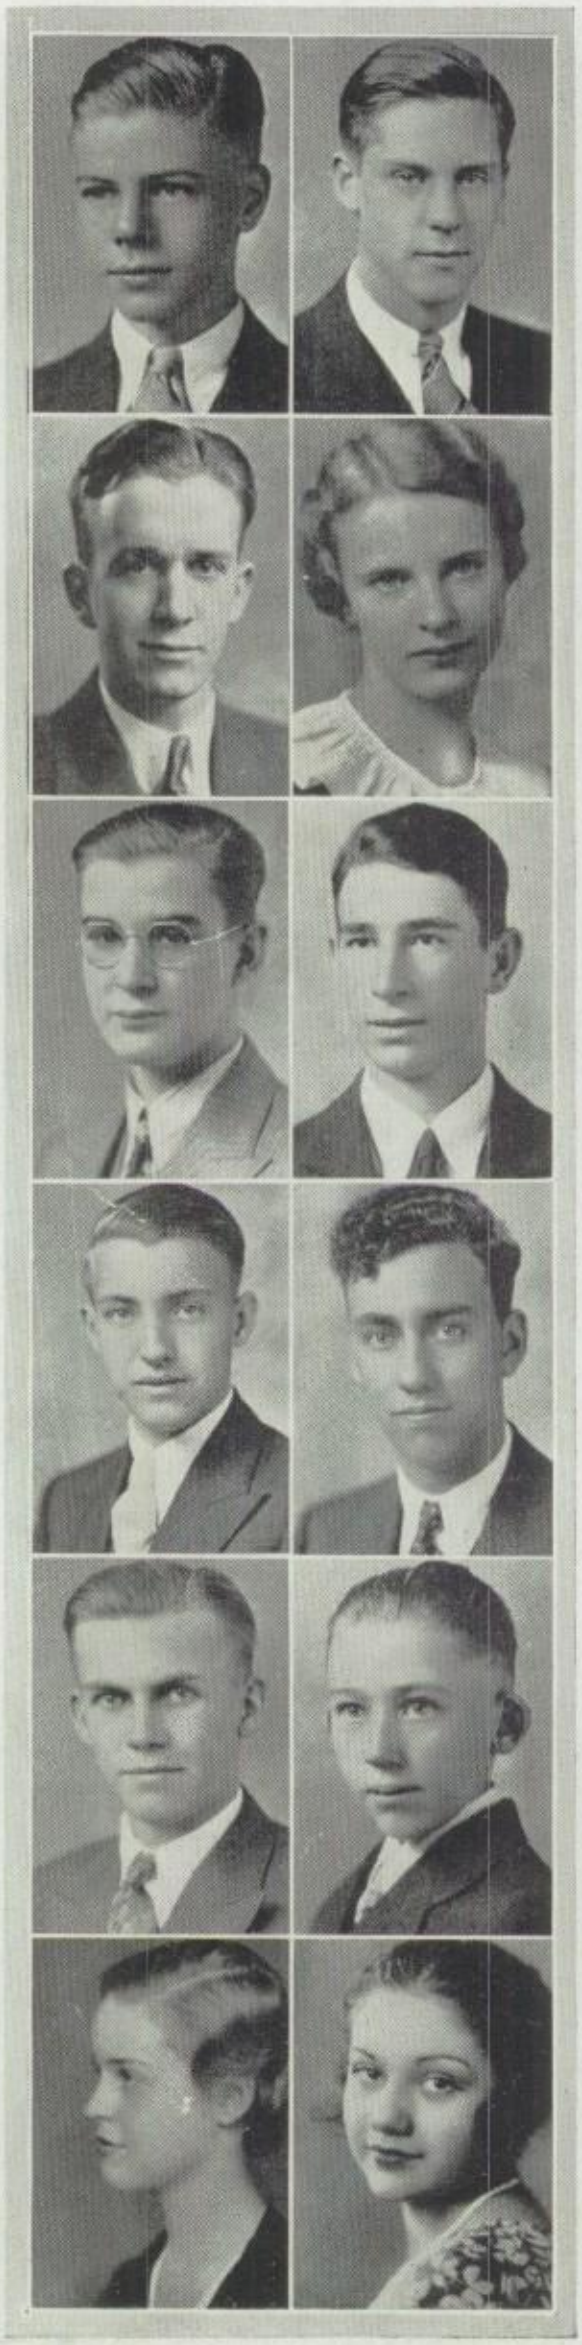
Warren is a good sport who writes sports for the Opinion. Homecraft Club, Lettermen's Club, Varsity football, intra-mural basketball and advisory group baseball held his interest at school.

Edward Hudgens

"Ed" is a very active student, having belonged to Jusendra, the Speech Club, Science and Math, the Spanish Club, and the Student Body Guard.

Mildred Hulsebus

Mildred has many activities. Her quiet but efficient help has been recognized and appreciated in the Opinion advertising, the Social Science Club, Jusendra, Senior Tri-S., the German and English Clubs.



Edwin Hurd

"Ed" is one of our likable classmates who wants his fun. He belonged to the Science and Math Club, the Astronomy Club, and played advisory group basketball.

Margaret M. Hutcherson

Margaret has many friends. Her quiet but faithful participation was appreciated in Jusendra, the French, Social Science, Archery and Junior Tri-S. Clubs. She also served as treasurer of her advisory group.

Lester J. Immel

"Les" has taken a big interest in our school paper. He belonged to the "Opinion" Club and was mailing manager of the Opinion. He is a man of few words.

William H. Inman

"Bill" has a "permanent" curl above a smiling face. He belonged to Promerito, helped on committees for Senior Class, Junior Prom, and tickets for "Sonia", and was president of his group.

Robert Jacobs

Rain or shine—"Bob" always rides his bicycle to school. He has been a member of three clubs; namely, Commercial, English, and Stamp Clubs.

Allegra Jeck

Allegra helped our Junior Prom assembly by her dancing. She was elected treasurer of her advisory group, and belonged to Jusendra, Speech, Spanish, and French Clubs.

Gladys Virginia Johnson

When we hear "peppy" and "pretty" we know Gladys is being mentioned. This happy, smiling girl was a member of Jusendra, G. A. A., the Speech, Home Economics, Commercial, and Kodak Clubs.

Ralph Johnson

Many of Ralph's associates know him as the history shark. He was active in football, Varsity track, and Bodyguard; and a member of the Science, Speech, and Jusendra Clubs.

Mary Jane Johnston

Mary Jane is lots of fun, and nothing ever escapes her notice. She has been a member of Jusendra and French Club here at Peoria High.

Dorothy Jones

"Dot" is beautiful but—not at all dumb. She was vice-president, and a banker of advisory groups, in Fashion Revue and member of Speech, French, and Art Clubs.

Gladys Jones

Gladys' liveliest interests have centered around basketball, dancing, and roller skating. So you can see she is peppy and also very jolly.

Jennie Elizabeth Keeling

Mirthful and clever is Jennie. Jusendra, Commercial, Speech, English, and Kodak Clubs will miss her familiar smile. Popular people always have many friends, and Jennie is no exception.

George Keirl

You've all seen George about the halls enjoying himself and getting a "kick" out of everything he sees. He took the Commercial Course. Good luck, George!

Louise Keller

"Louie" was greatly honored by the vice-presidency of the School, and was a Junior member of Student Council, secretary of Senior Tri-S, a member of Charvice and French Clubs.

Betty Kennedy

Betty is small, sweet, and neat. She is a member of Spanish Club, Stamp Club, Tri-S, Jusendra, Science and Math, and belongs to the Bodyguard.

Lucie Clark Killin

Lucie was elected into Charvice and National Honor. Her membership in the French, Spanish, and English Clubs proves that she is a linguist. She is also a member of Stamp Club.

Virginia Kinsey

Virginia is a charming girl. She was president and secretary of her advisory group, member of Jusendra, French, and Social Science Clubs, besides appearing in "Sonia".

Elwood Kinsinger

Elwood is an active student, having been vice-president and secretary of his group. He also belonged to the Big Twelve Combined Chorus and the Big Twelve Boys' Chorus.

Olive Kipling

In Olive's demure and steady way she never forgets old friends. At Peoria High she has been a member of Commercial, Home Economics, and Junior and Senior Tri-S Clubs.

Helen Kirkland

Helen is somebody's secretary-to-be. Perhaps it is Al's. Jusendra, Commercial Club, English Club, and Senior Tri-S will all miss this happy girl with the pleasant smile.

Helene Knickerbocker

Helen is always in a hurry, but she has a lot to do. The French Club, Jusendra, Senior Tri-S, Speech Club, and Glee Club were her activities.

Maxine Knuth

Maxine's quiet but interested participation in the various school clubs was appreciated. They were: Commercial, Senior Tri-S, Jusendra, German, and G. A. A. She was also a member of the Bodyguard.

Phil Kornhaus

Oh, these blondes! Phil has them all beat. He played Varsity football, and belonged to Lettermen's club and Spanish Club. He was in Chorus, too.

Jessie Bernice Kramer

Jessie, "Kate", and "Fran" are the "Three Musketeers". Jessie has been very active while in school, having participated in G. A. A., Booster and Commercial Clubs, Junior Tri-S, Jusendra, and "Sonia".

Budd Kramm

When Budd plays the piano, every girl loses her heart—to his playing. His activities include: golf, Fashion Revue pianist, Junior Prom Committee, Book Exchange, Art Club, and Music Club.

Pauline Louise Kreplin

Still waters do run deep. Pauline has aided German Club and Science and Math Club by her excellent help. We're sure she'll reach her goal in this world.

Anna Kuhles

Anna is a brunette whose mischievous eyes and modest air are a strange combination. Her activities have been Commercial and Science and Math Clubs.

Flora Kuhn

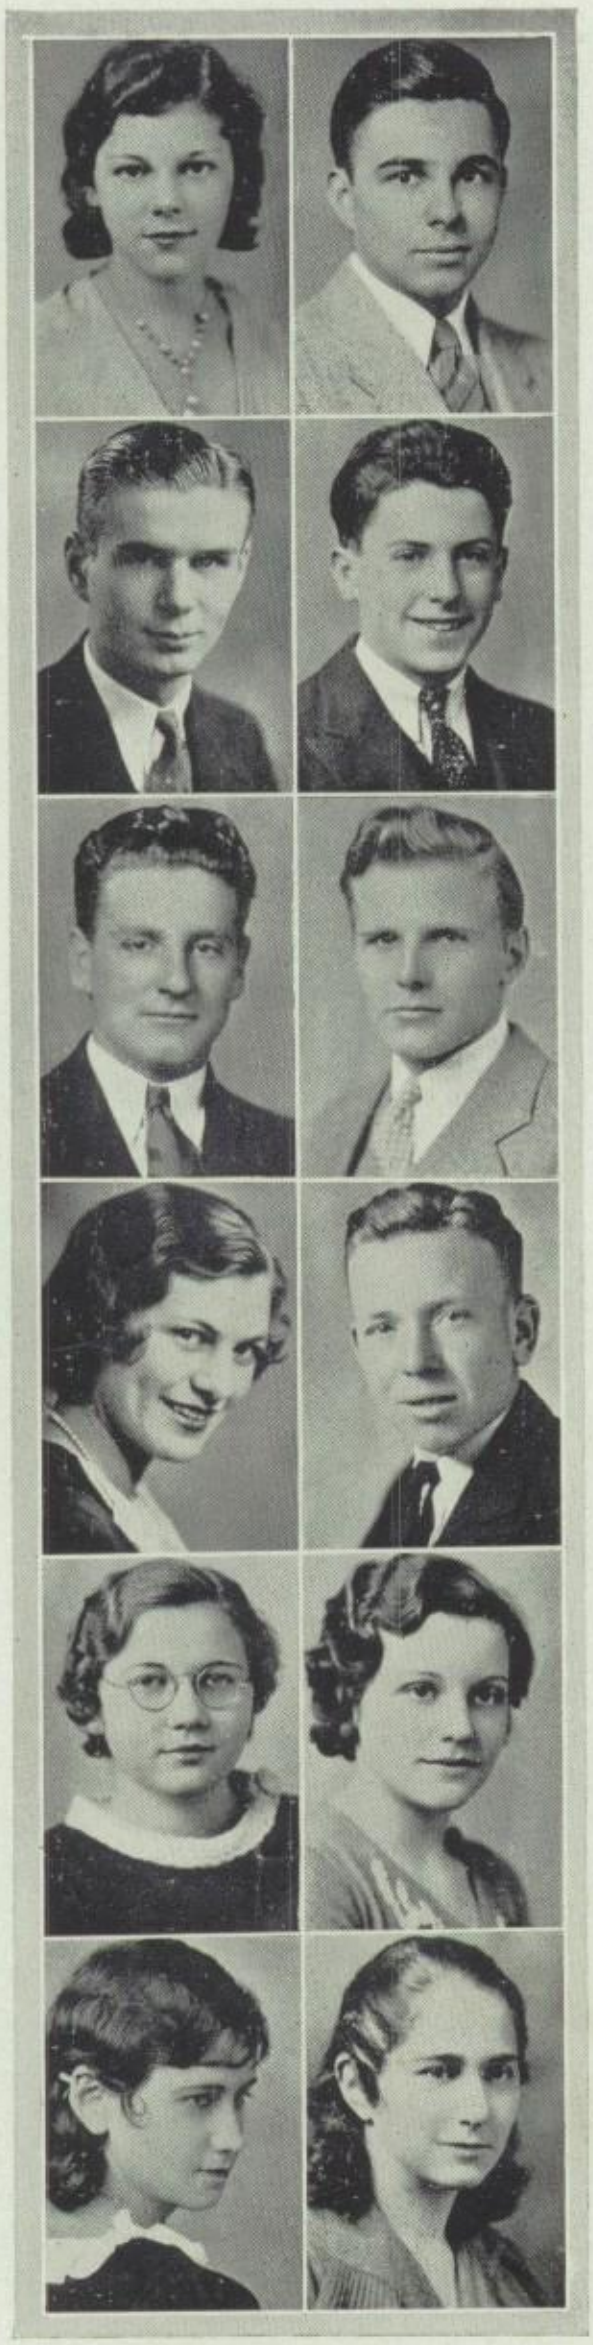
Flora's artistic ability has been seen by many. Her activities are numerous in the Art Club, Jusendra, English, Social Science and Music Clubs, of which she is a member.

William Kusz

"Bill" is a very athletic lad, interested in radio. He was vice-president of his group, played advisory basketball, and belonged to the Radio and Science and Math Clubs. He was on the Crest business staff.

Eleanor L. Kutzly

Eleanor came to us from Kingman High School. Since starting here, her activities have been Jusendra, German Club, English Club, Music Club, and Commercial Club.



Mary La Grow

Mary is quiet, reserved, and a true friend. You'll remember her dark eyes a long time. Her chief activity at Peoria High has been Commercial Club.

James Lambert

James is a retiring sort of fellow who likes to read and enjoys watching football games. He has taken all three sciences and is interested in aeronautics.

Ben Langjahr

Ben has been active on the Opinion staff by holding the position of assistant mailing manager. He likes sports such as baseball and football.

Geraldine G. Lea

Geraldine's participation in the Peoria High Band and Orchestra certainly spell "loyalty to the school". Besides tooting her trumpet she was a member of Tri-S, Jusendra, and G.A.A.

Verna C. Leach

Besides belonging to Charvice, Jusendra, and Music Clubs, Verna was in the chorus of the Big Twelve Conference, and our operetta, "Sonia". Her help on the Pathfinder staff was greatly appreciated.

Elinor Leas

"Modesty is an excellent virtue". Elinor has a big smile, sparkling eyes, and many friends who will miss her when she leaves Commercial Club.

Herbert B. Leedy

At school he is known by his friends as "Herb". Besides having a good time and enjoying sports outside of school, he is a member of Speech and Booster Clubs.

Don Legg

We shall have to find another humorist among the under-classmen when Don leaves school. The cross country, group baseball and basketball teams, Commercial and Speech Clubs appreciated his loyalty.

Roland G. Lemm

Roland goes in for sports in a big way, as his record on the cross country and track teams will show. He is also a member of the Lettermen's Club.

Lester Lindenfelser

Lester is sometimes serious, sometimes merry, but always friendly. He was a loyal helper on the Varsity football team and on his advisory group basketball team.

Betty Linton

Have you ever noticed Betty's sweet and smiling face? She was president, vice president, and treasurer of her advisory groups, and a member of Jusendra, Music Club, and Tri-S.

Betty Livingston

In a calm manner Betty has been a faithful worker on the Debating Team, in Jusendra, "Sonia", English Club, Bodyguard, and Speech Club.

Lowell Lohr

Someday you may hear about Lowell and a startling discovery that he has made with electricity, for this is his principal interest. He belonged to Manual Arts and Movie Makers' Clubs.

Charles Lorentz

Charles's opinions are quite worth while. His activities were intra-mural basketball and baseball, Commercial, Stamp, and Movie Makers' Clubs. It is always pleasant to have a quiet person around.

Genevieve Lowe

Genevieve is a very studious girl, and has the ambition of studying medicine. Since this is her first year here, she is a member of the Archery Club only. She came from Rock Island.

Carolyn Sawyer Lowry

As president of Charvice and Junior Tri-S, manager of the Book Exchange, and Activities Editor of Crest, "Carol" has been most reliable and willing.

Fred Luenz

Fred is jovial and popular. He is a member of Student Council, Glee Club, Jusendra, Science and Math, has played group basketball, and is president of his advisory group.

Russell L. Lulay

You find "Russ" mischievous, mirthful, and a member of Social Science, Manual Arts, and Intra-Mural Sports Clubs. He acted as group banker for four years.

Robert Luthy

"Bob" is whole-souled and hearty. He was in Varsity track, member of Student Council, Debating Team, Dramatic Honor Society, President of Sophomore Class, and in "Tower Room Mystery".

Robert H. Lynch

"Bob" is a good electrician and is on the stage crew. He belongs to Jusendra, Science and Math, the Band, Radio Club, and has played group basketball.

Betty McCaddon

Betty, a combination of sparkle and demureness, has a variety of activities, including: Jusendra, French Club, Science and Math Club, Social Science Club, Art Club, and English Club.

Sam McClugage

Sam sits with a smile on his face and lets the world go by. He was vice-president of his advisory group, belonged to Jusendra, and played group basketball and baseball.

Mary McConnell

Mary is a serious minded student who came from the Academy this year. Her activities here were French Club, English Club, Senior Tri-S, and Commercial Club.

Margaret McGill

Margaret, a pleasant student and classmate, has been active as advisory group banker and as a member of Jusendra, Tri-S, and English Clubs.

Adrian C. McInnis

P.H.S. is proud of its only licensed pilot. Adrian came here this year from Minneapolis, where he was a member of the Airplane Club, Glee Club, and on the Hockey Squad.

James McLaughlin

James may be quiet, but he's a good newspaper man. This year he's on the Opinion staff. He has played group basketball and belongs to Science and Math Club.

Paul McLaughlin

"Mirthful" describes "Mac" exactly. He was a member of the swimming team, Jusendra, Speech, Astronomy, and Science and Math Clubs, and he played on his advisory group basketball team.

Mary E. McMyn

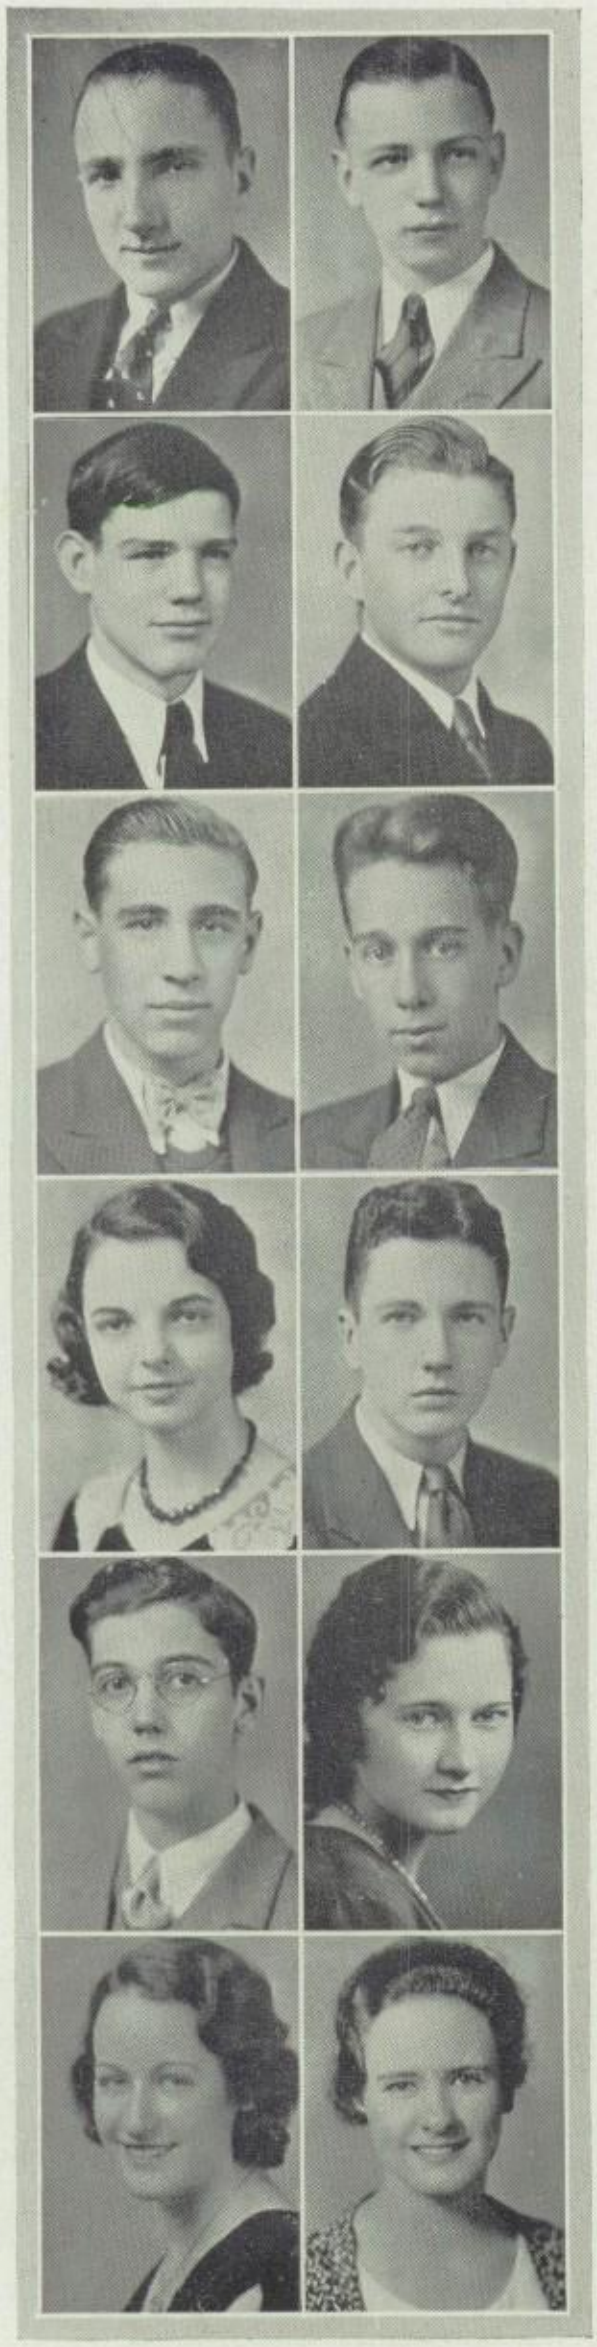
Mary is one of our reserved students who is very efficient in her work, especially in that of the Student Bodyguard and the Commercial Club, of which she is a member.

Herbert McSkimin

Here we have a future Einstein or Edison. Herbert is always making something. He is a member of the Physics prefects, Movie Crew, Promerito, Science and Math, Music, and Radio Clubs.

Elizabeth Anne McWherter

Fun, gaiety, pleasant companionship, all in one girl: that's "Liz". In Jusendra, Music, and Glee Clubs, Junior Tri-S, G.A.A., and "Sonia", she made many friends.



J. Clifford Marshall

Clifford is another boy who is interested in school clubs. He belonged to Spanish, Science and Math Club, English, and Kodak Clubs.

John W. Marshall

Jack is another one of our proud Seniors. He likes to hunt and fish. Doesn't care much for the ladies, but he is all right, anyway. His activities are advisory group basketball, Senior Hi-Y, Speech Club.

Paul R. Marshall

Even though Paul is reserved, he is a leader at school. He was vice-president of Senior Class, secretary-treasurer of Senior Hi-Y, group president and vice-president, member of Student Council.

William H. Marshall

Bill, one of our red heads, has a personality all his own. Besides taking part in group basketball, he was a member of the French Club.

Hazel I. Martin

Although Hazel is small in stature, she is big hearted. Besides having a good time outside of school, she belonged to Junior Tri-S, the Commercial and Home Economics Clubs at P.H.S.

Kathleen Martin

"Kitty" has done outstanding work in the Speech Department. She was president of Speech Club, her advisory group, a member of Dramatic Honor and Charvice, and Activities Editor of Crest.

Andrew Masters

Sincere — silent in class, but we wonder — can you supply the rest? Andrew did not join any clubs or take part in any sports, but we appreciate someone that is different.

Thomas T. Maston

"Tom" was a Captain on the Peoria High Bodyguard squad, a post which entitled him to one star on his badge. His other activities were French and Commercial Clubs.

Anna C. Matthew

"The only way to have a friend is to be one." Ann enjoys Jusendra, Senior Tri-S, Music Club, Art Club, Glee Club, and English Club.

Virginia Mead

Virginia entered Peoria High last year, being transferred from Muskegon, Michigan. Her activities were Jusendra, Social Science Club, Debating Club, and a member of the Opinion Staff.

Arthur F. Meisinger

Here's your Varsity baseball player, girls; but Arthur is only interested in the baseball part. His other interests are intra-mural basketball and the Lettermen's Club.

Josephine P. Meixner

"Jo" is a very agreeable girl who has filled her school life with a variety of activities, including "Sonia", Glee Club, Jusendra, Social Science, French, Music, and Swimming Clubs.

Dan Melody

You never catch Dan when he isn't amused at something. His activities were group basketball and baseball, football and track, and Speech and Social Science Clubs.

Cavalier N. Melvin

Girls, look at that dark wavy hair! Cavalier took part in "Sonia", belonged to Manual Arts and Music Clubs, and played group basketball and baseball.

Helen Mendenhall

Sincerity first, last, and always! Helen has been in the Commercial and Archery Clubs. Her broadmindedness and efficiency are appreciated in the class room.

Dolores Menssen

Dolores took the title role of "Sonia" in the operetta, for which she was elected to Dramatic Honor. Her other activities were: Charvice, French Club, and president of Mus[illegible] Club.

Janice Meredith

Janice is a valued member of Chai[illegible] vice. She has played in "The Haunted House" and "The Tower Room Mystery", and belongs to Jusendra, English, and French Clubs.

Delmar M. Messer

Delmar was transferred from Canton High and has gone to Central for two years. During those two years he has belonged to Science and Math, Spanish, Speech, Astronomy, and Jusendra Clubs.

James Milar

James is mischievous and lively. He played intra-mural basketball and baseball for three years. His other activities have been Spanish, Speech, and English Clubs, and group president.

David C. Miller

Dave is a leader that's full of fun. He was president of Junior and Senior Classes and Promerito, advertising manager of Opinion, and assistant manager of Book Exchange.

Gilbert Miller

Gilbert enjoys all kinds of sports, hunting included. At P.H.S. he belonged to the Speech Club, Manual Arts Club, and he played advisory basketball.

LeForrest Miller

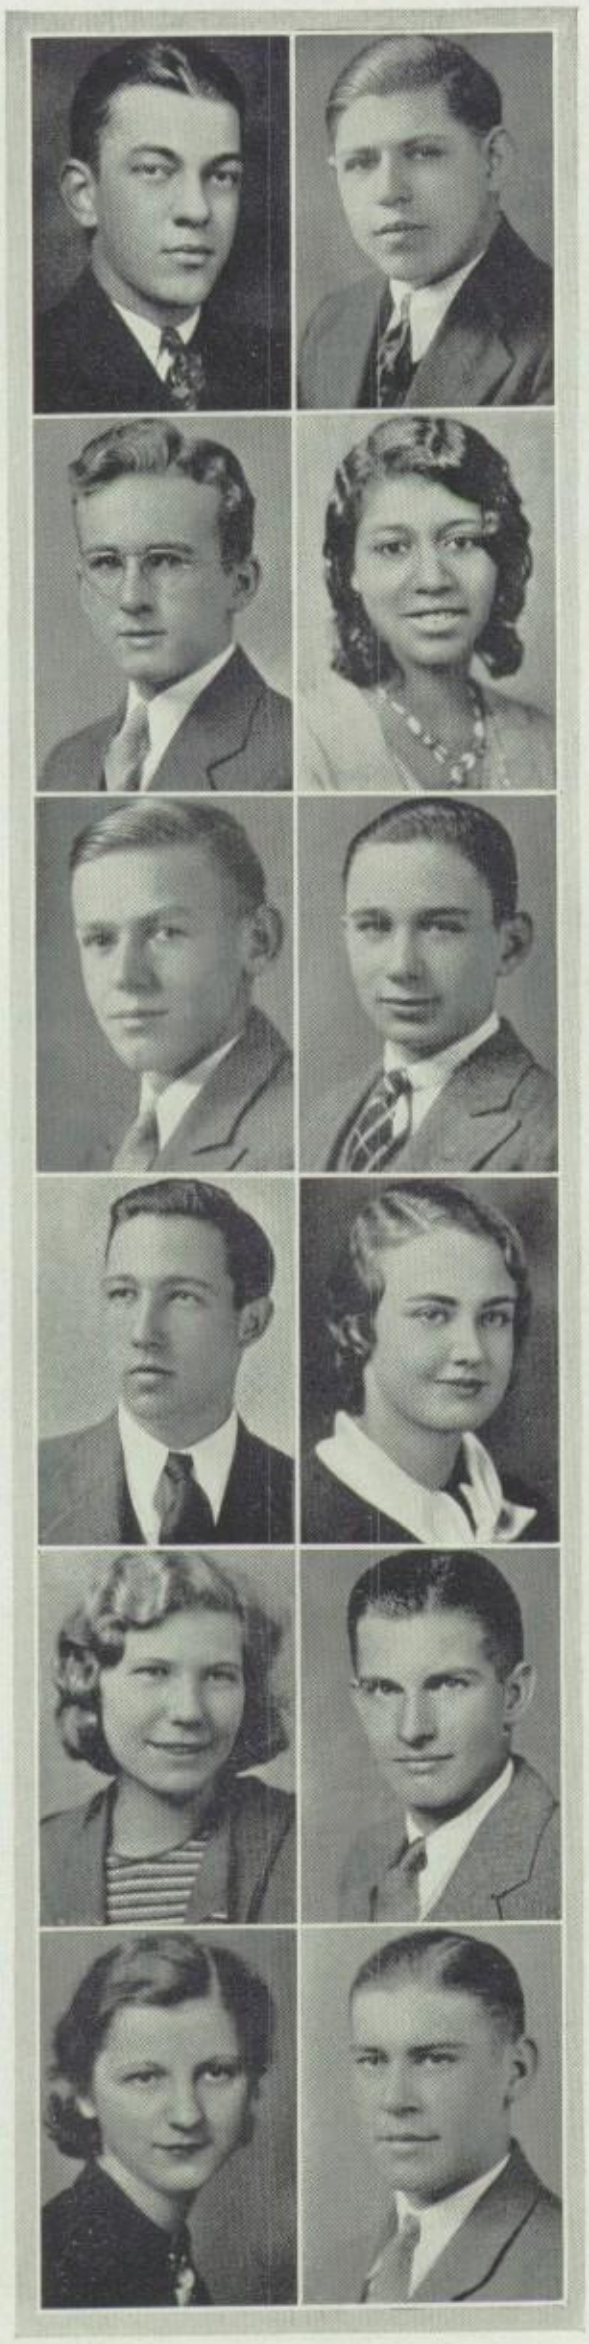
The part of Business Manager of the Crest has been given to LeForrest. With being on the swimming team and participating in advisory basketball and baseball, he is kept quite busy.

Marie Millinger

If you think I'm quiet, just get acquainted and see! G.A.A., Junior and Senior Tri-S, Commercial, Social Science, and Home Economics Clubs held Marie's interests at high school.

Cathryn Moffet

Cathryn is quiet, likable, and enjoys many a good time outside of school. Her activities here were Jusendra, Social Science, and G.A.A.



Theodore Molnar

Many people haven't heard that "Teddy" has had poetry published in the Literary Digest. He was president, vice-president, and secretary of his advisory groups and belonged to English and Commercial Clubs.

Roberta Neil Murphy

Very quietly she took her part in Science and Math Club, Speech Club, G.A.A., and English Club.

Edgar Myers

"Systematized knowledge of any one department of mind or matter" is Eddie's definition for science. He had the capacity for this kind of thinking in the Science and Math Club.

Naldah Myers

Naldah doesn't say much in school, but her activities show that she's popular. She was a member of Jusendra, French, English, and Science Clubs; Junior Prom committee, and vice-president of group.

Frank Nelson

Frank was transferred to Peoria in September from Detroit, Michigan, where he attended Cooley High. He had one activity here at Central, that being intra-mural basketball.

Howard Neptune

Howard is a great big, husky football player, and proved a real value to the team. He is a likable lad, and made many friends here during his stay.

Margaret Newhaus

Margaret's smile is a rare treat, and her quiet ways are soothing in the hustle and bustle around school. Commercial Club and Jusendra appreciated Margaret's presence.

John C. Newell

"Johnny" is apparently quiet and bashful, but—do you know him? He was in Varsity swimming, played group basketball and baseball, and was a member of French and Speech Clubs.

Charles Nichols

Charles is fond of sports and has a hobby for shop work. He played advisory group basketball and baseball, and belonged to the Archery Club.

Leo S. Nichols

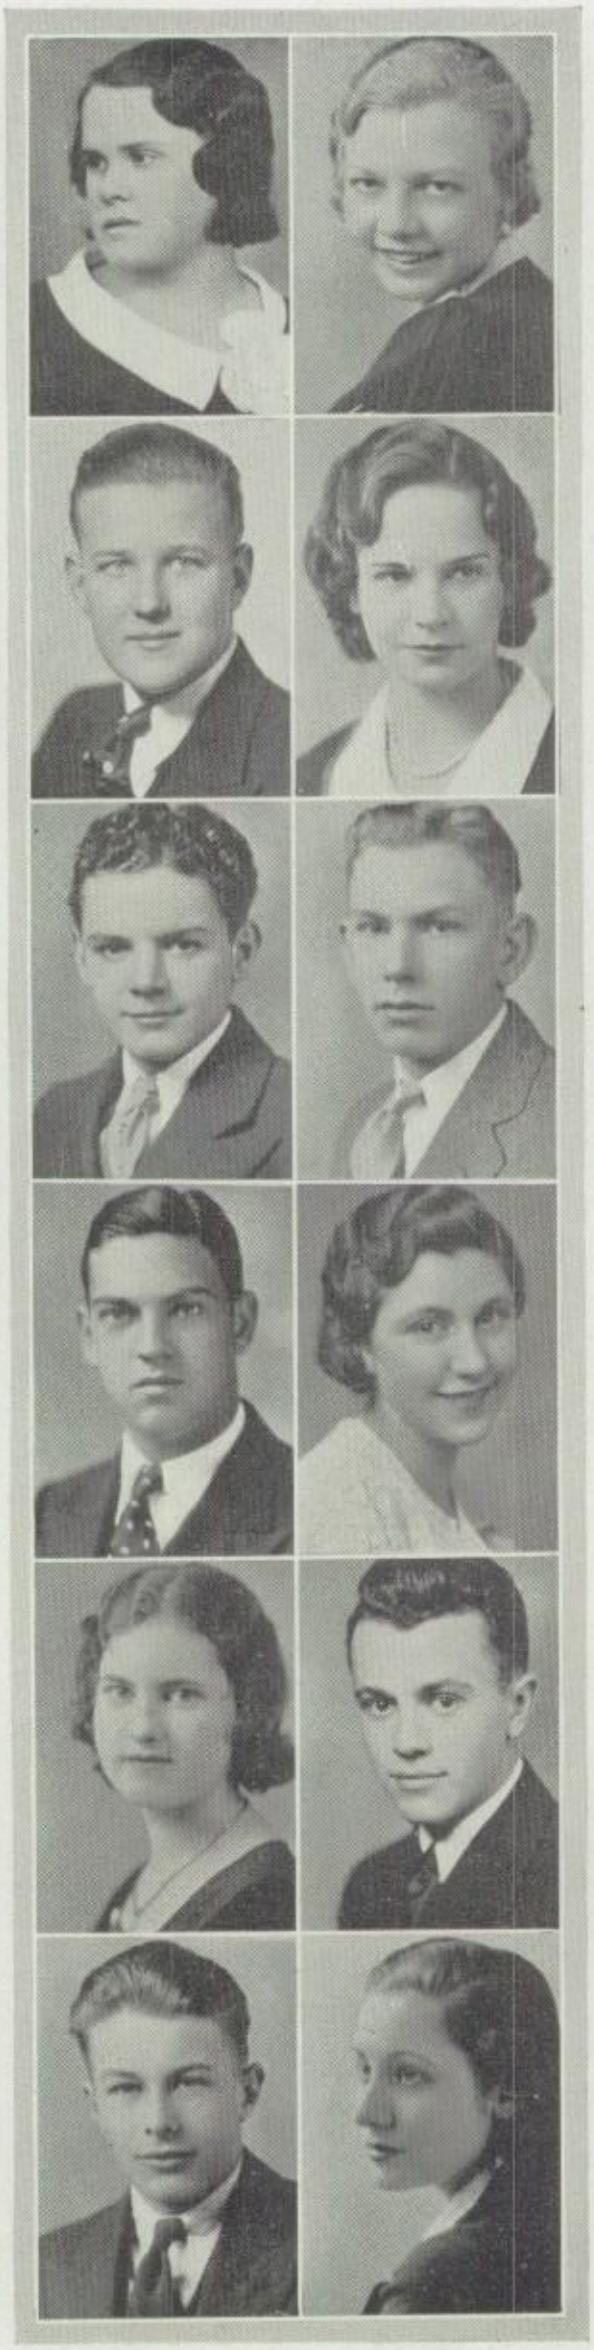
Oh, what a big boy is Leo! He played Varsity football, was in Lettermen's Club, did track work, and played class basketball, group basketball and baseball.

Alys Louise Nixon

Outside of school Alys enjoys dancing and sports of all kinds. In school, she has been a member of the Spanish Club and Commercial Club, and has been interested in athletics.

Earl C. Nordman

Earl has made a record on the Varsity track, group basketball, and baseball teams. He was captain of the cross-country team and a supporter of the Lettermen's Club.



Betty Norris

Betty is small, sweet, blonde, efficient! She belonged to Jusendra, English Club, Archery Club, Junior and Senior Tri-S, and was vice-president of an advisory group.

Dorothy May Norwood

"Dot" is a quiet girl if you don't know her. She was a member of English Club, German Club, Commercial Club, Music Club, Jusendra, and appeared in Fashion Revue.

Harry Nott

Harry is another Senior boy who likes athletics, having played advisory group baseball and basketball. Movie Makers' Club and Hi-Y complete his activities.

Mary Lou Novakow

Mary Lou, here, is small, unobtrusive, and oh, so quiet! She was a member of Jusendra and the Commercial Clubs, but preferred a good time out of school.

Edward Oakley

"Ted" is mischievous and jovial. He was on the golf team; in group basketball, football, and was a member of Jusendra and Radio Clubs.

Lillian Off

We all love "Lil's" poems and her capricious ways. Lil was president of both her Freshman and Sophomore advisory groups, and belonged to Art, English and Social Science Clubs.

Margaret E. Ogden

Margaret appears to be very quiet, but if you know her she is loads of fun. Her activities are: "Sonia", Music Club, English Club, Swimming Club, and Spanish Club.

Arthur L. Perham

Everyone has enjoyed Arthur's singing, especially when he sang in the Sophomore Assembly, and at the Junior Prom. He was vice-president of the Art Club and was a prefect.

Paul Peters

"Pete" has been one of our star Varsity football players for two years, and a member of the Lettermen's Club. The football crowd could always recognize him by his blonde curls, and his fine playing.

Hanna Peterson

Hanna is very athletic, for she belongs to G.A.A. Maybe she'll be a second Babe Didrikson:—you never can tell. She is a member of the Commercial Club.

Howard C. Pettett

"Pee Wee" is helpful and cheerful, and belongs to Promerito and Jusendra. He played in "Daddies" and was in Student Council, swimming team and group basketball.

William Pinnell

"Bill" likes dancing, coaching plays, and hopes to be a producer some day. He belonged to Jusendra, Speech, and Kodak Clubs, and was a Jusendra representative in his freshman year.

Merle Plack

Although Merle has not gone in for many activities, he has spent most of his time with advisory group basketball and advisory group baseball.

Ethel I. Porter

Ethel is happy, reserved, and has the right outlook on life. Her activities have been Jusendra, Student Bodyguard, Home Economics, Speech Club, and English Club.

Lois Evelyn Porter

Since Lois was a member of G.A.A. she is interested in athletics of all kinds, including the football and basketball games at Peoria High School.

Russell E. Porter

Russell is one of P.H.S.'s short, dignified boys. He has been very faithful and helpful to Jusendra and the Bodyguard, and his advisory group basketball team.

Mary Potter

Red hair and freckles, but who could be more charming than Mary? She is a member of the French, Speech, English, Social Science, and Science and Math Clubs—Jusendra, too!

Shirley Potter

Shirley has a sunny disposition and wins all as her friends. She made Dramatic Honor for her work in "Daddies" and since then, took a leading part in the operetta "Sonia". She belonged to Glee Club.

Gilbert Powley

Gilbert is interested in sports! He played on his advisory group basketball team and in intra-mural basketball. The Speech Club and the Movie Club are his other activities.

Gladys Proctor

Gladys is calm and retiring, and keeps her own counsel. She has belonged to G.A.A. at school, but she finds her pals and good times outside of school.

Erwin Prose

Hot tempers do not always come with red hair. Erwin's activities are advisory group vice-president, a member of Commercial Club, and a participant in group baseball and basketball teams.

Dick Pursifull

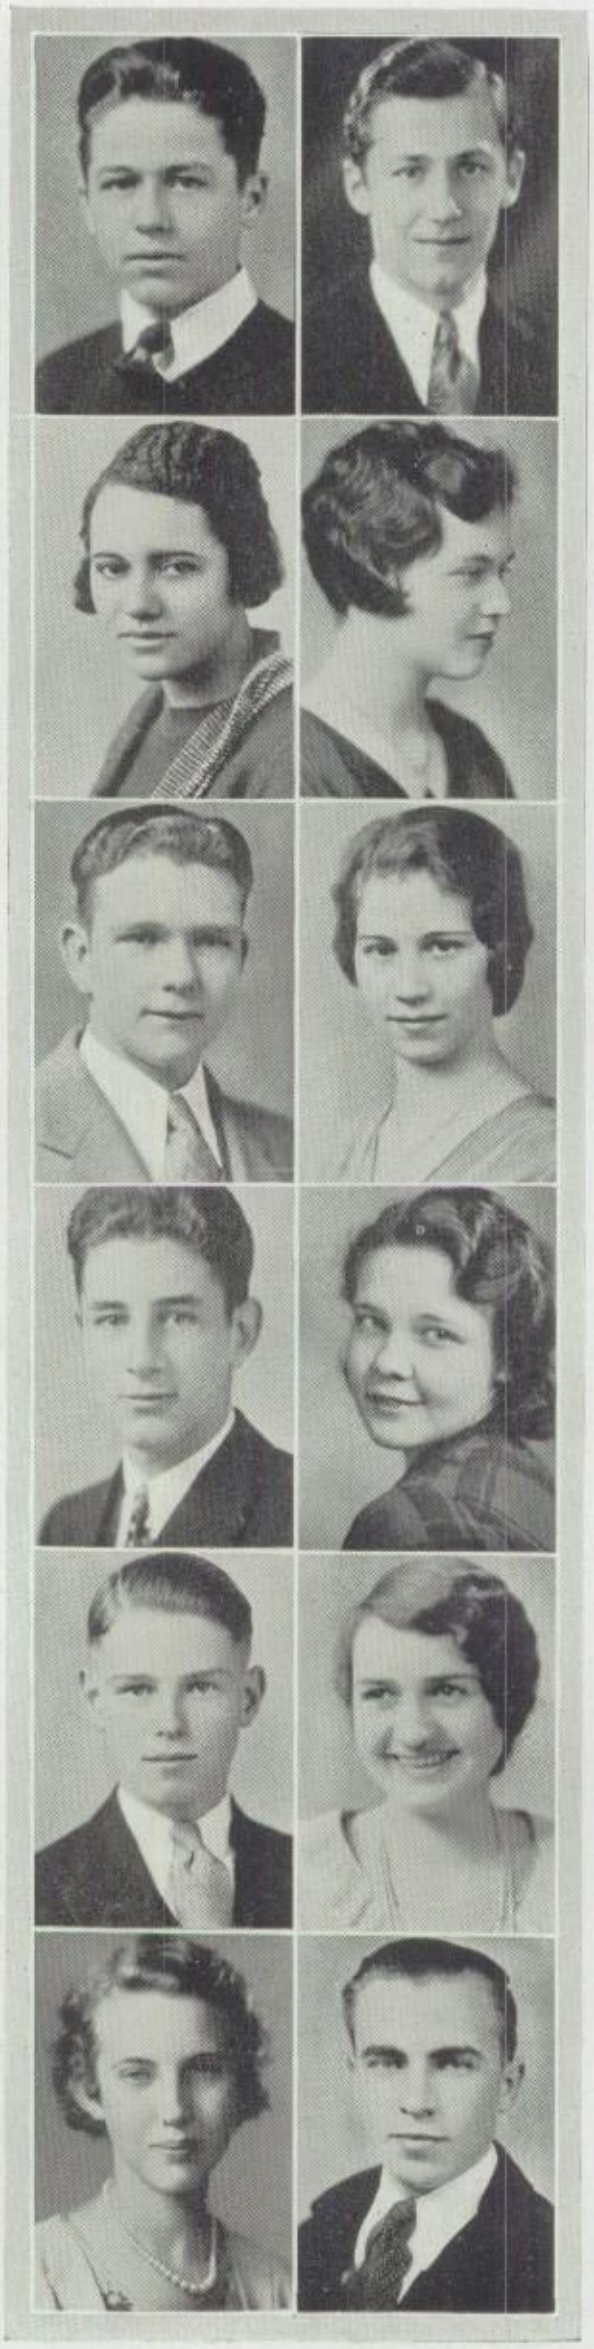
As you remember, Dick was the successful leading man in "Sonia", and from that, gained election into Dramatic Honor. His other activities were Promerito, Science and Math, and Archery Clubs.

Jim Rafferty

Jim is ready with fun and a grin most any time. He was a member of Jusendra, was a group banker and played group basketball and baseball.

Eleanore Rainey

Eleanore is quiet, but always ready to do whatever she can to help. She was a member of Jusendra, the English Club, and the Spanish Club.



Alfred H. Rapp

"Al" is capable in everything with no exceptions. His brotherly ways are shown as president of Commercial Club, twice group president, and an athlete on the group baseball and basketball teams.

Florence Rathbun

Florence is full of pep and ideas. She was a member of G.A.A., Social Science and Home Economics Clubs, and treasurer of an advisory group.

Margaret Rauchschwalbe

Margaret has found much pleasure in school clubs. She belonged to Jusendra, Junior Tri-S, Commercial, German, Stamp, and English Clubs, and she took part in Peoria High's Fashion Revue.

Rosemary Read

Rosemary is attractive and graceful. She participated in the 1931 Fashion Revue here at Peoria High. Her other activities were Junior Tri-S and Jusendra.

Mary Irene Redfield

After you get to know Mary Irene, you can understand her apparent reticence, and realize she is a charming person. Commercial Club was her chief activity.

Orville Reeves

Orville peddles his papers and minds his own business. He likes chemistry even though it means a lot of concentration and experimental work in the laboratory.

Gene Reid

Gene was vice-president of Speech Club; secretary and charter member of National Forensic. She was in "Haunted House" and "Daddies". She won three prizes in state contests, and received Degree of Distinction in National Forensic League.

Geraldine Reinbauch

Geraldine came from Kingman and since she has taken Journalism, she has become quite interested in it. She has had some of her articles published in our Opinion.

May Rickena

May's pretty curly hair and sunny smile have won for her many good friends in the Commercial Club, G.A.A., and the Home Economics Club.

Evelyn Riegel

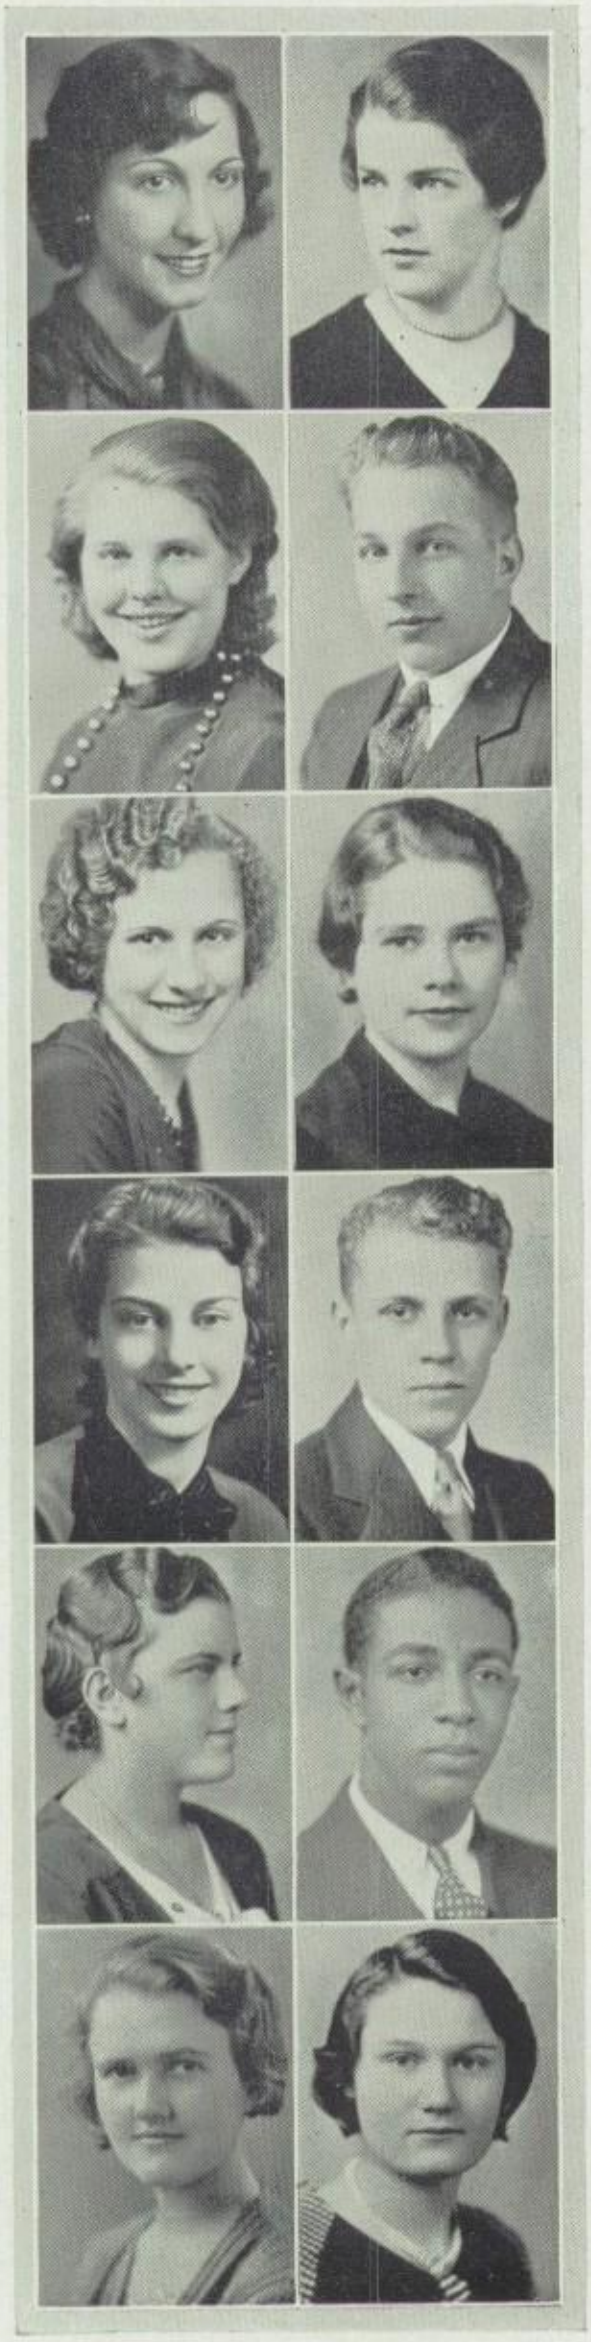
Evelyn is one of our feminine athletes! She has served as president and vice-president of G.A.A., as secretary-treasurer of the Archery Club, and was in the Spanish Club and Junior Tri-S.

Helen Ristic

Helen is industrious and kind. She was interested in Commercial Club, Music Club, Glee Club, Home Economics Club, and took part in "Sonia".

Betty Roscine Robinson

As Editor-in-chief of the 1933 Crest, "Betz" has proved very efficient and shown originality and dependability. Other memberships were: Student Council, Forensic League, Charvice, Quill and Scroll.



Isabelle Roby

Isabelle is a versatile and charming person. She belonged to French, Spanish, and Social Science Clubs; and was president of Freshman advisory, banker of Sophomore advisory, and secretary of Junior advisory.

Kenneth J. Roger

As you don't hear Kenny very often, you can't tell what he is thinking. Much of his spare time is spent playing tennis, and his activities were Commercial and Speech Clubs.

Elizabeth Jane Roper

"Izzie" is well liked by everyone. She belonged to Student Council, National Honor, was vice-president of Charvice, secretary of Junior Class, a member of Quill and Scroll, and was vice-president of National Forensic League.

Bill Rose

The big Band President from Indiana is Bill Rose. Being musically inclined, he was in the school orchestra and Music Club, and also belonged to the Science and Math Club.

Clyde Rose, Jr.

Clyde was a crooner in one of our assemblies. While here at Peoria High he has been in advisory group basketball, class basketball, and on the track team.

Florence Rumboldt

Florence enjoys a good time with her friends outside of school. She likes music, reading, and since she is taking the Commercial Course she plans to be a stenographer.

Carolyn Rutledge

If anyone needs help, Carolyn is right there to help. She belonged to Charvice, Bodyguard, English, Social Science, Home Economics Clubs, and Junior Tri-S.

Marjorie Sanford

Marjorie is blond and popular, and had the following activities: Astronomy Study Group, Speech Club, Jusendra, Science and Math, Bodyguard-Captain, and Spanish Club.

Francis Schafer

Francis is pleasant to everyone and liked by all, for she's very sweet. The clubs enjoying her membership were Jusendra, Speech Club, and English Club.

Earl Scherff

The "artist" Scherff is popular with everyone; he was vice-president and banker of his advisory group and belonged to Jusendra, Music, Art, and Science and Math Clubs.

William Scherff

"Bill", with his mischievous smiles, has won many friends. He belonged to Science and Math Club, and to the Radio Club, where he indulged his interest in radio.

Elizabeth Schlipf

Elizabeth is big-hearted and helpful. She has served willingly in Junior Red Cross, as treasurer and banker for four years in her group, and in Jusendra, English, and German Clubs.

Imogene Schott

Since Imogene likes so many different things, it is easy to make her acquaintance. She was in "Sonia", and a member of Jusendra, Commercial Club, English Club, and secretary of G.A.A.

Alice Schriver

Alice has served as treasurer of the National Forensic League, and secretary of Speech Club. She was also a member of Charvice, Social Science, and the Debating Team, and Calendar Editor of the Crest.

Bonnie J. Schweitzer

With a mischievous look and a gay smile, Bonnie strolls down the halls of dear old Central. Bonnie belonged to Glee Club and Jusendra, and also Home Economics Club.

Albert Schwenk

"Al" is on the spot when it comes to getting good grades. He belonged to the Commercial Club, Manual Arts Club, and Jusendra, and acted as group banker.

Mildred E. Seaman

Mildred has helped the school in many ways and always performed her duties faithfully. She served as Prefect and belonged to Commercial Club.

Clifford Shaklee

Clifford's many friends know all about the pranks he can play on them. He was a member of Commercial, English, and Homecraft Clubs, and played group basketball and baseball.

William Shanemeyer

If you see a happy face and a care-free boy coming down the halls, it's sure to be Bill Shanemeyer. He was in Promerito and secretary of our Senior Class.

Charles Shemel

Charles is a big, dark, quiet athlete. He is girl-shy, but the boys like him. He has been group vice-president and played in class basketball.

William Shepard

"Bill" has done good work in Peoria High, and his interest in the success of our sports activities has been most commendable. Let us profit by his example.

Alice Short

Alice came from Norwood, Illinois, and since she came to Peoria High School she has joined the following clubs: Jusendra, Kodak, Home Economics, and Commercial.

Arnold F. Siegfried

"Arnie", as he is known to his friends, is a very ambitious lad with an interesting personality. He is interested in manual arts and belonged to the Art Club.

Margaret Siegle

"Marg", dainty and petite, was a leader in her advisory groups, in which she was secretary and vice-president. She also belonged to Jusendra and French Club, taking an active part in each organization.

Charles Singer

Although Charles is quiet, he has interests that few people know about. He belonged to the Stamp Club, enjoys all kinds of sports, and plans to study medicine.

Ramon Slocum

Ramon is one of these handsome boys who makes girls like dark complexions, and he has a nice smile, too! He was a member of Jusendra and Archery Clubs.

May Smith

May's a good natured, happy girl who enjoyed Jusendra, Commercial Club, and G.A.A. She was treasurer of Home Economics and advisory group secretary.

Elizabeth Jeanette Somers

Elizabeth's pleasant manner has won her many friends in both her classes and her clubs, which included Junior Tri-S, Art Club, and Home Economics Club.

Betty Sorrell

Betty enjoys our high school athletics and herself belonged to G.A.A. She was also president and vice-president of her groups, and a member of Art, Home Economics and Social Science Clubs.

Franklin M. Spalding

Franklin entered P. H. S. in his sophomore year, and has been a very active student ever since. He had a part in "Green Stockings", and belonged to Jusendra, Speech, and Science Clubs.

Eleanor Spears

Eleanor is one of our most studious classmates. In addition, her activities outside of class were: Charvice, secretary of English Club, president of advisory group, "Sonia", French Club, and Senior Tri-S.

John Sprecher

John's hobby is watching games and participating in them. He was a member of the Science, French, and Speech Clubs, and played intra-mural basketball, advisory baseball and basketball.

Rosemary Springer

Rosemary enjoys sports and dancing, and sees most of her pals outside of school. She has been a member of Jusendra, Commercial Club, G.A.A., Tri-S., and the Home Economics Club.

Sterling Springston

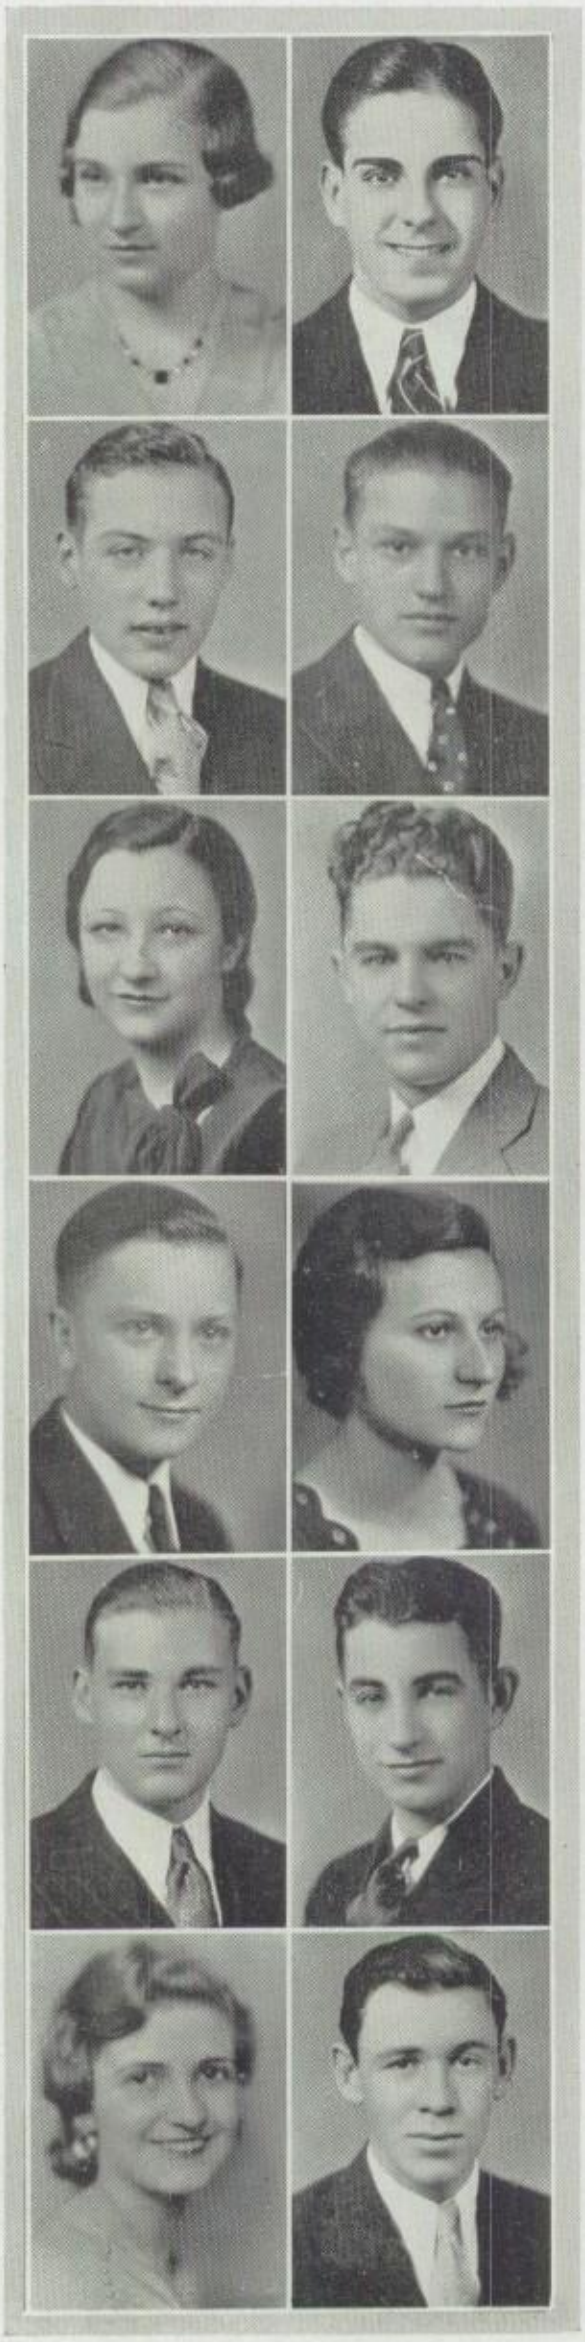
Electrical science, chemistry, and physics are interesting backgrounds of study for radio investigation; and Sterling has found pleasure in this branch of learning. Here's to his success!

Herbert W. Staley

Making ornamental pieces of furniture occupies lots of "Herb's" time, and it really is his hobby. He was a member of the Manual Arts Club and Stamp Club.

Louise Stanard

Louise is both quiet and efficient. Her powers have been utilized in class, as group president, in Jusendra, in Junior Red Cross, and Commercial Club.



Jack Stanley

Here's a popular vocalist P.H.S. will miss. Jack showed interest in Jusendra, Speech, and Spanish Clubs. He was vice-president of Music Club, group president, and won district Atwater-Kent Contest.

William Starr

Bill is a retiring sort of fellow who studies hard, and, being musically inclined, is in the Band. He played intra-mural and group basketball and belonged to Manual Arts Club.

Jack Starry

Jack has accomplished much in the field of sports. He was on the Freshman Class basketball team, captain of advisory group basketball, freshman and sophomore years; and on a group baseball team.

Caula Stavropoulos

Caula is a hard-working student who quietly took her place in English Club, "Sonia", French Club, Junior Tri-S, Glee Club, and Jusendra.

Lee Stephens

Although Lee likes athletics of all kinds, his chief interest is manual arts. He was president of the Manual Arts Club, and his buffet won first place at the State Fair.

Herschel Stilley

Anytime Herschel has a spare moment, he starts for the woods with his gun. At P.H.S. he belonged to Manual Arts Club, and played group basketball and spring football.

Edward Stonebock

"Ed" has made a keen record in athletics. He played Varsity basketball, class basketball, football, and intra-mural basketball, besides being in the Lettermen's Club and Archery Club.

Oscar Stringer

Oscar S. Stringer

Although Oscar was studious and quiet, he had many activities. He was a member of the following: Home Craft, Commercial, Manual Arts, and Science and Math Clubs; and played group basketball.

Robert Strubhar

Peoria High couldn't have had a better athletic manager than "Bob" was. His other activities were: Promerito, Science and Math Club, group president, class and group basketball.

Elinor Studer

Elinor has efficiently and willingly acted as group president, group secretary, group treasurer, and as a member of Jusendra, Commercial Club, and English Club.

Floyd Sturdy

Floyd is one of those good-looking blondes with curly hair and a pleasing smile. The only activity that he participated in was Sophomore class basketball.

Flora Rosella Stutzman

Flora has directed her interests athletically by joining G. A. A. and Girls' Archery Club. Her other activities have been Jusendra, Speech Club, Debating Club, and French Club.

Harold Stutzman

As a member of the Commercial Club, Harold has shown real ability. He was also associated with the Music Club, Archery Club, and advisory basketball.

Alexander Sutter

"Alex" is a very business-like and studious fellow. He is interested in many different things, a characteristic which makes a person well-liked among his classmates and friends.

Betty Sutton

Betty is small, but takes a big interest in the activities of our Jusendra Club, Home Economics Club, Kodak Club, and Speech Club at Peoria High.

Louise Swanson

Louise may be quiet and studious, but she gets excellent results. Her activities are: Archery, Jusendra, Junior Tri-S, Student Bodyguard, and Social Science Club.

Verna May Sweeney

Verna is a tiny and good-natured classmate. Her sweet smile will be remembered by all of those who knew her. She was active in Jusendra and Commercial Club.

John Taylor

"Johnny" was one of our big track men. He was advisory banker and assistant home-room banker. He belonged to Jusendra, Science and Math, and played advisory basketball.

Mabel Taylor

Mabel's pretty auburn locks are envied by many. Jusendra, the Music Club, Commercial Club, Junior Tri-S, and the English and Spanish Clubs were glad to have her for a member.

Robert F. Taylor

"Bob" is the picture of health, to judge by his rosy complexion. He was treasurer of Student Council and French Club, vice-president of Jusendra, played Varsity tennis and was in "The Haunted House."

Howard M. Teeter

Howard was one of the most brilliant students of Central. His activities were: National Honor, Promerito, Orchestra, president of Science Club, and vice-president of French Club.

Armella Tennant

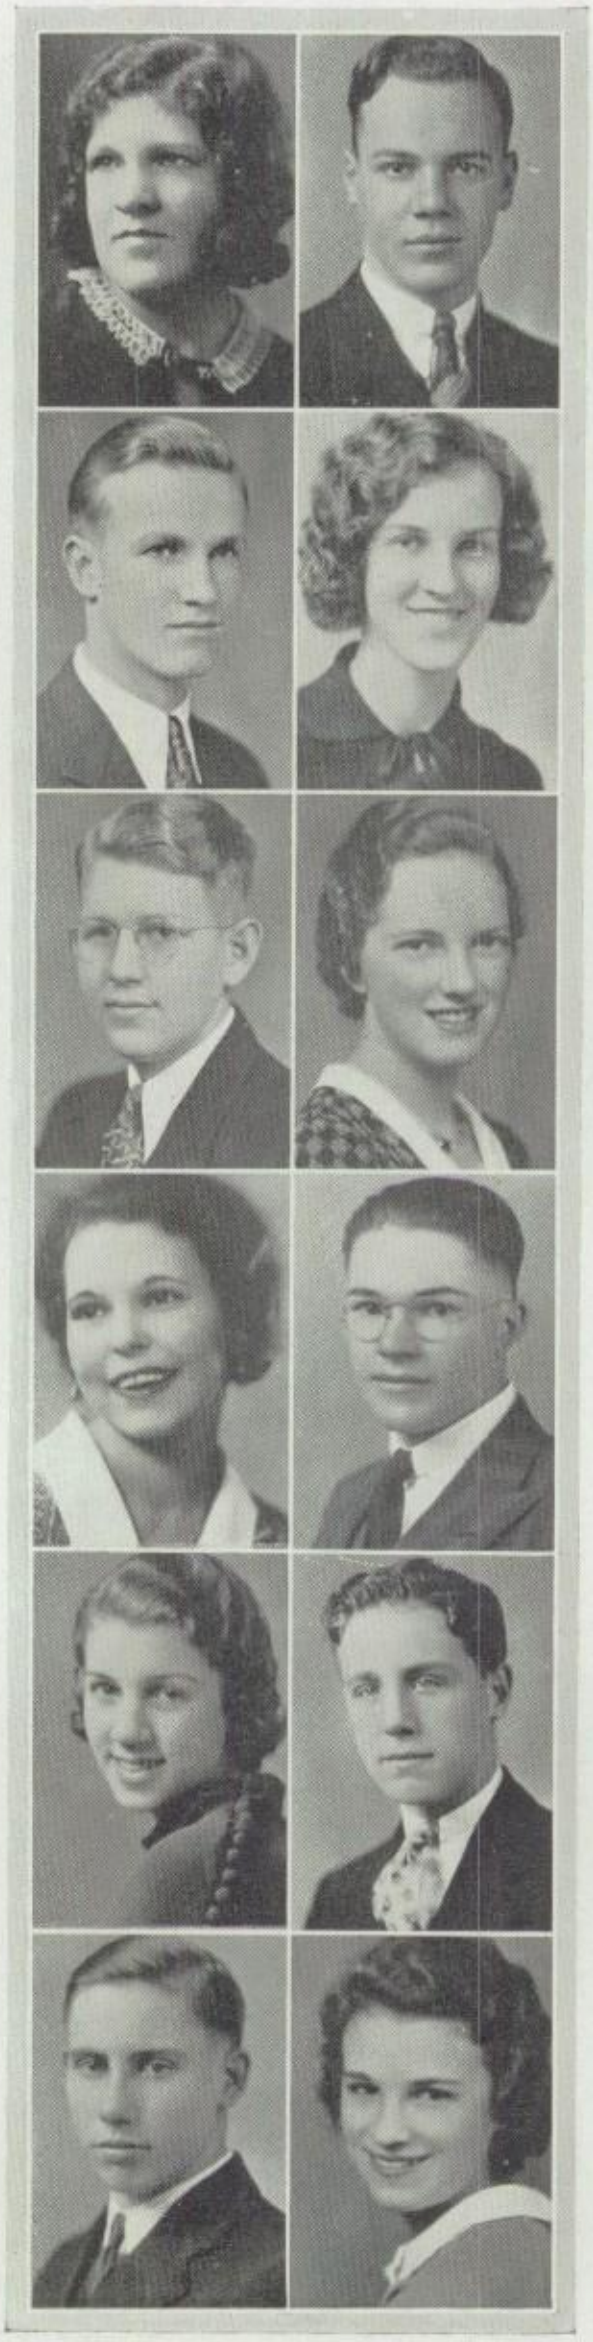
Armella is a gracious and sparkling brunette. She has been advisory group secretary, advisory group vice-president, and a member of Jusendra.

Vivian Thalberg

Vivian is tall, quiet, and shy. She did well as secretary of Social Science Club and was a member of Jusendra, English Club, Junior Tri-S, and Spanish Club.

Fred J. Thomson

Fred, an ambitious, loyal student, is one of the most active. He belonged to the Geology Group, Manual Arts Club, and was a member of track and advisory basketball teams.



Warren Irving Thomson

Warren is quiet but popular. He was president of Radio Club, vice-president of Junior Class, Captain of Prefects, and a member of Science and Math, Manual Arts, and Kodak Clubs.

Florence Thornburg

"She speaks, behaves, and acts just as a lady ought to." Florence's pleasant smile will be remembered in Commercial Club and Jusendra.

Roberta Tippett

"Bobby" has a sweet disposition and curly hair. As president and treasurer of advisory groups, member of Social Science, Jusendra, Science and Math, and English Clubs she held her place.

Dale W. Todd

Dale is another interesting boy who has a personality all his own. He likes cabinet making and will probably go on with this work later. He served as a prefect.

Howard Trenton

Howard is interested in athletics. He played advisory group basketball, intra-mural basketball, and advisory group baseball, besides being a member of Spanish, and Science and Math Clubs.

Helen V. Truesdale

"Truesie" is an all-Central girl, for she is pretty, popular, and pleasing; belonged to Charvice, president of Dramatic Honor, vice-president Jusendra; played in "The Haunted House", "Sonia", "Tower Room Mystery".

Howard S. Turnbull

If you want some good help, get Howard. He was a member of Student Council, Promerito, Bodyguard, Manual Arts Club, Hi-Y, and was in our operetta, "Sonia".

Wuanita Turnquist

Wuanita is a reliable girl who has acted as group secretary and banker. Her other activities have been Jusendra, Commercial Club, Home Economics Club, and 1931 Fashion Revue.

Phyllis Isabelle Ulrich

Isabelle is a merry and good-natured girl. Her activities were Jusendra, Commercial Club, English Club, Music Club, Home Economics, and secretary of her advisory group.

Charles Vance

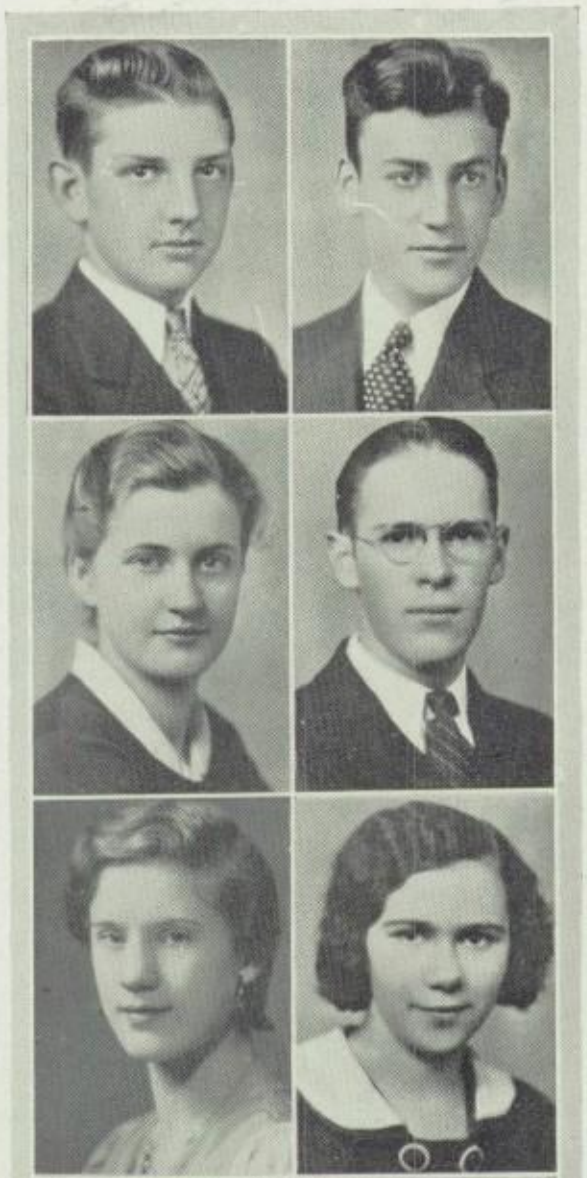
"Chuck" certainly knows the tricks of every trade. His activities are as follows: "The Haunted House", treasurer of Senior Class, Dramatic Honor Society, Athletic Editor of Crest, French and Speech Clubs.

Jack Van Sant

Jack is that active, modest fellow who played on the Varsity football team. His other activities were Social Science, Speech, and Lettermen's Clubs, Student Prefect, and group treasurer and banker.

Ruth M. Van Sant

Ruth is an obliging sort of person. She belonged to Jusendra, G. A. A., Spanish Club, Commercial Club, English Club, and Home Economics Club.



Robert C. Verkler

Robert is an unobtrusive boy who quietly did his part in advisory group basketball and baseball, Archery Club, French Club, and Science and Math Club.

Glenn Vitato

It's Glenn's kind that makes the world go 'round. He was transferred from Richland, Indiana, in 1931. His activities at the other school were Commercial Club and the operetta, "Wishing Well".

Virginia J. Vitato

Virginia is a new student at P.H.S. this year, who came from Richland, Indiana. She belonged to their Art Club and took part in the operetta, "The Wishing Well".

Lois Wadsworth

In Lois' quiet and reserved way she has been a member of the Commercial Club and Junior Tri-S. She is a willing worker, and has assisted faculty and students in many ways.

Willis Wahlfeld

He seems quiet, but—well, ask his friends about him. He participated in group athletics, and was a member of Stamp Club, German Club, French Club, and Jusendra.

Craig Walker

Craig's interests center around shop work and athletics. He was a member of the track, advisory baseball and basketball teams, and the Manual Arts Club.

Helen Walker

Not only is Helen a faithful rooter at our school games, but she also enjoys participation in athletics in G.A.A. and the Archery Clubs. She belonged to Jusendra and Commercial Clubs, too.

Dolores M. Wallace

"Once a friend, always a friend" is one of Dolores' outstanding characteristics. At Peoria High she was a member of the Junior Tri-S and Commercial Clubs.

Franklin Waltermire

Franklin was the secretary of the Junior Hi-Y Club, belonged to the Science and Math Club, Band, and was manager of his advisory group basketball team.

Ila Waterman

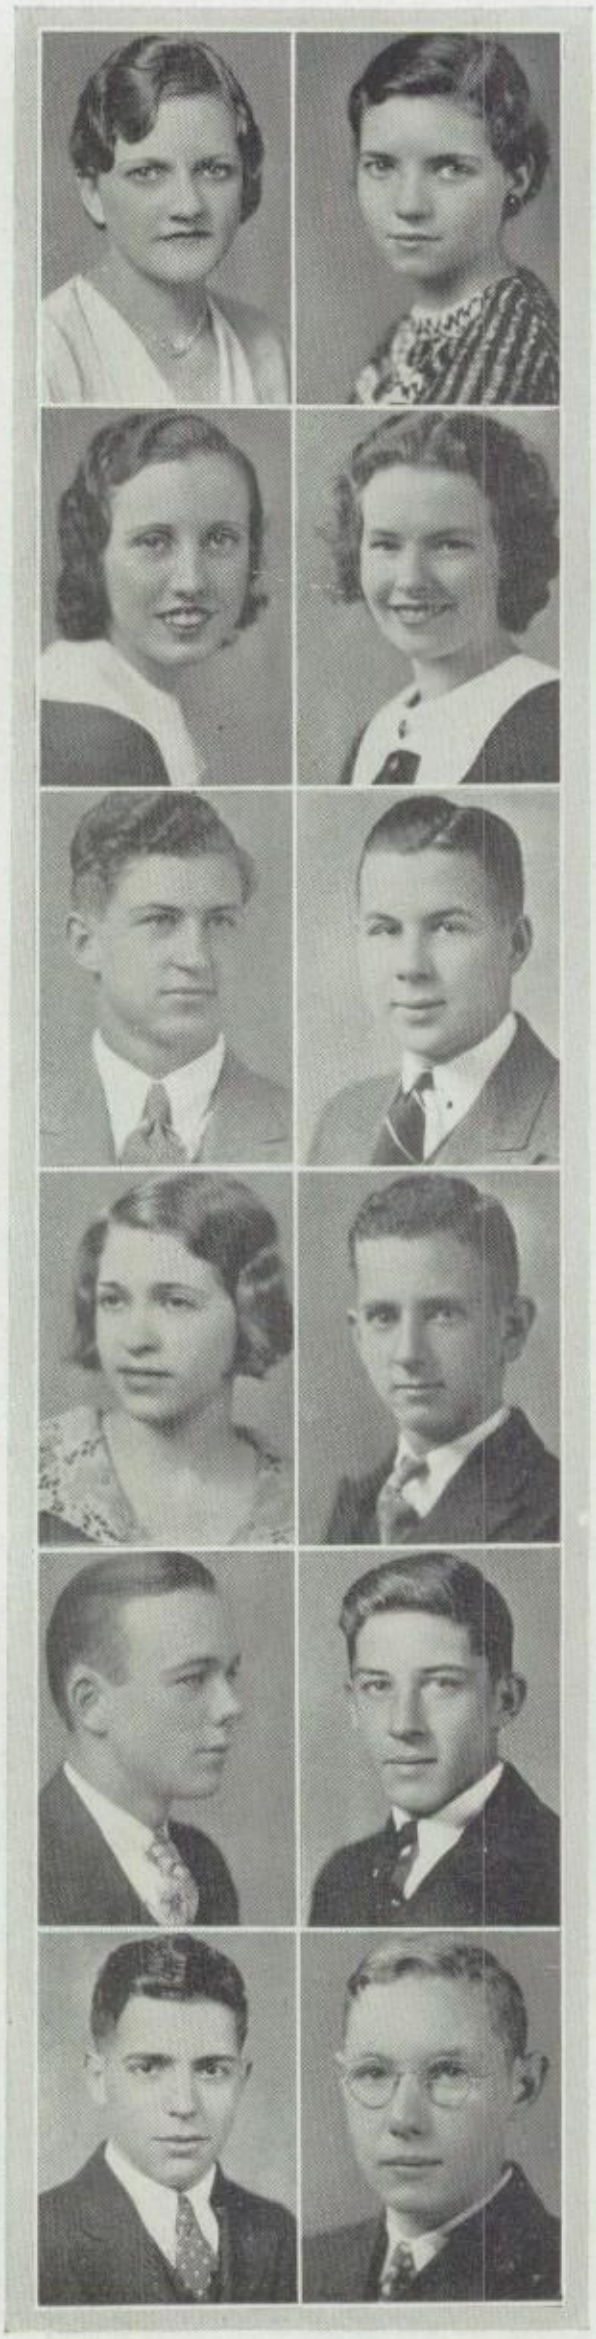
Ila has done much for Central and has derived pleasure from her school activities of Faculty Editor of Crest, member of Pathfinder staff, secretary of French Club, and Charvice.

George Watkins

George doesn't have much to say, but he is a deep thinker. He likes shop work and sports and was out for spring football, advisory basketball, and baseball.

James Watkins

Diminutive in figure and a grand actor describes James. His interests are wide, including Dramatic Honor Society, "The Haunted House", Jusendra, Science and Math, Bodyguard, and advisory basketball.



Mary Kathryn Weber

Mary is cheerful and can be a real friend to those who know her. She was a member of Jusendra, vice-president of advisory group, and group banker.

Morgan DeFord Thornberry Flanigon

The Junior Class

THIS year we have one of the finest groups of Juniors in the history of Peoria High. Many of the class are prominent in school activities, and have been honored by election to Charvice, Promerito, Dramatic Honor, and National Honor societies.

The presidential election this year caused a great deal of excitement. Four of our most prominent Juniors, Katherine Ulrich, Norma Huffstodt, Tom Flanigon, and Dave Morgan competed in the primary election. Although the contest was very exciting, there were no attempted assassinations or suicides.

Among the athletes, the Juniors have taken their place in the front ranks, Junior boys having won a total of 18 letters. What would Peoria High do if it were not for Kenneth Bierly, Clarence Hinton, Byron Dickinson, Enoch Livengood, Buck Swords, Riley Boyer, Bob Baker, Austin Young, Bill Mitchell, Bernie Powers, and James Monroe to win our football games, and Larrie Nyberg, Floyd Dent, and Bill Cole to conquer our basketball foes? Along with these are many others, such as Fred Martin, Bob Sively, Bill Cutter, and Bob Hill, who have distinguished themselves in various sports.

"The voice of the people" was controlled by Juniors this year. All honor to Ruth Mannschott, editor, and Billie Thawley, assistant editor of the Opinion! They were the first Juniors ever to hold these offices. The other Juniors on the staff were: Dale Summers, business manager; Jack Thornberry, assistant business manager; and Jack Steadman, advertising manager. The Juniors were represented on the Crest staff this year by Harriet Cook, the assistant editor, and the snapshot editors, Maxine Talbott and Herbert Kastien.

Much of Student Council's successful work can be attributed to our five Junior representatives, who were Jack Thornberry, Dave Morgan, Katherine Ulrich, Katie Pettett, and Norma Huffstodt.

The Hotel Pere Marquette was the scene of the Junior Prom this year. Many students, dressed in their best bibs and tuckers, attended this festive occasion.

Last, but not least, mention should be made of our able sponsors, Miss Nina Brown, and Mr. Arthur Swanson, who have led us along the straight and narrow path which has resulted in our success. Sponsors, we thank you!

Time may come and time may go, and no doubt, Junior classes will continue to come, but this class will go on forever. We have accomplished much, we are doing much now, and the coming years hold more for us. In the future, we hope to see the names of our classmates of '34 engraved in the Hall of Fame.

Activities

MR. HEGHIN

DURING the past six years it has been Mr. Heghin, the sponsor of our student government, who has developed our Student Council, perfected our Body-guard System, and instigated the governmental activities of our student body. His own strong character, staunch principles, and broad views have affected the entire school. Now that Mr. Heghin has just resigned from his duties as sponsor to Council, all Peoria High takes this opportunity to express its appreciation for his untiring efforts in behalf of our student government.

Mr. Heghin, for your help in the past, and for your influence upon us for the future, we thank you.

Student Council

COUNCIL is composed of four representatives elected from each of the three upper classes, and the president, vice-president, and four students at large elected by the whole school. Its one aim is to better Peoria High School by developing a spirit of fellowship and cooperation, and a better understanding between faculty and students. Book Exchange, pep meetings, paid assemblies, "Maroon and Black", Booster Club, Alumni Association, and the social committee for dances, all work in conjunction with Council.

Endeavoring to prepare the students for public affairs, Council carries on its elections for school officers and Council members-at-large by a system which corresponds closely to city elections. Before the elections, each student must register if he wishes to vote. City booths are borrowed for the elections, and judges and clerks are appointed by the school president. This plan has proved to be very satisfactory.

Student Bodyguard

STUDENT BODYGUARD was first organized in an effort to enforce school laws. The organizers of this group can look upon this year's organization as justification for the obstacles which had to be overcome at first.

Prefects are on duty all hours. They patrol halls, run errands for the office, cooperate with council in the attempt to keep the grounds clean, and work at the polls during elections. Prefects must have good grades or they are dismissed from the Bodyguard.

The system consists of the Magistrate, Jean Frye; Pretorian, Joe Mason; and the Captains, Fred Dwehus, Loren McOmber, Robert Hubert, Helen Kirkland, Howard Teeter, Beverly Cramer, Henry Borgen, Dorothy Connett, Virginia Schmuke, and Myrtle Brown, each of whom has charge of about ten prefects.

National Honor Society

THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY, country-wide in scope, elects to its membership those students who are representative of the best in character, service to the school, and scholarship. Lists of the ranking seniors from the upper third of the class, who have been at Peoria High School for at least three semesters, are given to the individual faculty members. The faculty makes its choice of students who have achieved high distinction in the school. It is indeed an honor for one to be chosen a member of this national society, and to have four years of sincere work crowned with this award. Since it was established here in 1924, precedence has strengthened the character of the organization until it is now the highest attainment of a high school student.

Because of their outstanding scholastic record, five juniors were elected to membership last year to carry on the organization. Those thus honored were: Myrtle Brown, Rosamond Clark, Elizabeth Roper, Lucie Killin, and Howard Teeter. The officers elected by the society this year were: Rosamond Clark, president; Betty Robinson, vice-president; Elizabeth Roper, secretary; and Dorothy Deames, treasurer. The National Honor Society is under the sponsorship of Mr. McCormick, Miss Hayes, Miss McConnell, Mr. Williams, and Miss Coppock.

National Junior Honor Society

In April, 1932, the National Junior Honor Society was organized for the purpose of recognizing and fostering high standards of scholarship, character, service, and leadership in underclassmen. The members are chosen by the faculty from the upper tenth of the freshman and sophomore classes, all members selected having averages of A and B. Membership in this organization does not necessarily insure membership in the National Honor Society, although it serves as an incentive for better work in the future. The fact that a student is not chosen as a member of National Junior Honor Society does not mean that he is not eligible for membership in the National Honor Society. The colors of the organization are gold, signifying high scholarship and the search for learning; white, standing for strong character; blue, signifying willing service to the school; and green, for leadership among one's fellow students.

This year there were one hundred two members, of whom twenty-seven were sophomores who had been admitted last year as freshmen; thirty-six, sophomores taken in this year; and thirty-nine, freshmen who won the honor this year. The sponsors are Miss Stewart, Miss Coppock, and Mr. Sommer.

National Forensic League

THREE years ago the local chapter of National Forensic League was organized, and it is the aim of every ambitious speech student to qualify for membership. To be eligible, one must have earned the requisite ten points by placing in interscholastic speech contests, and must stand in the upper two-thirds of one's class.

Last year at the major contests, National Forensic members made an enviable record. At the National contest, held at Sioux City, Iowa, Margaret Gill placed second in humorous reading, with Gene Reid taking fourth place in dramatic reading. This contest drew participants from chapters of National Forensic League in twenty-four different states. In the state competition, Gene Reid captured first place in humorous reading, with Betty Lou Paul taking second place in dramatic reading. The Big Twelve contest surrendered first honors to three National Forensic members: Gene Reid, dramatic; Margaret Gill, humorous; Elizabeth Jane Roper, oratory. At the Wesleyan contest, Dorothy Jane Deuell took second place in humorous reading, and Elizabeth Roszell placed third in dramatic reading. The National Forensic preliminaries, held at Kingman, gave the coveted honors to the negative debating team: Betty Robinson, Alice Schriver, and Jack Gross. In this same contest Betty Lou Paul placed first in dramatic reading, with Dorothy Jane Deuell taking second place in humorous reading.

In this year's contest sponsored by the McMurray Women's College, several National Forensic girls again took high honors. These were: Gene Reid, first in dramatic reading; Margaret Gill, second, dramatic reading; Helen Truesdale, second in interpretative poetry reading; Marjorie Meyers, second, humorous reading.

Thus, the Peoria High School chapter of National Forensic League, though still only in its infancy, has been very successful. Its members have worked faithfully to bring honor to themselves, to this organization, and to their school.

Quill and Scroll

In 1926, the Henry M. Pindell Chapter of the National Quill and Scroll Society was organized here at Peoria High. This honorary society is to reorganize outstanding literary ability in all fields of journalism, and membership is open to workers on the Crest and Opinion staffs. Last year, nineteen members were elected. Those from the Opinion were: David Miller, Maynard Steeg, Ed Kilgus, Dorothy Kinser, Fleta Dille, Alison Howard, Virginia Dillon, Marjorie Priddy, Virginia Shepherdson, Marjorie Meixner, Albert Siepert, Jean Lowe, and Elizabeth Dillon. Crest workers admitted last year were: Bernita Golly, Slyvia Cohen, Margaret Waggoner, Elizabeth Roper, Lois Maurer, Janet Niederhauser, and Betty Robinson. They received their pins at the annual banquet, held at the University Club. Mr. Edgar Bowen, city editor of the Transcript, and Mr. Donald Bloch, former instructor in journalism at Northwestern, were the guest speakers.

This year, David Miller, Elizabeth Roper, Ralph Lewis, and Betty Robinson were the only old members remaining at P.H.S., but thirteen new members were added. Imogene Schott, Paul Henniges, Betty Livingston, Ruth Mannschott, Billie Thawley, Betty Wilday, and Jane Rutherford were recommended by the sponsor, Mr. Earl English, because of their work on the Opinion. The members of the Crest staff who were chosen for this honor were: Mary Davis, Ila Waterman, Caroline Lowry, Charles Vance, LeForrest Miller, and Harriet Cook. The annual banquet for the initiation of these members was planned for May 26. The program was arranged by Paul Henniges, Ralph Lewis, and Ruth Mannschott; selection of the place where the banquet was held was in the care of Betty Wilday; and the ticket committee consisted of Betty Robinson, Imogene Schott, Jane Rutherford, and Ed Kilgus, alumnus. At this initiation all the members came to feel that it was an honor to have their literary efforts recognized and to be members of this national organization whose sole purpose is to promote student journalism.

Charvice

CHARVICE, our girls' honorary society of Peoria High, is sponsored by Miss Hayes, Miss Boynton, Miss Wilde, Miss Wilson, Miss Coppock, and Miss Ottenheimer. At the first of the year, we elected Carolyn Lowry, president; Elizabeth Roper, vice-president; Marion Gates, secretary; and Mary Davis, treasurer.

During the first semester of the school year, twenty-one girls were elected into Charvice by the faculty. They were initiated on December 20, and another initiation was held April 20, admitting fourteen more girls.

Charvice has had a prosperous year, for our activities have been many. We took charge of Lost and Found, helped in the library and in Miss Watson's office, and introduced a new column in the Opinion, named "Charvice Chatter". We have worked with Promerito in providing ushers for all major productions and Parent-Teachers' Meetings, and in other services to the school. Some of the girls typed song slides for school use. But the most important work of Charvice has been the Little Sister Movement. This was introduced at the beginning of the second semester to aid the new girls in becoming accustomed to their surroundings. Each Charvice girl was assigned a freshman girl or someone who had recently moved to the city. All the "sisters" became better acquainted with each other at the Little Sister Tea which we held from three to five on March twenty-third, at the Women's City Club.

The name Charvice is taken from the two words, "character" and "service"; and a vital part of the beautiful initiation service is the pledge which the new members take, to develop, to the best of their ability, their own characters, and to be ever on the alert to serve their school in every way possible. Election into Charvice is one of the greatest honors that can come to a Peoria High girl.

Promerito

PROMERITO is the honorary society for boys. The name is Latin, meaning "for merit"; and only boys who have served the school in an outstanding manner are admitted to it. Its faculty sponsors are Mr. Deal, Mr. Stephens, and Mr. Westhoff. The officers elected this year were David Miller, president; Paul Henniges, vice-president; Robert Baker, secretary; Howard Teeter, treasurer; and Richard Wellbrock, sergeant-at-arms.

This year Promerito has ushered for all the daily student assemblies. It has taken tickets at all paid assemblies, and has ushered, in company with Charvice, at all the evening productions given by school organizations, including the Senior Class play, the operetta given by the combined Glee Clubs, and the Jusendra plays; also, for all the Parent-Teacher meetings throughout the year. It has sponsored two matinee basketball games, one between the faculty and the ninth semester men, and the other between the faculty and the Lettermen.

Promerito enjoys itself socially, too. Our winter initiation was really quite "shocking" to those new members being initiated. Our spring initiation was held in the open, as befitting the time of year. Promerito held two picnics: one a stag, and one with Charvice girls as guests. Every other Monday, Promerito has a social gathering at a reserved table in the cafeteria each lunch period.

Next year all the clubs in the school that send out contestants, such as the Speech Club and the Glee Club, will be financially united under the sponsorship of Promerito in a plan whereby Promerito will finance these organizations whose treasuries are depleted; thus the contestant will not be obliged to pay his own expenses. A fund to this purpose has already been started. Promerito members consider this plan their greatest and most worthwhile contribution to the school.

Band

ONE of the greatest services to our school this year was that rendered by the Peoria High School Band. At nearly all the football and basketball games, the band has been present, giving entertainment to the students and, best of all, promoting school spirit through our general enjoyment of music and singing.

For the first time in the school's history, there has been a girl drum major, Dorothy Connett. Her assistant was Art Nelson. The officers of the band were Bill Rose, president; Ralph Fearn, vice-president; and Sue Bramlet, secretary-treasurer. The band has been very capably directed by Mr. Bradley, who founded the band in 1923 for the purpose of affording musical experience to interested students. The opportunity is open to any who wish to join the organization; this year there was an enrollment of fifty.

The program of the band has been very full. It had the honor of playing for the dedication of the Roosevelt Junior High School. Selected players took part in the all-district band of the Illinois State Teachers' Convention. The band combined with those of Manual and Kingman High Schools in presenting the annual concert in May, played for the indoor and Greater Peoria track meets, and took part in the American Legion parade on Armistice Day. Representatives chosen from the clarinet, saxophone, horn, and trombone sections were sent to represent Peoria High in the state contests.

In reward for their services, the members of the band received felt emblems in the school colors in the form of a lyre with the number of years of service and the division of the band which the student represents. To receive an emblem, the student must have a certain average in his other courses besides band.

Peoria High is proud of its band, and grateful for its support.

Advanced Orchestra

THE Peoria High School Orchestra has had an extremely busy and active year. This branch of musical activity furnishes excellent experience, as well as a great deal of pleasure, for amateur musicians. Under the direction of Mr. Irving Bradley, rehearsals are held one full period each day. Credit and letters are given for satisfactory services.

The officers elected for this year were Margaret Hayden, president; Clara Lasko, vice-president; Gwendolyn Huber, secretary; and Betty Green, publicity agent.

Much time was spent in preparing for the operetta, "Sonia", given in December. Under the competent direction of Miss Jackson and Mr. Bradley, the orchestra contributed greatly to the success of this production.

Concerts are often given in conjunction with the Manual High School Orchestra. These are also under the direction of Mr. Bradley. The combined orchestra played for the annual vesper service given at the new Roosevelt Junior High School in honor of Lincoln's birthday. It also helped to furnish the music at the dedication of that school. The organization presented several concerts during the year. Two concerts were given at the Pere Marquette Hotel: one for the Home Economics Department Convention and another for the Illinois State School Board Association Convention, after which a dinner was enjoyed in one of the dining rooms. It also presented a Sunday afternoon concert at the Art Institute. The culmination of a successful season was the annual concert given by the combined orchestra and band during Music Week in May.

The orchestra sent several soloists to the Big Twelve Contest this year. Paul Zimmerman won honors in violin last year.

The annual picnic of the combined orchestra and band was held in Pekin Park at the close of school last year. Swimming, tennis, boating, baseball, and the "merry-go-round" were the chief entertainments. The annual party was held at the Administration Building in January.

Dramatic Honor Society

IN 1926, Dramatic Honor Society was organized to give distinction to those who had made their characters in Jusendra productions outstanding. Today it gives any person who takes part in any school play honor for any unusual dramatic ability he displays. These members are selected by a faculty committee headed by Miss Drysdale, the Society's sponsor.

This year Dramatic Honor has had two very capable officers: Helen Truesdale, president; and Shirley Potter, secretary-treasurer. Of all the present members, only Rosamond Clark has been in three years. She was chosen from the French play, "Cherchez La Femme". Last year Helen Truesdale, Billie Christian, Bob Luthy, and David Casey were selected from "The Tower Room Mystery", a Jusendra production; Edna Bristol and Shirley Potter from the Jusendra play, "Daddies"; and Kathleen Martin from the cast of a Speech Club play. This year from the Senior Class Play, "The Haunted House", Charles Vance, Henry Wilson, Seymour Adelman, James Watkins, Paul Zimmerman, and Paul Henniges were elected; while those chosen from the operetta, "Sonia", were Margaret Gill, Marcella Hendricks, Dolores Menssen, Dick Pursifull and Roland Wiemer. The Jusendra play, "Green Stockings", brought Jane Peters, Irving Gottlieb, and Bill Harrison into the ranks. Elizabeth Roszell and Geraldine Maurer were elected from the second Jusendra production, "The Charm School".

The meetings this year were held at spreads given at the homes of different members, at which meetings the members-to-be were initiated. Here are a few of the tortures they suffered to become worthy of this Society: Marcella Hendricks had to propose to Mr. Brewer; Henry Wilson was besmeared with lipstick by some noble maidens; Jane Peters had to tell everyone what she thought was wrong with them; and Bill Harrison had to give a three minute talk on why he thought he was the best actor in school.

Despite the agony endured in becoming a member, everyone is proud of his Dramatic Honor membership and thinks that it is a worthwhile reward for hard work.

Cue Club and Jusendra

CUE CLUB, the club for freshmen and sophomores, and Jusendra, composed of juniors and seniors, are our dramatic organizations.

The purpose of Cue Club is to arouse interest in dramatic art among lower classmen and to prepare them for bigger plays as members of Jusendra. The officers of the third hour group of Cue Club were Tom Hunter, president; Dorthe Miner, vice-president; Fred Vance, secretary; and Phyllis Blair, treasurer; and the eighth hour officers were Mary Jane Ballance, president; Marion Putnam, vice-president; Mary Gill, secretary; and Mardie MacClyment, treasurer. The sponsor of the morning group was Mrs. Hale; of the afternoon group, Miss McGrath. The programs at meetings of the club consisted of plays presented by the members. Those taking part in these productions were as follows: Betty Babb, Charles Anderson, Margaret Lund, Max Custer, Harold Johnson, John Greer, Emerson Cole, Dorothy Jane Deuell, Fred Kintzer, Isabel Anicker, Margaret Prime, Margaret Ann Stacy, Ray Fraser, Grant Anderson, Bill Ewing, Hertzel Harrison, Frank Reichelderfer, Bob Hill, John Canterbury, Harold Howells, Herschel Woltzen, Henry Meredith, Jean Fraine, Arthur Weers, Esther Coons, Wanda Jennings, Betty Styer, Hymen Harrison, Helen Jean Waggoner, and Betty Jean Adams.

The purpose of Jusendra, the advanced dramatic organization, is to develop dramatic ability and to present plays for the entertainment of the school and for experience in acting for the players. The meaning of the name, Jusendra, is significant of the activities of the club, Ju-meaning junior, -sen standing for senior, and -dra meaning dramatic. The programs at Jusendra meetings consisted of readings and musical numbers given by members. But the important activities of Jusendra were the evening plays, one presented in the autumn, one in the spring, of which more is told on the following pages. Bob Dunker was president of the organization, and Bob Taylor, the vice-president, served as president of the afternoon group. The other officers were Harriet Cook, secretary of the afternoon meeting; Minnie Weers, treasurer; and Bill Cutter, advertising manager. Minor offices were held by Elizabeth Roszell, Jane Pasche, and Howard Pettett.

Gottlieb, Meyers, Gale, Pasche, Harrison, Peters, Spalding, Ford, Clark, Sommers, Luthy, Perkins, Miss Bunch

"Green Stockings"

"GREEN STOCKINGS" was presented by Jusendra on January twentieth under the direction of Miss Bunch.

There is an old custom in England that if a younger daughter in a family is married before her elder sister, the elder sister must wear green stockings at the younger sister's wedding. Celia Faraday (Rosamond Clark) has already observed this custom twice for the weddings of two younger sisters, Madge Rockingham (Marjorie Meyers), a charming young wife, and Evelyn Trenchard (Hazel Sommers), a languid widow; and she must wear them again for the marriage of her vivacious youngest sister, Phyllis (Jane Pasche) with the Honorable Robert Tarver (John Gale), a spoiled young politician.

All the members of the household, including her gruff father, William Faraday (Robert Luthy), the pompous old friend of the family, Admiral Grice (Irving Gottlieb), and two young friends, James Raleigh (Maurice Perkins) and Henry Steele (Franklin Spalding), patronize Celia because she has not been able to find a lover. Finally in desperation she invents a fiance, giving him the name of Colonel J. N. Smith of the army, and with the aid of her warm-hearted aunt, Mrs. Chisholm Faraday (Jane Peters), she plays the part of an engaged girl. In this way she gains the respect of her family, who find her not so dull and plain as they previously believed. But there really is a Colonel J. N. Smith of the army who receives the love letters that Celia is forced by her sisters to write. When Colonel Smith (Don Ford) arrives on the scene, he and Celia are mutually attracted, fall in love, and everyone is happy, even Martin, the staid butler (Bill Harrison).

Those who saw "Green Stockings" enjoyed most the scene where Aunt Ida becomes hysterical when a break comes in Celia's plans, and the "tea-for-two" scene where Celia and Colonel Smith talk things over and fall in love. Much honor is to go to Miss Bunch for her efficient and patient coaching, endearing her to the cast.

First Row—Wilday, Armstrong, Meixner, Maibach, Harbers, Robinson (understudy), Newell, Horst, Naffziger, Adelman, Andrews (seated), Burhans (seated), Schafer, Roszell, Maurer.

"The Charm School"

On April Thirteenth, Jusendra presented "The Charm School", coached by Miss Reinhard.

Austin Bevans (Paul Naffziger), a young automobile salesman, is notified by Homer Johns (Seymour Adelman), his aunt's lawyer, that, at the death of his aunt, he has inherited her school for girls. In spite of the admonitions of David MacKenzie (Carl Horst), a serious young law student, Austin determines to take over the management of the school himself; and, in accordance with his own ideas, to educate the girls for charm. He goes to the school, accompanied by his friends, the Simpkins twins, Jim (Bob Burhans) and Tim (Ed Andrews), "who toil not and have never seriously considered spinning"; and George Boyd (John Newell), a nonchalant "man of the world". Arriving at the school, Austin meets Miss Curtis (Geraldine Maurer), the meek and quiet secretary of the school, who is always willing to think well of anyone, and Miss Banes (Elizabeth Roszell), the high-spirited head teacher, who has spurned the equally haughty Mr. Johns as suitor.

All goes well, as Austin is liked by all his students, including Sally Boyd (Betty Harbers), George's naive younger sister; Muriel Doughty (Ruth Belsterling), who always finds out the latest scandal; Ethel Spelvin (Ruth Armstrong), dainty and demure; Alix Mercier (Dorothy Fritz), who speaks French much more easily than English; Lillian Stafford (Jo Meixner) and Charlotte (Evelyn Becker), seniors; Madge Kent (Helen Maibach), a junior; and Dotsie (Betty Wilday), who is always in the way. But complications arise when Elise Benedotti (Frances Schafer), the charming president of the senior class, falls in love with Austin, and runs away from school when he is forced to spurn her because of the promise he made to Johns to give up the school as soon as a student "fell" for him. But all ends well as Austin finds Elise, and, because he prefers her to the school, gives it up to Miss Banes, who at last accepts Mr. Johns' attentions.

"The Haunted House"

JACK and Emily Driscoll (Henry Wilson and Helen Truesdale), newly-weds, come to the hunting lodge owned by Emily's father for their honeymoon. Trouble begins at once, for they find that someone has been in the house just before their arrival; and they are greeted by weird sounds and the clanking of chains in upper rooms. Excitement is brought to a peak by the sudden appearance of Jim Morgan (James Watkins or Dan Burke), a hobo who has been prowling about the house. Desmond Duncan (Charles Vance), an eccentric author, and his faithful wife, Helen (Janice Meredith or Kathleen Martin), who live near the lodge, made a friendly visit to the young couple, adding more to the queerness of the place. After they leave, Jack is unlocking the trunks when Isabel Wesley (Catherine Dore or Gene Reid), Jack's former sweetheart, appears to him and threatens him.

Some time later, it is discovered, by pools of blood and footprints that murder has been committed near Isabel's car, and as neither the body nor Isabel can be found, the conclusion is reached that Isabel has been killed. Immediately Dan Grogan (Seymour Adelman), a gruff New York detective, comes, and with the aid of Ezra (Paul Zimmerman), the timid county sheriff, begins an investigation. Suspicion points first to Jack, then to Emily, who tries to shield her husband, and in turn to each inhabitant of the house, even to Thomas (Richard Wellbrock), faithful chauffeur to Emily's father. At this point Mr. Evans (Paul Henniges), Emily's father, appears from an upstairs room where he has been staying to watch over his daughter, and confesses that he fired a shot from his window at a figure fleeing from the house toward the car. Immediately he is arrested as the murderer, and all believe that the mystery has been solved, when suddenly the supposed victim, Isabel Wesley, appears in the doorway, alive and unhurt. At last the mystifying affair is cleared up when Ed, the milkman, (Robert Taylor or Robert Dunker), brings the morning milk and says that the victim has been found in a bush nearby. The victim is . . . . . Ed's best Holstein cow.

ON THE preceding page is the story of the Senior Class Play, presented on November third and fourth for the purpose of raising funds for a class memorial. The play was very efficiently coached by Mr. Epstein, who introduced the idea of having two casts, one for each night of production. In this way, for several of the parts two students had a chance to display their dramatic ability, instead of one. Probably those who saw the play remember seeing Mr. Epstein seated in the audience, calmly enjoying the play with his family. He had finished his work as coach, and had made the members of his cast feel that the responsibility for the success of the production rested with them.

Others aiding in making the play a success were Miss Morris and Mr. Gobble, class sponsors; the prompters, Betty Livingston and Jim Daugherty, who very faithfully attended rehearsals; several members of the faculty who directed committees: Mr. McCormick, Mr. Swanson, Miss Maxfield, Mr. Deal, Miss Mahoney, Miss McConnell, Miss Kinhofer, Miss Bibo, Mr. Owen, and Miss Cornelius; and members of the Senior Class who worked hard on committees: Mary Hope Wycoff, Betty Bourland, Mary Weber, David Miller, Mary Davis, Elizabeth Roper, William Inman, Bill Shanemeyer, Ralph Ellis, Dorothy Connett, Byron Darst, Earl Scherff, Evelyn Riegel, Robert Luthy, Herbert McSkimin, Angeline Allen, Lucie Killin, and Alliemae Coakley. Mention should also be made of the orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Bradley, and the stage crew, directed by Mr. Brewer and Mr. Lange.

The scenes of the play which will be remembered longest are the seance conducted by Desmond Duncan, in which he calls up before the waiting group the ghastly spirit of the "dead" Isabel, which cries out to them, "Oh, the blood!" and then disappears; the continual fainting of Ezra, the timid sheriff, at the sight of blood; and the anti-climax of the last scene in which the stupid milkman comes in, bewailing the loss of his favorite cow, Bessie.

CAST AND CHORUSES (First Act)

"Sonia"

"SONIA", the operetta presented by our combined glee clubs, was coached by Miss Jackson, musical director, and Miss Buswell, dramatic director. Miss Carey was our accompanist.

Sonia (Dolores Menssen), the charming queen of the college campus, goes to Russia in search of her long lost father, followed by Pat (Dick Pursifull), her admirer, and her many college friends: Sally (Marjorie Carpenter), a campus belle; Jerry (Armand Flocken), Sally's friend; Maurice (Dave Casey), the college cheerleader; Peggy (Shirley Potter), an Irish co-ed; and a host of college students (Ruth Belsterling, Georgia Cooper, Beverly Cramer, Dorothy Cummings, Fay Eastman, Elizabeth Egolf, Harriet Folliott, Emily Franks, Dorothy Fritz, Olive Ellen Glenn, Dorothy Hoffman, Julia Hunt, Harriett Jensen, Helene Knickerbocker, Betty Livingston, Betty Lou Paul, Katie Pettett, Elizabeth Roper, Elizabeth Roszell, Jane Rutherford, Eleanor Spears, Billie Thawley, Helen Truesdale, Marie Voss, Kathryn Weise, Lelia Wilson, Bertha Williams, Maxine Talbott, Ethel Porter, Josephine Meixner, Wayne Bice, Roderic Bush, John Hester, Wesley Kelley, Orean Maddox, Howard Turnbull, Bob Waddell, Bill Ewing, John Greer).

At their arrival in Russia, the students find the old castle of Sonia's father occupied by a wild band of hungry Bolsheviki (Myrtle Brown, Grace Burbidge, Frances Burgard, Frances DeMoure, Carolyn Doyle, Virginia Drake, Edna Mae Eichenlaub, Kathryn Elliott, Vivian Fahrman, Betty Jane Gapen, Mildred Garrison, Betty Harbers, Elaine Herweg, Delores Higgs, Virginia Kinsey, Jessie Kramer, Verna Leach, Carolyn Lowry, Ruth Mannschott, Elizabeth McWherter, Ruth Hepburn, Margaret Marshall, Margaret Ogden, Helen Radley, Helen Ristic, Imogene Schott, Alice Schriver, Sara Simpson, Alice Smith, Caula Stavropoulos, Margaret Sweeney, Roberta Tippett, Mary Hope Wycoff, John Carlton, Charles Carrier, Jim Daugherty, Norman Harvey, Fred Luenz, Sam McClugage, Rudy McMaster, Cavelier Melvin, Howard Simon, Gus Stavropoulos, William Fahey, Howard Collier, Grant Anderson, Tom Hunter, Richard Fruehauf).

CAST AND CHORUSES (Finale)

Veda (Margaret Gill), Boris (Verne Dorman), her accomplice, and a no-account Russian, Count Giwiski (Joe Mason), plan to extort money for the return of Sonia's father. But when the Bolsheviki attempt to bomb the castle, the extortion plot is foiled. Through the aid of a Russian nobleman (Theodore Xanos), Pat solves the mystery of the lost father, saves them all from the bomb, and wins his girl. All are happy, including Aunt Martha (Marcella Hendricks), Sonia's fussy old-maid aunt, and the absent-minded Professor Smythe (Roland Wiemer), who, by their shy love-making, add humor to the story. More humor is introduced by Sergeant O'Shaughnessy (Paul Naffziger) and his chorus of marines, (John Carlton, Howard Collier, Grant Anderson, and Tom Hunter).

Aiding with the presentation of the operetta was the orchestra directed by L. Irving Bradley, and consisting of Paul Zimmerman, Irving Gottlieb, Ellen Schultz, Clarence Hinton, Robert Meyer, George Meyer, Gwendolyn Huber, Virgil Hawkins, Elizabeth Silzer, Glen Winters, Geraldine Lea, Margaret Hayden, Dick Beedle, Howard Teeter, Kline Richardson, Edgar Sobers, Ross Bergschneider, and Byron Darst.

The highlights of the production, those little reminiscences which those who saw it and those who worked in it will always cherish were: the long hours of practice, crowned by final success; the whimsical love-making of Professor Smythe; Aunt Martha and the dance chorus "making hay while the sun shines" with pitchforks; the exit of the Professor pensively dragging a mop behind him while reading Plato; the opening scene of the second act disclosing the wild-eyed Bolsheviki in their bright colored dresses and shiny black boots; Armand Flocken's fantastic peasant dance aided by a chorus of the Bolsheviki maidens; the glorious finale of the second act, when the castle is on fire and all is tumult; the no-account Russian, Giwiski, trying to play the "stiff" part of Sonia's father; vamping Veda teaching "Fascination" to a group of awed college girls; the Spanish dancing girls directed by Mrs. Epstein; and most charming of all, the tender love song, "Romance", sung by Pat and Sonia and the chorus of principals.

McSkimin, McOmber, Mr. Epstein, Jordan, Berkman

Projection Crew

AGAIN a year has passed, and the projection crew has once more enjoyed a successful period of service. This was due in no small part to the much appreciated assistance of the faculty adviser, Mr. Epstein, who trained and supervised the crew in their work.

The crew this year consisted of Herbert McSkimin, chief operator; Kenneth Jordan, Loren McOmber, and Arthur Berkman.

The projection booth is well equipped, having an electrically operated Motiograph Machine of two thousand foot capacity, a stereoptican, and two spot lights, one incandescent and the other arc. One of the splendid features of the booth is its construction, which is so planned as to safeguard the audience in case of fire. Operating comfort is obtained by use of a competent ventilating system. A fire-proof humidor that keeps the film pliable completes the equipment.

"The Speed Limit", a feature movie, was given at the close of each of the two shifts on March sixth; and several short educational subjects were presented on various days in the assemblies. The spot light played an important part in the operetta, "Sonia", as well as in daily assemblies. Special illustrated lectures and song programs such as those held at the Teachers' Institute required the use of the stereoptican.

Since the equipment used is of such nature as to require trained operators, only the members of the projection crew are allowed to handle it, even though it is used for programs sponsored by outside interests. From this it may be seen that, though small in number, this crew is important in connection with the extra-curricular activities of the school.

Second Row—Keller, Fleisher, Lynch, Friess.
First Row—Wooleyhan, Emerson, Cole, Ellis.

Stage Crew

IF YOU had, by chance, wandered back stage this year during any of the assemblies or stage performances, or during any eighth hour, you would have found the stage crew hard at work. They have been an indispensable group; and though there was no student head this year, they all cooperated with each other and with Mr. Brewer, their faculty adviser.

Four members and four freshman apprentices made up the crew. Bob Lynch was electrician; Jack Keller, assistant electrician; Gene Friess, rope manager; and Jim Fleisher, scenery manager. The freshmen did the "dirty work". The sticks they are holding in the picture are attached to mops and brooms, which unfortunately had to be cut off. Oh, how these freshmen hate scrubbing; but they work on, thinking of the days when they can handle the ropes, the scenery, or the lights.

The work this year was especially heavy, because of the three daily assemblies. Much time was spent after school hours in cleaning and arranging the stage and dressing rooms, mending ropes, building scenery, dipping lights, and in doing many other jobs connected with the stage presentations of the school, the most important of these being "The Haunted House", "Sonia", "Green Stockings", and "The Charm School", as well as many outside performances.

The freshmen will soon be finished with their apprenticeship, for next year they will be promoted to higher positions. Three of the senior members of the crew are in the Class of '33: Bob Lynch, a four-year man, and Jim Fleisher and Gene Friess, both two-year men. Jack Keller, a two-year man, will be the only veteran. We wish next year's crew luck in all its undertakings!

Editing the Crest

ANYTHING worth-while is worth working for; so the 1933 Crest staff has worked diligently to make this review of our high school days. There are many whose contributions to the book deserve mention.

Ila Waterman, faculty editor, had a committee to help write the captions for the faculty, including: Helen Gorham, Louise Flora, and Ruth Hepburn. Mary Davis, who handled the big job of editing the senior section, had the following students write paragraphs for our four hundred nineteen seniors: Dorothy Hoffmann, Delores Higgs, Howard Turnbull, Franklin Spalding, Helen Truesdale, Margaret Gill, Ruth Belsterling, Myrtle Brown, Carolyn Rutledge, and Jack Dace. Edna Mae Eichenlaub, Elinor Studer, and Beverly Cramer typed copy. Margaret Gill identified class pictures, and Marguerite Goodman helped by writing the Junior Class history, and several other articles. It was Caroline Lowry who wrote the synopses of our dramatic productions and obtained write-ups for the honor and service societies. We want to thank the members of the organizations who wrote articles for her activities section. Charles Vance collected all the athletic material and wrote the entire athletic section.

To avoid the sameness of group pictures for the school clubs in the activities section, we transferred the departmental clubs to the calendar and took snap shots characteristic of their activities. Kathleen Martin, the clubs editor, planned these pictures. It was our snap-shot editors, Maxine Talbott and Herbert Kastien, who took the pictures, Herbert taking the flashlights; and Maxine, most of the informal pictures among the ads. The unusual views of the school on the last page were taken by Budd Kramm, and the identifications of the snaps were printed by Jack Chalmers. The other calendar pictures were arranged by Alice Schriver, and as calendar editor, she wrote the paragraphs about them. Miss Keevers, our assistant literary sponsor, advised the features section and helped us plan the book. How did you like the adventures of Willie Worm? Dot Deames, our features editor, wrote this to give you a glimpse into the future. The illustrations were drawn by Ralph Ellis. In fact, he did all the art work, including the cover. Miss Mahoney, our art adviser, gave us her support by taking charge of Bud's art work and by giving her suggestions on the artistic details of the book.

The advertisements, a vital section, were obtained by our business manager, LeForrest Miller. It was real work to get them, as his two helpers, John Gale and William Kusz, can readily testify. Mr. Murphy, our business adviser, took charge of all our business affairs. Our large circulation was due to Miss Buswell, who coached our Crest assembly; to Delores Higgs (Mother Goose) and the twelve freshies and sophs who helped in the assembly; to the commercial art students who made signs for the campaign; to all the teachers who took charge of the subscriptions in their advisory groups; and to our assistant editor, Harriet Cook, who made the lighted birthday cake. Betty Robinson, the editor-in-chief, compiled the work of all of her staff members and kept things going, while Miss Crowder, our literary adviser, kept her going, and acted as the real back-bone of the Crest staff.

Thus, through the combined efforts of all these students and faculty members, the 1933 Crest has been edited, and our completed work is presented here to you. We hope you will like it!

The Opinion

INTEREST in journalistic work has grown by leaps and bounds in the past year, and there are now approximately seventy-five students taking journalism, of whom about thirty are engaged in active work on the Opinion. For the first time in the forty-four years of the paper's existence, juniors have headed the staff.

One of the biggest achievements of the year was the introduction of the new column, "Classroom Brevities", making possible the publication of items pertaining to classroom work, which are of interest to students and parents alike.

The Opinion was awarded a third place rating among schools of 1500 or more in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association in March.

The voice of the student body and the council was expressed in the editorial columns of the Opinion. Through the feature, "The Editorial of the Week", students became acquainted with problems of government peculiar to other schools.

The paper was printed at the Journal-Transcript, but the type was set and the pages made up by the printing students.

At Thanksgiving the Opinion put out a special twelve-page edition, containing a program for the Manual-Central football game, as well as individual pictures of the members of the two teams. These papers were distributed at the game as the regular programs.

The sixteen page Christmas edition contained the largest number of themes from the English classes ever to be published in a high school paper.

That the aim of the Opinion is to serve the school in every way possible is illustrated by the fact that the honor roll was printed every month, the term paper guide was printed for the benefit of the social science department, and publicity given to every phase of student life.

There are more individual columns than ever before. Among the new ones this year are the Columbia Junior High Notes, Spanish Column, "Charvice Chatter", "Promerito Prattle", "Flights and Fancies", and a number of humor columns.

Closer cooperation of the Opinion staff has been made possible by the monthly meetings held at the homes of different members. At these meetings former editors and men in the journalism world spoke on subjects which were of great help to the staff.

The editorial staff, under Mr. English, instructor in journalism, advertising, printing, and salesmanship, includes: Ruth Mannschott, editor; Billie Thawley, assistant editor; Imogene Schott, editorial writer; George Casey, copy editor; Edna Mae Buckler, proof reader, and a large staff of reporters, including the students of the two journalism classes. Dale Summers was the business manager; John Steadman, advertising manager to succeed Leon Epstein, who moved out of town during the first semester; and Lester Immel, mailing manager.

The humor columnists included George Casey, Blanche Veath, Paul Henniges, and Fred Vance. James Daugherty and William Conway were the sports column writers. "Literary Highlights" was written by Phyllis McCallum, and Betty Wilday had charge of the church column. Eileen Reed, a sophomore, drew the clever cartoons.

Those who worked in the "Black Hole" on Wednesday and Thursday nights were Ruth Mannschott, Jane Rutherford, Billie Thawley, Betty Wilday, George Knobloch, Charles Singer, and Mr. English. Maynard Steeg and Ralph Lewis, graduates, were also of great help on these nights.

In spite of the fact that the Opinion started out the year with an inexperienced staff and was handicapped by the double shift system, it has endeavored to be of the greatest possible service to the school, and has, in a measure, succeeded.

THESE pictures are taken in the same room—the press room located in the basement of the annex. It is a room that few students or teachers have ever visited. However, for about seventy-five students, it is a very interesting place.

The top picture shows the horse-shoe editorial desk where most of the copy is written and placed on the "hook". At the typewriter in the foreground we see Ruth Mannschott, editor; and at her left hand, Billie Thawley, assistant editor, doing a bit of proof reading. Jane Rutherford, at the other typewriter, and Edna Mae Buckler, beside her, are too busy working to know their picture is being taken. In the background is a plate press on which job work is run. "Make-up turtles" on which the pages are made up are seen in the foreground.

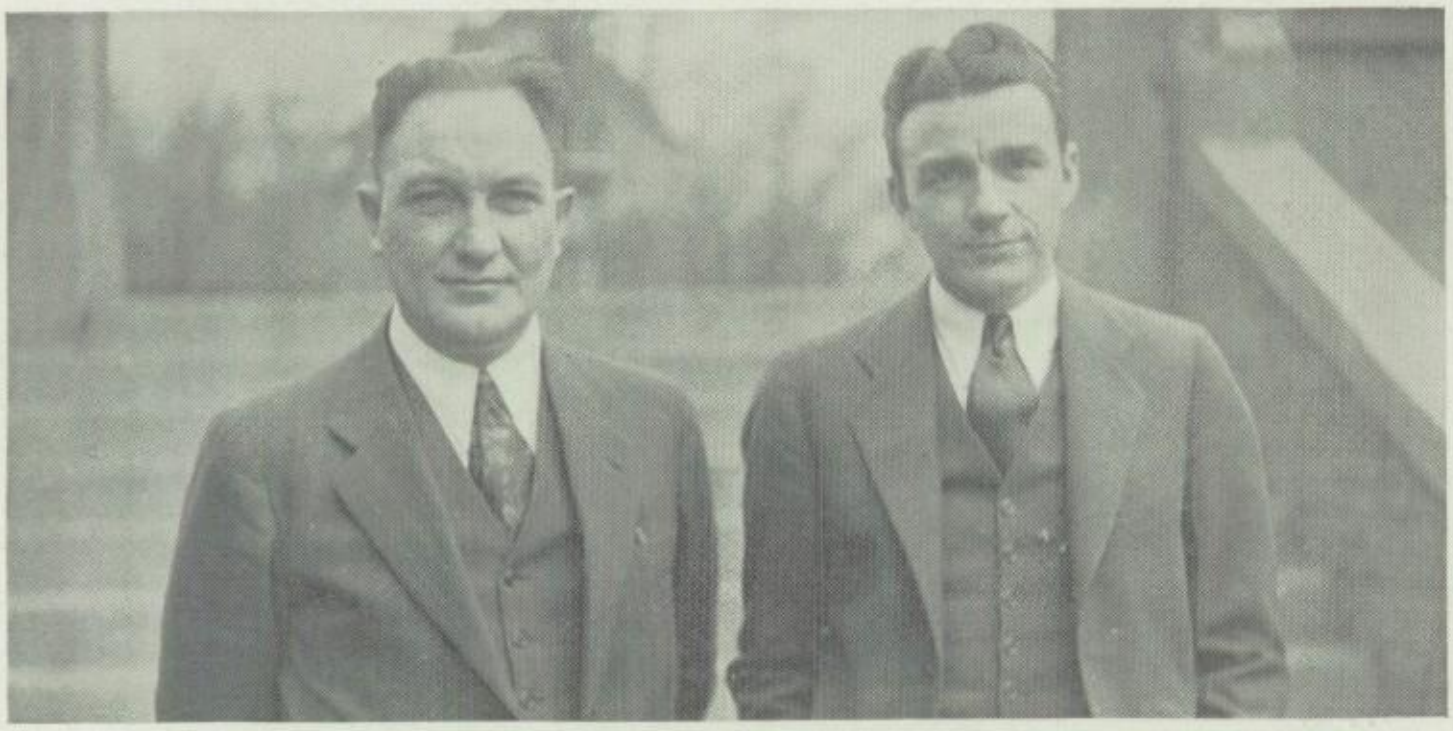
All in all, the press room is a place where manual skill and mental skill meet in a common cause, that of putting out the school paper.

Athletics



Mr. Herke Mr. Trimble

Directors of Athletics

Coach Salen Herke, known to hundreds of Peoria High students and athletes as "Doc", has just brought to a conclusion his seventeenth year as athletic director at Peoria Central. It is due to Herke's untiring efforts that Central's athletic teams always loom formidable in the eyes of her opponents, for any Big Twelve team aspiring to a championship must consider a game against a Herke-coached team as one of the greatest obstacles in its path. Besides drilling and training his athletes, "Doc" also conducts the freshmen and sophomore boys' gym classes, and his watchful eye is ever on the lookout for talent for his future varsity teams. The "Old Fox" has a long and enviable record here at Peoria High, and we sincerely hope he will remain for a long time and will continue to turn out victorious teams for Central.

Coach Claude Trimble, "Doc's" right-hand man, fills his capacity as business manager and assistant coach of the teams in a very efficient manner, and has become a great favorite among both faculty and students. This was Trimble's third year at Central, and he has lightened considerably the tremendous burden which here-to-fore had rested entirely on Herke's shoulders. His services, chiefly in connection with the baseball team and the reserve basketball team, have become almost indispensable, and his pep-inspiring talks, in that familiar Southern drawl, have made him a very popular speaker in our pep meetings.

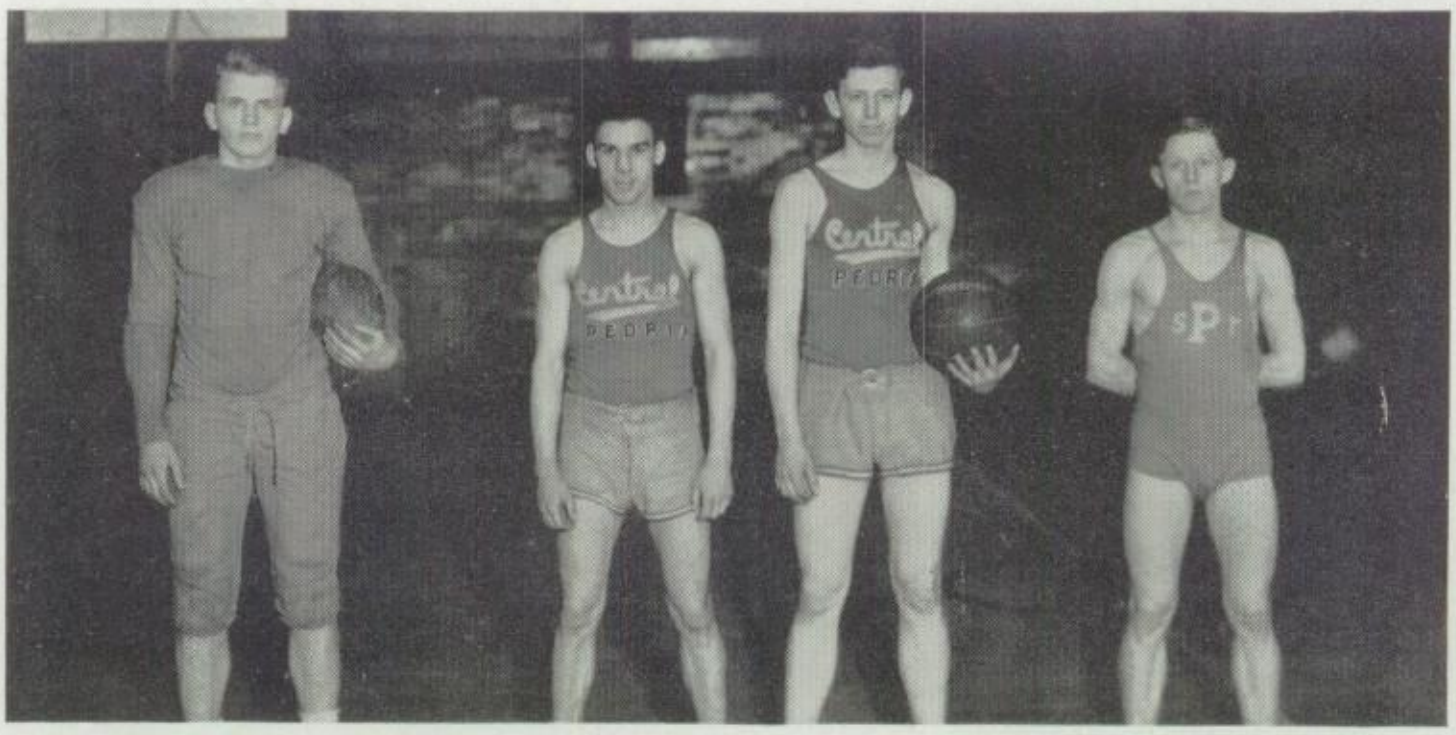
Fourth Row—Bouton, Luthy, Galvin, Martin, Meisinger, Neptune, Stonebock.
Third Row—Livengood, Nordman, Wm. Cutter, Bierly, Deobler, Kornhaus, Alcorn, Bourne.
Second Row—Mr. Herke, Hinton, Van Sant, Bessler, Peters, Sivley, Hill.
First Row—Howeler, Dent, Anderson, Strubhar, Baker, Nichols, Swords.

Lettermen

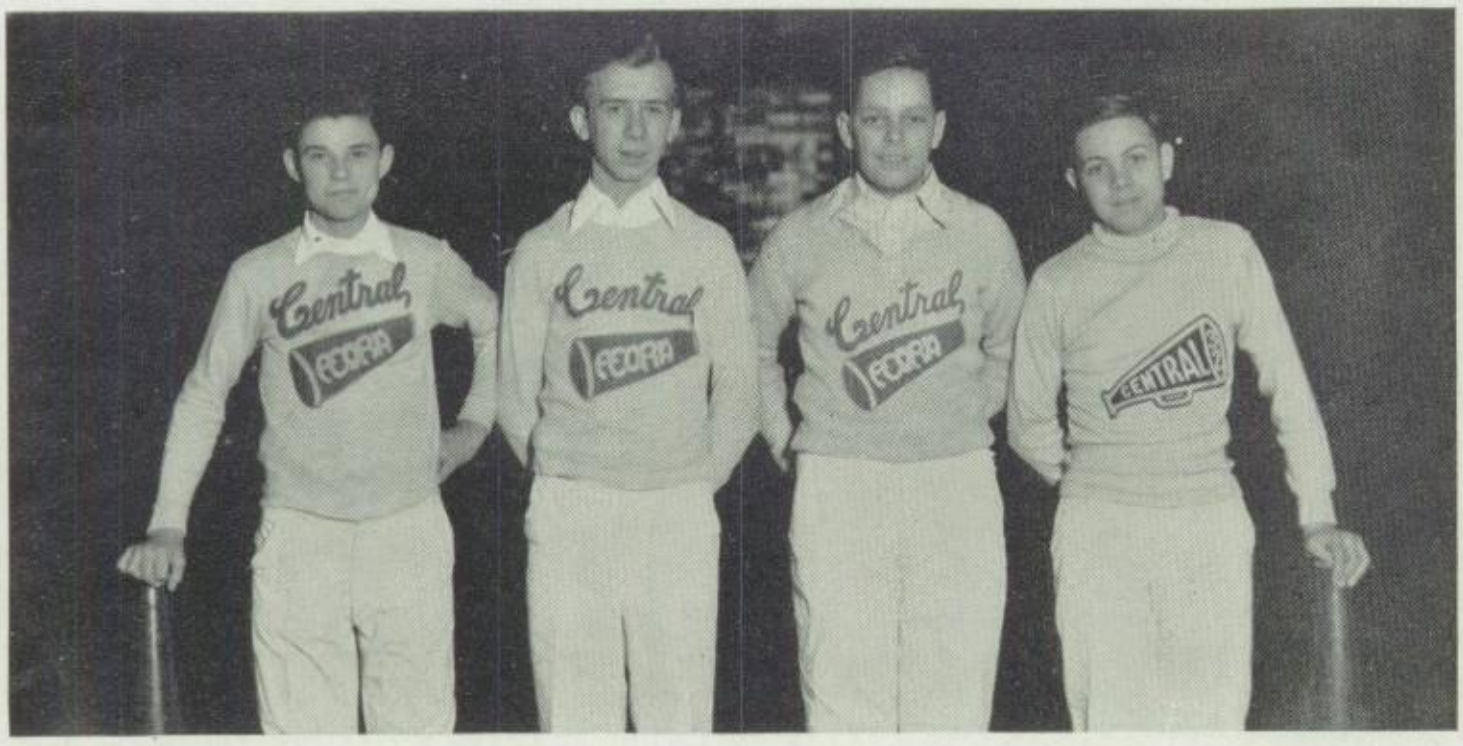
THIS club, as the title implies, is open to anyone who has earned one or more athletic letters at Peoria High. The boys elected Kenneth Bierly as their president, and their purpose is to encourage school spirit by backing all games and activities of the school. The following members are not in the picture: Harper, Gebhardt, H. Ferdinand, A. Ferdinand, Nyberg, Powers, Dixon, Holtzman, Monroe, Mitchell, Dickinson, Young, Boyer, Bowen, Davis, Argo, Wellbrock, R. Cutter, Cole, Fearis, Lewis, Hoggatt, Woods, Davidson, Blust, and Lemm.

Captains

The three teams which concluded their seasons before this edition of the Crest went to press, selected the following as their captains: Johnny Holtzman, football captain, who was one of the best tackles in the Big Twelve; Galvin and Harper, both graduating this year, elected co-captains of the basketball team; and Stan Alcorn, miniature swimming ace, who capably managed the swimming team as well as setting a Big Twelve breast stroke record.



Holtzman Galvin Harper Alcorn



Swisher Dempsey Vance Hart
Not in picture—Fraser.

Cheerleaders

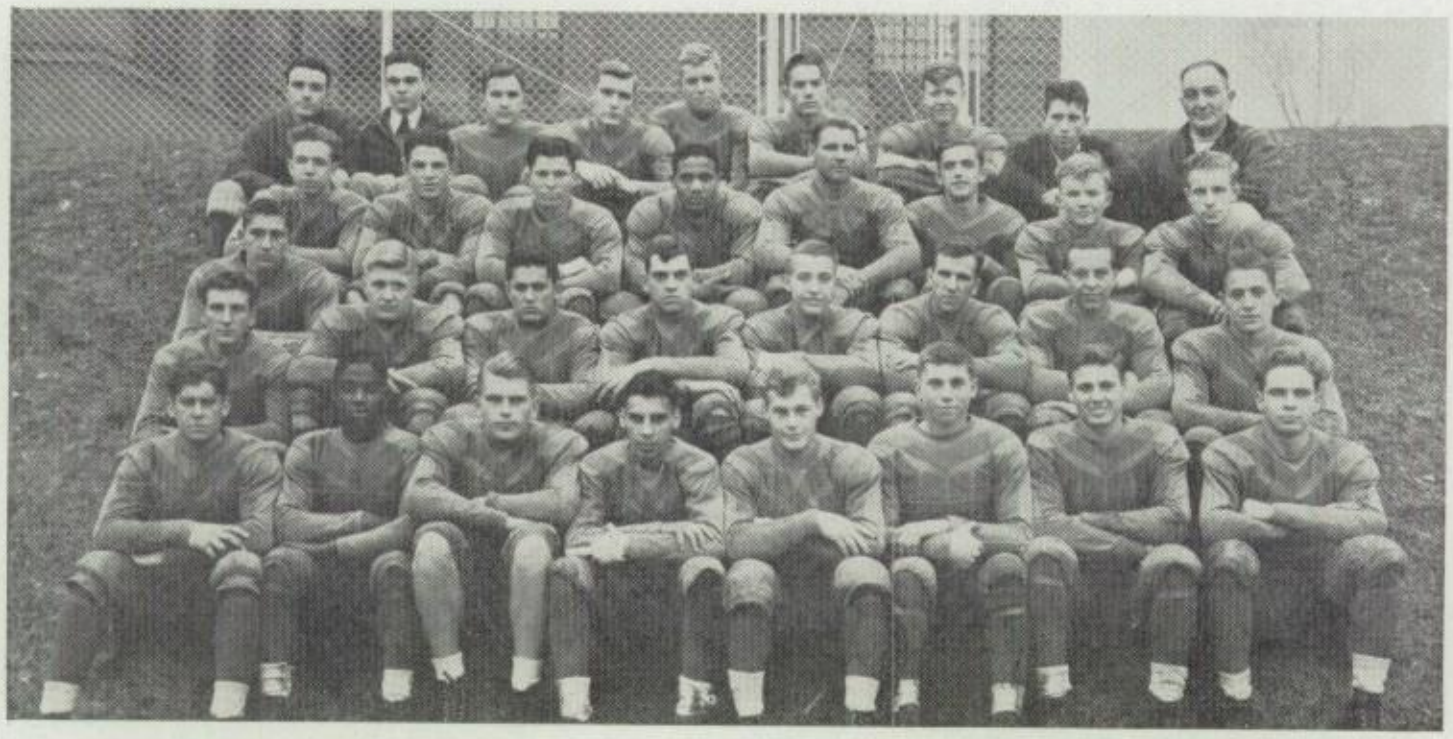
THE cheerleaders and managers constitute a group of students who deserve much credit for their efforts to promote athletics; and must serve four years to earn a letter. Cliff Bourne, only senior cheerleader, received his letter during the first semester; so the job of heading the cheerleaders next year belongs to Harvey Swisher and Jack Dempsey. Fraser and Vance, sophomores, and Bill Hart, freshman, complete the team.

Managers and Trainer Conway

Two senior managers, Bob Strubhar and Norman Deobler, received letters upon completing four years as able assistants to Herke and Conway. Other managers are Young, Freeburg, Melody, Huey, and Stephen.

Bill Conway has been trainer, healer of wounds, and care-taker of athletic grounds and equipment since 1916. Bill is famous for his "soap-box" orations, his ability as a ticket seller, and for his popular column in the Opinion entitled "Soap Suds".

Second Row—Stephen, Strubhar, Trainer Conway, Deobler, Melody.
First Row—Huey, Young, Freeburg.



Fourth Row—Mr. Trimble, Strubhar, Green, Baker, Starrett, Gamble, Chamberlain, Deobler, Mr. Herke.
Third Row—Boyer, Dixon, Mitchell, Livengood, Pinson, Bessler, Serkowich, Bangston, Bouton.
Second Row—Wallace, Kornhaus, Swords, Nichols, Howeler, Van Sant, Young, Dickinson.
First Row—Neptune, Hinton, Holtzman, Galvin, Peters, Monroe, Bierly, Powers.

1932 Football Team

Season's Record: Won 5, Lost 3, Tied 2

PEORIA HIGH'S maroon-jerseyed eleven fought its way through the first seven games of the 1932 campaign without a defeat, although tied twice. A 20-0 victory over Kingman opened the season, and a scoreless tie with Streator was the result of the next encounter. Then followed four consecutive triumphs for the Central team in pushing aside Kewanee 25-0, Lincoln 12-6, Champaign 12-0, and Spalding 20-0. The Maroon machine reached the peak of its power as it battled to a scoreless tie with the widely heralded Springfield eleven, which had won 22 games in a row.

Tommy Galvin, Central's dynamic little quarterback, is here shown reeling off a big gain in the Champaign game. The two Central players in the background are Peters and Swords.

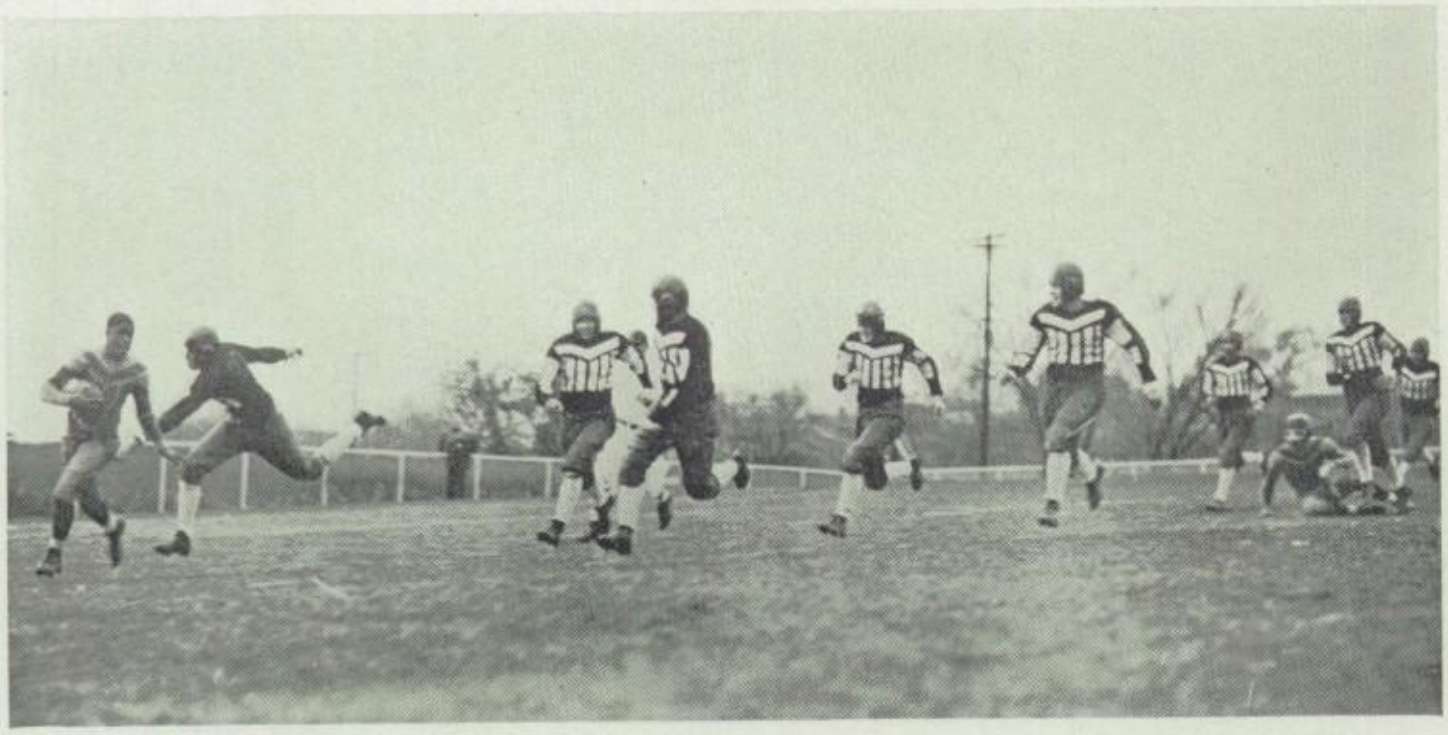
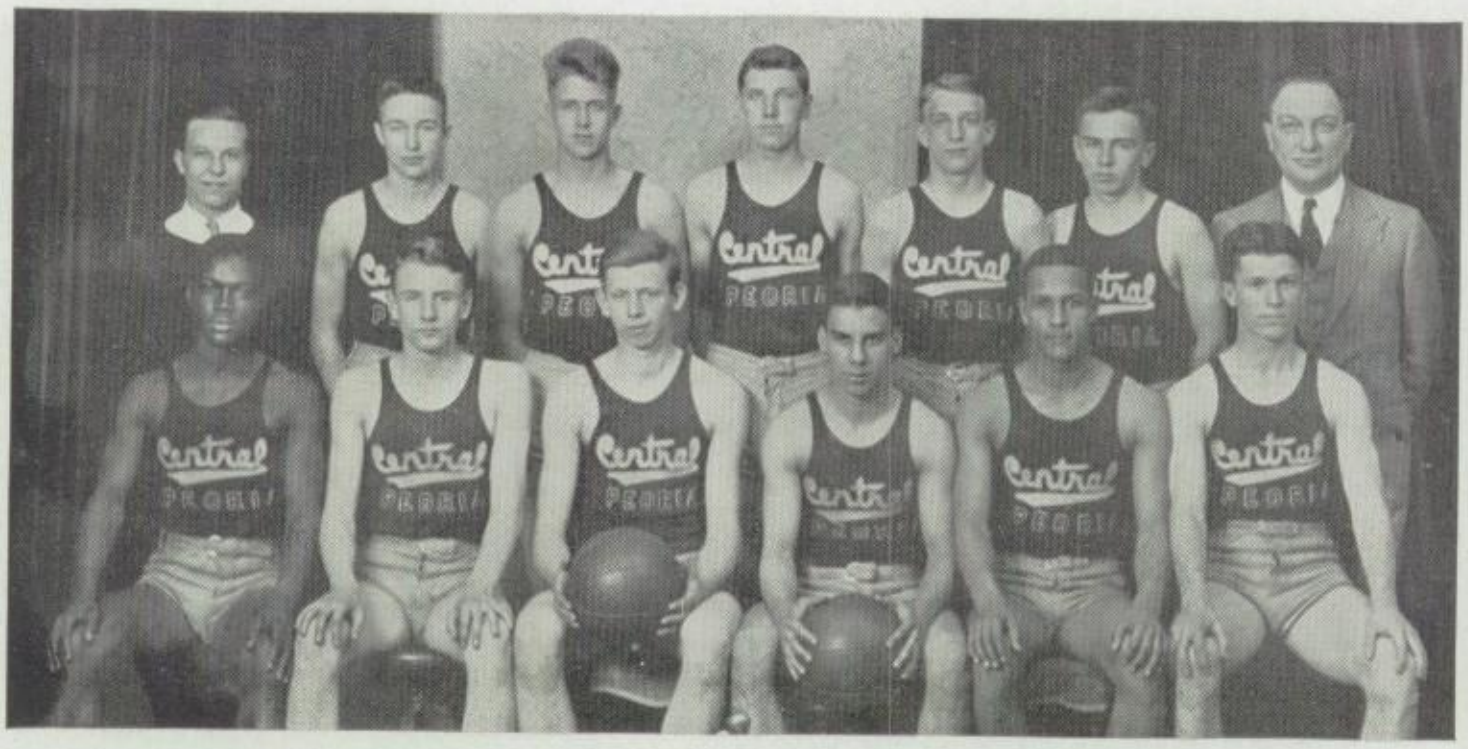
Up to this time only one touchdown had been scored against the Maroons, but the strain of the seven hard-fought battles, all against powerful opponents, was beginning to tell. After the deadlock with Springfield, who won the Big Twelve championship, the Central machine gradually lost power, and suffered three setbacks in a row, being defeated by Moline 14-0, Pekin 7-0, and in the annual Thanksgiving Day game, by Manual, 18-0.

The following lettermen were outstanding in the backfield: Peters, Galvin, Hinton, Powers, Bessler, Dixon, Mitchell, and Young. Lettermen who performed creditably in the line are Captain Holtzman, Bierly, Baker, Bouton, Livengood, Swords, Nichols, Kornhaus, Van Sant, Howeler, Neptune, Wallace, Monroe, Dickinson, and Boyer.



In this picture, Clancy Hinton, flashy Maroon speed merchant, is seen sweeping around right end on a long jaunt up the side line with most of the Springfield team in pursuit. Powers is the only other Centralite in the picture.



Standing—Young, Barker, Appell, Gebhardt, Schunk, Nyberg, Mr. Herke.
Seated—Hinton, Cole, Harper, Galvin, Dent, Livengood.

1932-33 Basketball Team

Season's record: Played 24, Won 9, Lost 15.

OFF to rather a slow start, Central's squad of basket shooters experienced noticeable improvement as the season progressed, and as a climax to their efforts, annexed the district championship. Central played a good brand of basketball at all times, and many of the defeats were just by the narrowest of margins. Central was handicapped due to the fact that Wallace, a veteran guard, moved to California in mid-season; and Dent, another seasoned guard, was not eligible until the second semester. Lettermen are Harper and Galvin, co-captains; Dent, Cole, Hinton, and Wallace. Three of these—Dent, Cole, and Hinton—return next year; and they, with the promising batch of youngsters coming up from the reserves make the prospects for the 1933-34 season seem bright.

1932-33 Reserve Basketball Team

Season's record: Played 16, Won 13, Lost 2, Tied 1.

THE record turned in this season by the reserve basketball team, coached by Claude Trimble, was nothing short of sensational. The reserve team is composed of freshmen and a few sophomores who need only a little developing and a little more experience to prepare them for the varsity. This year's squad proved to be all that could be desired, and among its string of thirteen triumphs, it boasts one or more victories over the reserves of Canton, Pekin, Spalding, Manual, and East Peoria. With such indications as these, Central followers are looking forward eagerly to the time when these boys will be regulars. Schunk, a reserve star, graduated to the regulars about mid-season, and Bouton, Foster, Shelton, Spears, Curtis, Huber, Gratton, Elkins, and the Banks brothers will all make strong bids for a varsity berth next year.

Second Row—Lemm, Mr. English, Jordan, Hoggatt, Swallow, Carver, Taylor, Mr. Herke, Alcorn.
First Row—Barnes, Martin, Swisher, Spurlock (Capt.), Tannhauser, (Capt.), Hinton, Nordman, Luthy.

1932 Track Team

THE track team turned out by Coaches Herke and English in 1932 is one of which we may be justly proud. Not only did the Central track and field boys show up well in competition, but several of them are holders of all-time records.

Central won the following six meets:

1st Annual P.H.S. invitational indoor meet.
1st Annual Pekin invitational track and field meet.
6th Annual Pekin dual meet.
1st Annual Urbana relays.
22nd Annual Greater Peoria track and field meet.
8th Annual Big Twelve Conference track and field meet.

The Central boys also placed second at the 7th Annual district meet, third at the 3rd Annual Fort Madison, Iowa, relays, and fifth at the 2nd Annual Oak Park relays. At the 38th annual state meet, Central placed in the relays, and at the 28th annual National Interscholastic track and field meet at Stagg Field, University of Chicago, Spurlock placed in the high jump.

Barnes, Hinton, Spurlock, and Tannhauser composed Central's flashy relay team. These boys tied the all-time Central record for the 880 yard relay at 1:33.4. Roger Tannhauser tied the 220 yard low hurdle record of the Big Twelve at 26.2. Al Spurlock added two inches to his high jump record of the year before, and now holds the all-time record for the school at six feet even . Bob Swisher holds the all-time Central pole vault record at 11 feet 9½ inches.

The following are lettermen, all of whom can be complimented for their ability: Spurlock, Tannhauser, Barnes, Hinton, Swisher, Martin, Carver, Hoggatt, Harris, Nordman, and Luthy. Spurlock and Tannhauser were elected co-captains.

Second Row—Mr. Trimble, Wiemer, Eilers, Lyons, Harper, Meisinger, Gebhardt, Roderick, Mr. Herke.
First Row—Remington, Stonebock, Galvin, Doubet, Ferdinand, Nyberg, Tincher.

1932 Baseball Team

Season's Record: Won 8, Lost 5.

COACHED by Claude Trimble, Peoria High's 1932 baseball nine rounded out a successful season on the diamond, and copped the city title. They boast two victories over both East Peoria and Kingman, and in a two-game series with Bloomington, Canton, Manual, and Streator, Central won one of the games and lost the other. In the only single encounter of the year, Central lost to Pekin.

Scores for the season were as follows:

Central	18	East Peoria	3	Central	15	East Peoria	5
Central	9	Kingman	8	Central	5	Manual	3
Central	6	Bloomington	1	Central	10	Streator	5
Central	7	Canton	2	Central	3	Kingman	6
Central	4	Bloomington	6	Central	0	Streator	5
Central	5	Manual	6	Central	8	Pekin	10
Central	3	Canton	5

Of the lettermen, Harper and Lyons assumed command of the pitching duties, with Gebhardt doing the backstopping. The infield was composed of Baker, Ferdinand, Stonebock, Galvin, and Remington, while the flychasers who received letters were Lloyd Doubet, who was elected captain, Meisinger, Nyberg, and Wallace.

Captain Doubet received his fourth letter this year, having earned one for baseball each year since he was a freshman.

Charlie Harper led the hitters with a batting average of .429. Wallace was in second place with .404, and Galvin's .344 won him third place. Harper has now been the leading hitter for three years in a row, and if he should set the pace again in his senior year, he would establish quite a record.

Second Row—Modjeska, Hill, Mr. Herke, Oakley.
First Row—Triebel, Slane, Kellogg.

Second Row—Mr. Myers, Taylor, Finney, Huisman, Mr. Herke.
First Row—Sivley, Siepert, May, Cutter.

1932 Golf Team

Season's record: Played 16, Won 13, Tied 1, Lost 2.

CENTRAL'S 1932 golf team, captained by Bob Slane, concluded a very successful season in losing but two matches of sixteen played, both of those to Manual. The only match resulting in a tie was also with Central's ancient foe. Of the remaining thirteen contests, the Central club-swingers were victorious over Pekin and Spalding five times each, and once over Kingman, Bloomington, and Manual.

Triebel finished second at the Eureka district tournament to qualify for the State tournament, where he failed to place. Slane grabbed fifth place in the Big Twelve, and the team finished sixth.

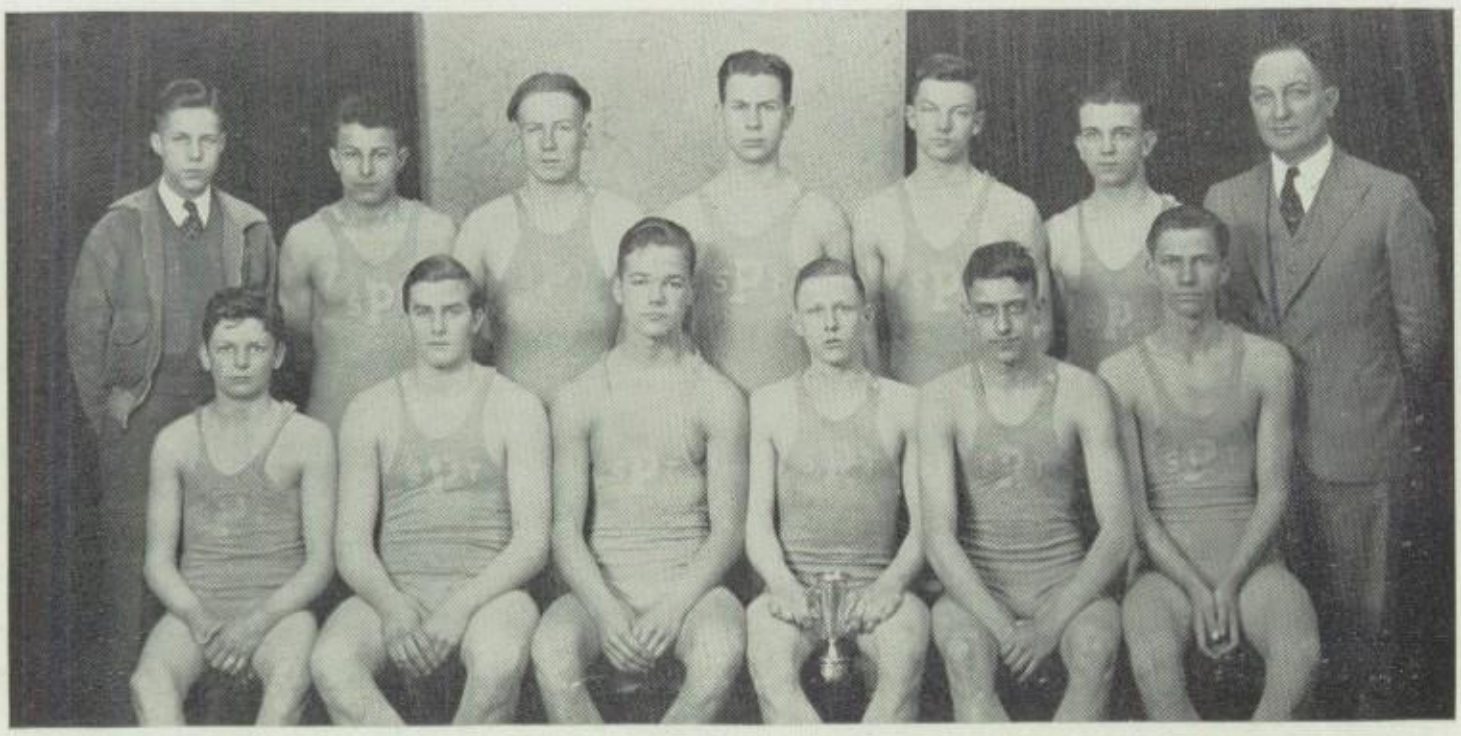
Rating: Slane, '32 (Pxx); Hill, '34 (P); Kellogg, '34 (P); Modjeska, '32 (P); Oakley, '32 (P); Triebel, '32 (P); Cole, '34 (P); Jamison, '32; Anderson, '32; Kramm, '33.

1932 Tennis Team

Season's record: Played 12, Won 4, Tied 3, Lost 5.

AL SIEPERT and Walt May, both seniors, were elected co-captains of Central's 1932 tennis team. Coached by J. C. Myers, the Central racqueteers captured the inter-city championship by winning two victories from Manual and one from Spalding, a previous match with the latter having resulted in a tie. The team lost twice to Canton and three times to Pekin, but held the latter to a tie in their final meeting, while they walloped Bloomington on one occasion, and tied with them on another.

Rating: Siepert '32 (P); W. Cutter '33 (P); May '32 (P); Sively '34; Pinkney '35; Finney '32; Hunter '35; Taylor '33; Huisman '35; Mason '32.



Standing—Melody (Manager), Parker, Wellbrock, Hackett, Hatch, Mr. Herke.
Seated—Cutter, Hill, Anderson, Alcorn, Argo, Bowen.

1933 Swimming Team

Led by Captain Stanley Alcorn who holds the all-time Central record for the breast stroke, and who this year established a new Big Twelve record for the 100 yard breast stroke, Peoria High's 1932-33 swimming team turned in an excellent season climaxed by their taking second place in the Big Twelve conference meet.

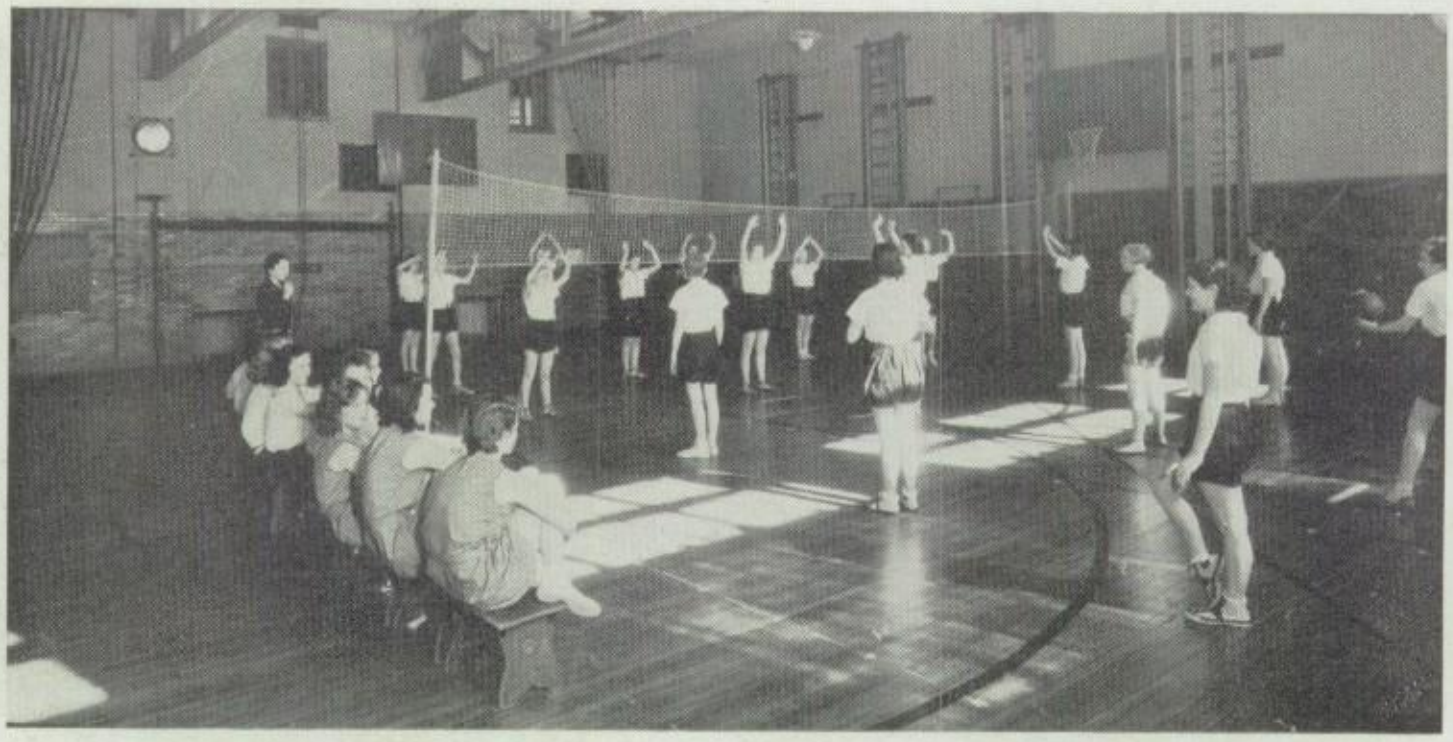
Previously, Central had taken part in five meets, and succeeded in splashing its way to four victories. The only defeat was at the hands of Champaign, 36-24, although Central's tank team had defeated Champaign 41-19, in a previous encounter. In the other three contests, Central sank LaSalle-Peru twice, 57-15 and 35-31, and totally submerged Manual, 52-8.

After finishing second in the Big Twelve, the team went to the State meet where they scored two points.

Besides Alcorn, the breast stroke artist, the following are the lettermen and their specialties:

Grant Anderson, '35	Free Style
George Argo, '33	Free Style
Richard Wellbrock, '33	Free Style
Gerald Bowen, '35	Free Style
Robert Hill, '34	Fancy Diving
Robert Cutter, '34	Diving and Back Stroke

Hill won first place in the Big Twelve as fancy diver in the 1931-32 season, and finished 3rd in the same event this season.



G.A.A.

THE officers of G.A.A., the girls' athletic association of our school, have been Evelyn Riegel, president; Eleanor Farley, vice-president; Dorothy Felsman, secretary; and Shirley Coleman, treasurer.

Many have been the athletic activities of our organization. Throughout the year, tournaments were held in volleyball, basketball, baseball, track, and tennis. The winning volleyball team of the morning group consisted of Hannah Peterson, Billie Thawley, Virginia Thulin, Jessie Kramer, Frances Burgard, Betty Huff, Evelyn Riegel, and Betty Terrell. Those on the winning team of the afternoon group were: Anna Meyers, Clarice Younglove, Lucille DeMent, June Freeman, Eleanor Farley, and Olive Hutchison.

A volleyball league consisting of teams from Kingman, Theodore Roosevelt, Columbia Junior High, and Peoria High, was organized this year by Mr. Graner. Freshman girls on the P.H.S. team were: Lois Miller, captain, Joan Day, Ada May Ausbury, Lorraine Bedell, Esther Bidner, Helen Murray, Shirley Heller, Louella Pinson, and Evelyn Haller.

Special responsibility was placed on several girls appointed by the president as managers of the various sports: Kathryn Elliot, in charge of volleyball; Delores Higgs, manager of basketball; Evelyn Higgs, track; and Evelyn Riegel, captain of the tennis team.

Several members were honored by admission to membership in the Letter Co-ed Club by earning points in athletic activities to merit a letter. The members are: Delores Higgs, Shirley Coleman, Marianna Renwick, Harriet Cook, Jessie Kramer, Kathryn Elliott, Frances Burgard, Frances Crigger, and Evelyn Riegel.

Hallowe'en night a party was held in the gym, and did we have fun! We could be serious at times, too, for everyone entered into the spirit of the formal initiation which was held at the December meeting.

G.A.A. has had a successful year and has fully achieved its aims of providing athletic activities for interested students and promoting a spirit of good fellowship.

Mar. 17—Do, re, mi. Sound your "A". Music contestants began hard practice for the preliminaries, held the last of March before the Big Twelve contest.

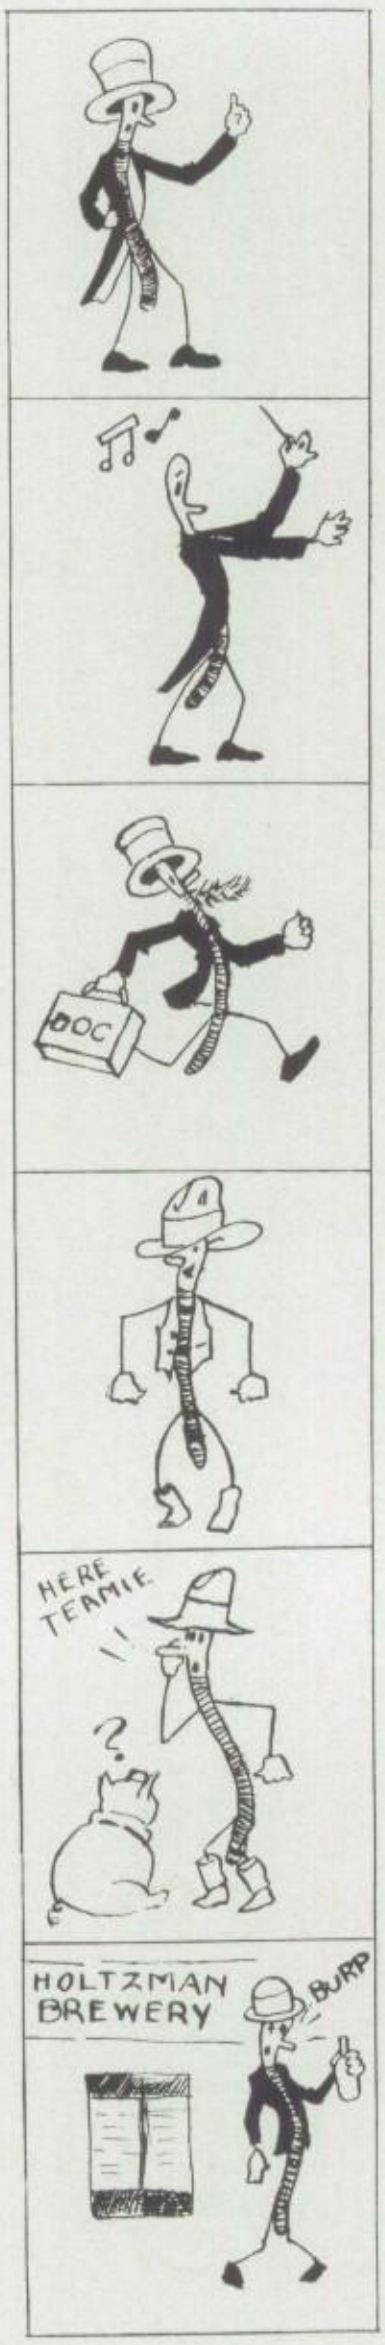
Mar. 24—Speech Club's vaudeville show provided genuine entertainment. Everything from clever dancing to heart-rending "drammers" helped to make this a success.

Apr. 7 — Membership in the Commercial Club is open to anyone taking at least one commercial subject. The officers left the meeting just long enough to have their pictures taken.

Apr. 25—Just coming out of the ether—for a Radio Club meeting! Mr. Shepherd very capably advised the club in their ramblings through the air.

May 3, 4—This triangle, the insignia of Tri-S, typifies the spirit of that organization. The spring play on these dates was an outstanding event of the year.

May 15—Judging from the proximity of the arrows to the bull's-eye, we should say that Archery Club had some very proficient members.



A Worm's-Eye View

WELL, here it is 1943 and the most famous of our '33 class at dear old Central seems to be Willie Worm. He is the Republican candidate for president and, as it is still the custom, he is making a tour of the States for campaign purposes. He hopes to see what has become of some of his old classmates as well as make promises he doesn't expect anybody to believe.

Starting at San Francisco he finds Stanley Alcorn and George Argo, ship captains, bound for the South Sea Islands. Since Willie has never been to Hollywood, he decides to include it in his tour. He visits Cocoanut Grove in the Ambassador Hotel and there is Rod Bush leading an orchestra, and one of the most popular gigolos is Fletcher Barnes. Later, at a studio party, he hears much speculating as to the outcome of the rivalry between Margaret Gill and Gene Reid, actresses. It is compared to the famous Connie Bennett-Gloria Swanson affair. Seymour Adelman is doing well as a director for Paramount and relies a great deal upon Bob Burhans, comedian, who writes his own gags. Flora Mae Kuhn is designing sets for M.G.M., and Mary Jane Johnston is creating styles for Angeline Allen, comedienne with Bob Burhans.

After Hollywood, Willie is ready for quiet; so he goes to a dog and cat hospital. There he finds Jean Forbes as head nurse and Bill Cutter as surgeon.

Continuing eastward through Nevada and stopping at Reno, Willie sees Mr. and Mrs. Jack Driscoll (Henry Wilson and Helen Truesdale) who have come to a parting of the ways after their marriage almost eleven years ago in the "Haunted House". There is an understanding that Mrs. Driscoll is to keep one of the Packards and is to send Henry III to Culver. The judge for their case was another member of the cast, Dave Casey.

Before crossing the northern border into Idaho, Willie stops for lunch at a dude ranch owned by Bob Heiden, millionaire broker from New York. Just before leaving, Willie is approached with promise of a vote by one of the cowpunchers, whom he recognizes as Jack Conway. In Idaho, Willie stops to buy some Idaho potatoes and finds Mary Zollars raising them.

While going through Montana, Willie discovers Bill Mitchell on a sheep ranch. In Iowa, Cliff Bourne is a successful farmer and an excellent hog-caller. (He calls them TEAM!) The favorite milkmaid on his farm is Betty Linton.

At last Willie has reached his old home, Peoria. As he is entering by the Cedar Street Bridge, the John Holtzman Brewery is pointed out to him. At the Peoria River Terminal Willie meets Orville Ebling and his brother, William, who are shipping clerks there.

Willie needs some shoestrings and while buying them from Helen Gorham at Grant's he learns that Ruth Armstrong is buyer for the entire store. Then he gets a ticket and (just as a matter of form, of course, being a politician) he goes to the police station and there finds Betty McCaddon up before the Marshall for parking.

After making one of his campaign speeches, Willie is thirsty and Dace, whom he sees at the ice station, recommends Jack's.

At Pottstown, still a thriving city, the sheriff who preserves perfect peace is Paul Zimmerman. (Shades of the Haunted House!) One of the many telephone operators is Josephine Du Chane, and among the numerous stenographers in the downtown section are: Margaret Dallam, Margaret Dickens, Catherine Dore, Virginia Drake, and Carrie Goodman. The mayor is Bill Inman, and Josephine Meixner, famous for her Melodies, is playing at the beautiful Pottstown Palace.

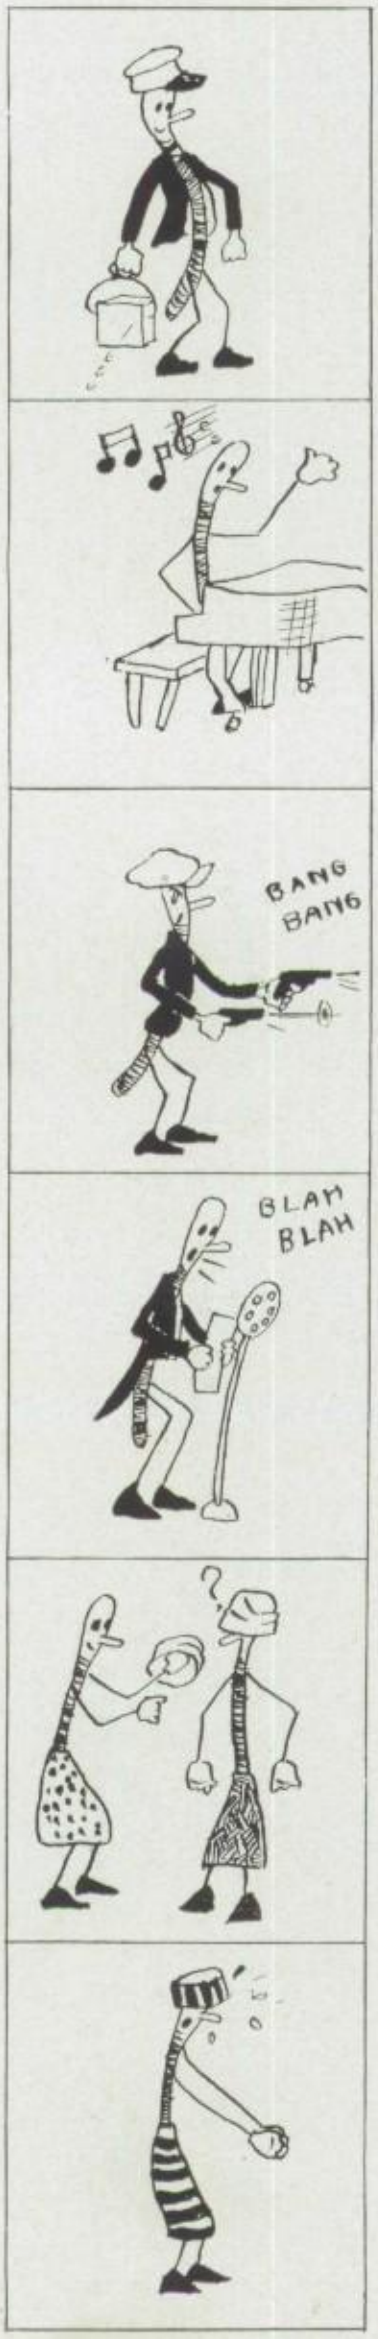
Chicago is Willie's next stop and when he arrives, there is an extra just out about the latest developments in the Bussman-McSkimin feud; they are fighting for the leadership in the underworld. Willie asks about Tom Galvin, expecting to find him still a favorite athlete, but he is instead the favorite salesman for the Eastman Kodak Company. While listening to the radio one night, Willie hears that Bob Dunker is an announcer, always on Kate Smith time.

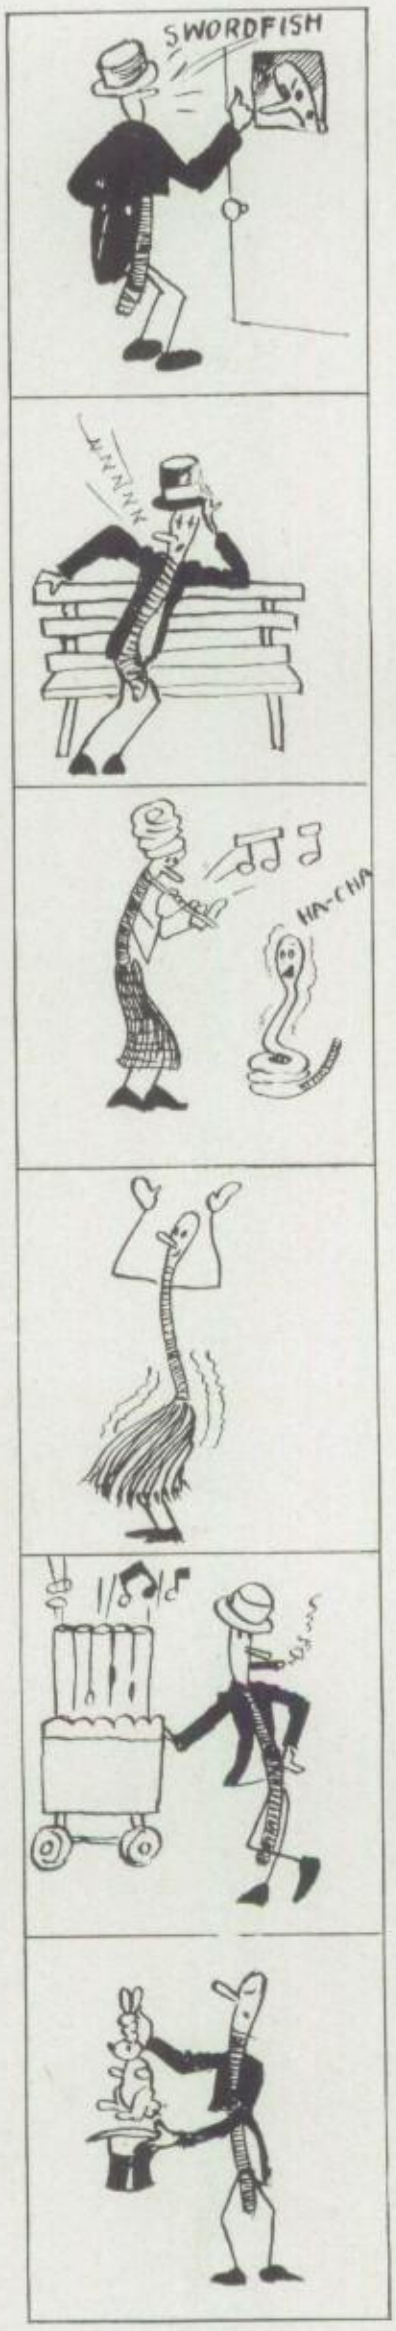
He visits Marshall Field's and sees Betty Bourland selling hats; and who should be buying one but Shirley Potter. She could always wear any color well; I wonder if she still prefers "Red". Speaking of colors, Shirley says that Mary Crawshaw has turned scientist. She seems to be interested in Dye. Willie always reads the advice to the lovelorn in the Tribune. He learns that the column is written by Eleanor Blanchard. Her advice used to be pretty good, even in high school.

Willie visits the Field Museum and is instructed on his tour by Howard Teeter, guide-lecturer. Next on Willie's list is the prison. Here he finds Jean Frye as head guard. She received excellent training in P.H.S. Among the prisoners is Louise Keller, who was elected first woman vice-president but was impeached and convicted before she could take the oath of office. Also among the prisoners is Betty Robinson. She is a chronic disturber of the peace and the authorities are going to take her to Kankakee soon. Her malady has baffled all physicians. She insists on going about organizing year books among the prisoners.

Just outside of Chicago Willie sees a new building being erected. Upon inquiry he learns that it is to be Marian Davidson's home for old maids. Among those invited there to live are: Jane Anderson, Marjorie Carpenter, Billie Christian, Betty Jane Collins, Beverly Cramer, Ruth Dunlap, Elizabeth Egolf, Harriet Folliott, Amorette Graham, Maxine Green, Helene Knickerbocker, Bonnie Schweitzer, and Mary Weber.

Willie's next important stop is Boston. He stays at the Ritz-Carlton (Oh, well, it isn't his money he's spending!) and there he recognizes the highly adorned doorman as Bob Ground. While walking one day, Willie becomes lost in Boston's tangle of little crooked streets. He is rescued by Bob Taylor in his specially jointed street-car, his own invention. On the street-car, Willie sees Alice Dewey, who shyly confesses that she is now a Taylor's wife.





Willie stays in New York several days. The bill at the Palace includes Allegra Jeck, who can still dance. The Metropolitan Opera Company is presenting Dolores Menssen and Jack Stanley in a new opera written by Budd Kramm. Among the names of the Follies Chorus that are familiar are: Lucy Aupperle, Ruth Belsterling, Frances Burgard, Dorothy Connett, Georgia Cooper, Mary Davis, Kathryn Elliott, Vivian Fahrman, Dorothy Flanegin, Louise Flora, Grace Friedman, Mildred Garrison, Frieda Grant, and Virginia Kinsey.

One of Willie's evenings is spent in a night club, the charming hostess of which is Virginia Chance. Later he visits a speakeasy owned by "Jimmy" Milar and "Crit" Newell. The next thing Willie knows he wakes up on a bench in Battery Park; the sun is shining and his head is aching dreadfully. He is leaning against a bum, also asleep, who awakes and introduces himself as Willis Wahlfeld. Returning to his room, where he remains for a few days, Willie, looking over the books there, finds a new dictionary published by Alice Schriver.

A day or so later a taxi Willie is in hits a popcorn wagon on Fifth Avenue. The irate owner is Roland Wiemer. Roland, after being paid for damages, tells Willie that his old pal Dick Pursifull, a newly rich from the real West, is in New York and so far has not bought the Brooklyn Bridge. When asked why not, Dick replies, "It took most all my cash to buy that there Empire State Building".

The Tribune that evening describes the very charming wedding ceremony of Betty Harbers to an Italian Count. They were married in the Little Church Around The Corner.

Before going to Washington Willie visits Coney Island, where he finds a number of his old friends. Bill Griffith has developed a voice that has made him famous as a sideshow barker. Faye Fellows is a fearless snake charmer, and a successful attraction is the Hula Hula dancers whom Willie recognizes as Myrtle Brown and Rhona Frye. Nearby, the crowd is staring awestruck at the tattooed man, who is John Gale. His appearance is made even more striking by the Green Stockings he always wears when he is on exhibition.

Among the bathing beauties on the beach at Coney Island are: Betty Jane Gapen, Goldie Finkelstein, Mandella Heintz, Betty Norris, Carolyn Doyle, Elizabeth Roper, Mary Redfield and Helen Ristic.

Nearby Willie finds a large circus tent where he sees some more of his old friends. The tightrope walkers are Edna Mae Eichenlaub and Ruth Hepburn; the fat lady is Margaret Siegle, and the midget family is made up of Vivian Thalberg, Roberta Tippett, Bill Harrison, Charles Harper, and Leo Nichols. Barbara June Holcombe runs a calliope and Charles Vance is still a magician.

The clowns, among the funniest in the world, are William Shanemeyer, Bill Shepherd, Betty Sorrell, Alliemae Coakley, Lelia Wilson, and Bob Strubhar.

The daring trapeze performers include: Zelda June Evans, Elizabeth Somers, Roland Benz, Edna Mae Buckler, and Floyd Feldman. The juggling is done by Thomas East, Theodore Xanos, Tom Carney, and Edward Claes. The breath-taking knife thrower is Amzi Gossard and his brave target is Ila Waterman. The contortionists are Mary Burns and Phil Kornhaus. Willie can hardly believe his eyes on seeing Phil so active.

Willie likes Ferris Wheels, so gets a free ride from the operator, Gilbert Blake. Buying a ticket for the Merry-Go-Round from the ticket-seller, Isabel Roby, Willie learns that Ted Oakley is stable boy for the Merry-Go-Round horses. The tent show is entertaining with Lucy Killin as a graceful bareback rider. The animal trainers are Dorothy Jones and Elwood Kinsinger. The flea circus is popular and its keepers are Ethel Porter and Warren Thompson.

Willie continues on his way to Philadelphia, where he hears that Bob Luthy is in prison for attempting to ring the Liberty Bell. Bob tells him that Mary Potter's friends think she's a little Off so they are going to Chuck her. Bob also says that Jane Benzies is in New Haven working for the Rogers Silverware Company and, too, that Norman Deobler is manager of the New York Yankees. On the team are: James Coons, Harould Coulson, Jim Davis, Brown Dickison, Elwyn Dobbins, and Leonard Favus.

Bob having plenty of leisure time in prison, and Willie being right at home there, they have a long talk and Bob proves to be a veritable fountain of information. He says that Hugh Bryan is reading recipes over the radio; that Rosamond Clark is teaching English in Paris; that LaVerne DeTrempe is a policeman in New York; that Bill Pinnell trains seals to dance with their noses in the air; that Bud Ellis is a sign painter and George Casey, a newspaper editor; that Verne Dorman is a trusted bus driver and Dick Bachman, a filling station operator; that James Fleisher is a successful dog-catcher and Dick Wellbrock, a truck driver. The marrying parson in Philadelphia is Harry Nott. Willie finds him tying Helen Kirkland and Alfred Rapp.

Stopping at Annapolis, Willie finds Cadets Fred Luenz, Paul Marshall, Cavalier Melvin, Howard Pettett, Jim Rafferty, and David Miller. At Washington, D. C., on his way to the capitol building, Willie's patriotism forces him to stop and ask Dick Canterbury please not to post bills on the Washington Monument. At the capitol building the janitor is Earl Nordman. The President is Andrew Masters and among the Congressmen are James Daugherty, Samuel McClugage, and Howard Neptune.

With the aid of such distinguished personages as he has encountered on his tour, Willie is sure of his victory and retires to the quiet of his Chicago home to await election returns.

LOCKER TRAGEDY

Before each morning shift began
A young man stood, so bland,
Beside the locker of the maid
Who let him hold her hand.

He listened for the bell each hour
And straightened up his tie,
That at her locker he might be Prepared to catch her eye.

The bell rang out its grumbling call
To tell the hour was through,
And all the students grabbed their books
And through the door they flew.

But our young man had beat them all
And down the hall he rushed
To reach the locker of the girl,
O'er thoughts of whom he blushed.

One morning he did wait in vain
Beside the locker door.
He did not realize the fate
That was, for him, in store.

For many mornings he did wait
For her familiar face,
And school, to him, began to seem
A very lonely place.

A very downcast lad was he.
He was no longer swift,
Because he soon found out that she
Was in the second shift.

"What caused that explosion on Warren Frye's farm?"

"He fed a chick some Lay or Bust feed and it turned out to be a rooster."

A divinity student named Tweedle,
Once wouldn't accept his degree,
'Cause it's tough enough being called Tweedle,
Without being called Tweedle, D.D.

Bill Beedle: "Will you give ten cents to help the old ladies' home?"

Robert Burgess: "What, are they out again?"

"Pardon me, but I washed my feet today and I just can't do a thing with them."

Art Meisinger, a cop: "Madam, didn't you see me hold up my hand?"

Dorothy Hoffman, driving: "I did not."

Art: "Didn't you hear me blow my whistle?"

Dorothy: "I didn't."

Art: "Well, I guess I might as well go home. I don't seem to be doing any good around here."

IT'S NO FUN TO BE FOOLED
IN FACT, IT'S COSTLY!

In the matter of buying merchandise, it's a costly thing to be fooled. In a day when price is over-emphasized, it's well to choose a dependable store, headed by an ethical merchant, in which to do your buying.

For almost half a century, the Bergner store has presented only goods which come up to exacting standards of quality and fashion-rightness, at prices that represent merely the fair profit consistent with good store-keeping.

Thousands of good ideas
Hundreds of good copywriters
Dozens of good artists and
Many good engravers

But—

Only one source where the results of the finest efforts of all these can be turned into a printed piece that lives, that commands, that forces your customers to buy your product instead of your competitors.
